The Yellow Jackets are proud to wear products of Russell Athletic, the official uniform of Georgia Tech Athletics, and Mizuno, the official footwear of the Yellow Jacket volleyball program.

JUST SAY "GEORGIA TECH"

Just five institutions that play NCAA Division I-A football do not use the word "University" in their official titles. They are: Air Force, Army, Navy, Boston College and Georgia Tech.

The Georgia Institute of Technology is the official title, but Georgia Tech will work fine, or just Tech. We would appreciate it if you would use our name in those ways. Thanks.

O'KEEFE GYMNASIUM

Home of Yellow Jacket Volleyball

O'Keefe Gymnasium, home of the Yellow Jacket volleyball team since 1995, is one of the premier volleyball facilities in the Southeast. The site of 16 Georgia Tech matches in 2008, including the Regency Suites Invitational and the Courtyard Classic, O'Keefe Gym is known for its rowdy atmosphere, excellent sight lines and loud acoustics.

Over the years, O'Keefe Gym has served multiple purposes. Originally utilized as the gymnasium for O'Keefe High School in the 1950's, the gym was given to Georgia Tech in the 1960's and served as the location for many club sports for the Institute.

Since 1995, the gym has undergone various renovation projects, including the addition of a new floor, which was installed following the 2003 season, and a new locker room, which was added prior to the 2006 season.

O'Keefe Gymnasium underwent a nearly $1 million dollar renovation in 2006, which included adding new home and visitors locker rooms, a coaches' lounge, training room, players' lounge and student-athlete study area to the facility. The Yellow Jackets' new lounge and locker room area is complete with leather couches, big-screen televisions, work stations and a pool table and serves as a location for team meetings before and after matches and practices.

Home, Sweet Home

MATCH DAY AT O'KEEFE

An electric atmosphere unlike anywhere else

POINT TECH!

It symbolizes the unmatched atmosphere and unparalleled excitement that engulfs O'Keefe Gymnasium during Georgia Tech volleyball matches.

The rowdy crowds, which ranked 18th in the nation and No. 2 in the Atlantic Coast Conference in attendance in 2008, follow each volley intently, rise to their feet and yell "POINT TECH" each time the Yellow Jackets score.

From the introductions to the pep band to post-match autographs, Georgia Tech is known for having the most loyal volleyball fans throughout the South.

ALL-AROUND SUPPORT

A new strength center, modern athletic training facilities and a state-of-the-art sports complex is available to all Tech student-athletes

J.C. "BUD" SHAW SPORTS COMPLEX

HOMER RICE CENTER for SPORTS PERFORMANCE

Georgia Tech's Home Rice Center for Sports Performance is a unique facility for testing and improving performance of Georgia Tech's student-athletes. The Homer Rice Center focuses on five components: sports physiology, nutrition, sports medicine, psychology and vision. Opened in 1996, the $8 million facility also includes the Howard Candler, Jr., Football Conference Center and the George W. Mathews, Jr., Athletic Heritage Center.

Carla Gilson has spent more than 10 years as a member of the sports medicine staff at Georgia Tech and serves as the Yellow Jacket volleyball team's athletic trainer.

HUGH SPRUILL STRENGTH CENTER

Georgia Tech's Hugh Spruill Strength Center is one of the nation's top strength and conditioning facilities. Housed on the ground floor of the Wardlaw Building, which is located in the South endzone at Bobby Dodd Stadium, the Hugh Spruill Strength Center underwent a major renovation last summer and comes complete with new flooring and all new weights and machines. The facility is used by all 17 athletic teams at Georgia Tech.

Scott McDonald has spent more than 10 years as an assistant director of player development at Georgia Tech and serves as the Yellow Jacket volleyball team's strength and conditioning coach.

THIS IS GEORGIA TECH

Nestled in the heart of Midtown Atlanta

The Georgia Institute of Technology is one of the world's top research universities, distinguished by its commitment to improving the human condition through advanced science and technology.

Georgia Tech's campus occupies 400 acres in the heart of the city of Atlanta, where more than 19,000 undergraduate and graduate students receive a focused, technologically based education.

Accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS), the Institute offers many nationally recognized, top-ranked programs. Undergraduate and graduate degrees are offered in the Colleges of Architecture, Engineering, Sciences, Computing, Management, and the Ivan Allen College of Liberal Arts. Georgia Tech is consistently ranked in the U.S. News & World Report's top ten public universities in the United States and most recently was rated one of the top-10 schools in the world for engineering and I.T.

Georgia Tech, the home of the Yellow Jackets, is the No. 7 public university in the nation, according to the 2009 rankings by U.S. News & World Report. Georgia Tech is an innovative, intellectual environment with more than 900 full-time instructional faculty and more than 19,000 undergraduate and graduate students.

The university is a national and international leader in scientific and technological research and education. Over the past decade, overall research expenditures increased by 84 percent to $355.3 million in 2006, while federal research expenditures increased 129 percent. Georgia Tech now ranks among the top 10 in research expenditures among universities without a medical school. In addition, Georgia Tech has an estimated $3.9 billion impact within the state of Georgia, according to a 2006 Strategic Economic Development report.

Rankings

Year after year, Georgia Tech is consistently the only technological university ranked in U.S. News & World Report's listing of America's top ten public universities. In addition, Georgia Tech's College of Engineering is consistently ranked in the nation's top five by U.S. News. In terms of producing African American engineering graduates, Diverse: Issues in Higher Education ranks Tech No. 1 at the bachelor's level, No. 2 at the master's level and No. 1 at the doctorate level. These impressive national rankings reflect the academic prestige long associated with Georgia Tech curriculum.

Amanda McDowell captured the NCAA Singles title in 2008, one year after helping the women's tennis team win the NCAA Championship, the first in Georgia Tech history.

WORLD CLASS ATHLETES

Student-athletes are surrounded by world-class talent while training at Georgia Tech

Three-time All-American Stewart Cink, the National Player of the Year in 1995, captured the coveted Claret Jug by winning the 2009 Open Championship (British Open).

Chris Bosh, a Freshman All-America at Georgia Tech in 2003, helped the United States capture gold at the 2008 Beijing Olympics.

Angelo Taylor, a two-time national champion and four-time All-America sprinter at Georgia Tech from 1997-98, won two gold medals at the 2008 Beijing Olympics, eight years after he captured his first Olympic gold medal in Sydney.

Derek Dietrich helped guide the 2008 USA Baseball National Team to gold at the FISU World Championship Tournament in the Czech Republic.

RETIRED JERSEY

#16 Kele Eveland

On September 9, 2005, former All-American Kele Eveland became the first female in Georgia Tech history to have her jersey retired.

A setter for the Yellow Jackets from 2000-03, Eveland concluded her stellar career as the Atlantic Coast Conference's career assists leader. Her total of 6,464 career assists was also the fourth-best mark in NCAA history.

Eveland spent the 2008 campaign as a volunteer assistant coach at Georgia Tech and is in her first season as a full-time assistant coach at San Diego State.

A WINNING TRADITION

The Yellow Jackets look to return to the NCAA Tournament in 2009

1 The number of times an ACC school has advanced to an NCAA Regional Final - accomplished by Tech in 2003

2 Number of trips the Yellow Jackets have made to the NCAA Regional Semifinal, and the only ACC school to do so

8 NCAA Tournament appearances over the last 15 years, tied for the most by an ACC school during the time period (94-95-96-00-01-02-03-04)

9 Matches the Yellow Jackets have won in the ACC Tournament, which ties for the most by any ACC school

TECH TRADITION

From the Rambling Wreck to the Yellow Jacket mascot and the Rambling Wreck Fight Song to White and Gold, the Yellow Jackets are rich in tradition.

The Yellow Jacket

Conflicting accounts exist as to the origins and beginnings of the Yellow Jacket, but the nickname did not grow out of the familiar six-legged insect; rather, the insect mascot, known as "Buzz," grew out of the nickname. The first known reference to Tech students as "Yellowjackets" appeared in the Atlanta Constitution in 1905 and came into common usage at that time. The name, spelled as one word, was first used to describe supporters who attended Tech athletic events, dressed in yellow coats and jackets. The actual mascot was conceived at a later, undetermined date.

The Ramblin Wreck

On September 30, 1961, in the football home opener against Rice University, the official Rambling Wreck car was unveiled to 43,501 fans at Grant Field, leading Georgia Tech onto the field. The event did not establish a new tradition, but cemented one, as it has led the team onto the field in every home game since.

The Ramblin' Wreck Fight Song

I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech and a hell of an engineer,
A helluva, helluva, helluva, helluva, hell of an engineer,
Like all the jolly good fellows, I drink my whiskey clear,
I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech and a hell of an engineer.

Oh, if I had a daughter sir, I'd dress her in White and Gold,
And put her on the campus, to cheer the brave and bold.
But if I had a son, sir, I'll tell you what he'd do.
He would yell, "To Hell with Georgia," like his daddy used to do.

Oh, I wish I had a barrel of rum and sugar three thousand pounds,
A college bell to put it in and a clapper to stir it around.
I'd drink to all good fellows who come from far and near.
I'm a ramblin', gamblin', hell of an engineer.

White and Gold

Oh well its up with the White and Gold
Down with the Red and Black
Georgia Tech is out for the victory
We'll drop the battle axe on Georgia's head
When we meet her, our team is sure to beat her
Down on the old farm there will be no sound
Till our bow-wows rip through the air
When the battle is over, Georgia's team will be found
With the Yellow Jackets swarming around.

The Swarm

Made up entirely of Georgia Tech students, The Swarm can be found in their bright yellow t-shirts in prime seating locations at every home game for the Georgia Tech football, volleyball and men's basketball teams.

THE DAUGHTER OF A FAMOUS COLLEGE FOOTBALL COACH, Nicki Meyer

FORGOT HER OWN IDENTITY

in an ornate house, but at 17, it's the reality she's faced in Georgia.

"I stopped growing up full the night I moved to a good school to be a student," Meyer said.

In 11th grade, Meyer was a star. Her father, who was a coach at Georgia Tech, said Meyer was a "really good player."

But Meyer's life was not all that simple. She was a star, but she was also a daughter of a famous coach.

Did Meyer's life change when she moved to Georgia? "I was a star, but I was also a daughter of a famous coach," Meyer said.

"I was a star, but I was also a daughter of a famous coach," Meyer said.

Yellow Jackets on WREK Radio

The radio home of the Georgia Tech volleyball team is WREK (91.1 FM in Atlanta/www.wrek.org), which has carried Yellow Jacket matches for nearly 10 years. Kurt Hoyt enters his eighth season calling the play-by-play for the Yellow Jackets' matches. Tune in to WREK Radio to hear the exciting action coming out of O'Keefe Gym during the fall.

Tech Returns to the Tube

Georgia Tech will have select matches broadcast on a tape-delay basis again in 2009. The dates of the matches were unknown at press time, but tune in to Ramblinwreck.com during the season to find out when the Yellow Jackets can be seen on TV this season. Over the last 10 years, Tech volleyball has had matches aired on FS South, SportSouth and CSS.

GT Volleyball on Twitter, Other Social Networking Sites

There are now a variety of ways to get information on Tech athletics, but beginning in 2009 the Georgia Tech volleyball team can be followed on Twitter. Go to www.twitter.com/gtvolleyball to follow the Yellow Jackets this season. In addition, Georgia Tech Athletics has its own Twitter and Facebook pages, where all Yellow Jacket sports fans can find the most up-to-date information on all of the teams.

GEORGIA TECH

How do you think the team is coming together in preparation for the 2009 season and what are you working on the most?

"They did a pretty good job of coming back in shape. The key for us is going to be ball control. We're spending a lot of time passing and playing defense so that's going to be really key for us throughout the season."

What are some of the biggest improvements that you've made from spring workouts until now?

"Across the board, I think they've improved the most on ball control. Our outsides are doing a much better job of handling the ball and they're really starting to develop a secondary game. They're not just thinking about 'all power, all the time,' and that's going to be important. In the middle, Rick [Brittany Roderick] is pretty consistent with what she does and how she plays. Asia [Stawicka] is getting better and Annie Czarnecki has come in and been a nice surprise as well."

Can you walk us through each position and how you are looking depth-wise?

"We have some pretty athletic outsides. At some point, they're all going to have to contribute throughout the season, but I know they're all ready to step up to the plate. We are thin in the middle, which is always a concern. We only have three middles in our program, so we're trying really hard not to overwork them in the preseason so that they have their legs and are ready to go throughout the season. We have some depth in our defensive specialist and libero positions. All of those guys have done a nice job and they're competing. The competition is intense and pretty good for those spots."

What are some advantages to having such a young team with nine underclassmen, including six freshmen?

"For the freshmen, we are going to need them all at some point throughout the course of the season. Trying to get some experience under their belts is going to be key. The game's a lot faster at this level, and we're trying to get them to adjust to the speed as quickly as possible. That will be a big plus for them."

"When you look at our two seniors, Brittany [Roderick] and Chrissy [DeMichelis], you would think it would have been the hardest for them to adapt to a coaching change after three years, but they have handled it quite well."

The majority of the schedule was set when you arrived on campus, but what is your scheduling philosophy?

"When I got here, we needed just one more tournament on the fourth weekend of the season so fortunately we were able to get into Denver. I wanted to play a team in the top-10 before we started conference play, and that will be a good measuring stick for us. Playing top-25 teams are important, not only to see where you stand, but also to get ready for what lies ahead. We want to get back to the NCAA Tournament and that's the type of competition you will encounter."

What do you think about Atlantic Coast Conference Volleyball?

I love the fact that we don't have a conference tournament. All of the big conferences across the country have gone away from the conference tournament in hopes of getting more teams into the NCAA Tournament. The ACC is an up-and-coming conference and in the years to come, I think you're going to see a lot of great volleyball. It's a conference that is getting more and more competitive every year."

You were once here as an assistant, but what have you heard about the home court advantage at O'Keefe?

"I've heard that its extremely loud and the fans really get into it. I've heard great things about the student section and how alive it is. That's what I want. I want O'Keefe to be a rowdy place and people to say that its one of the hardest places to play in the country."

If you had to describe to someone who has never seen your team play why they should come out and watch, what would you say?

"If you look across the board at our team, we have some pretty talented athletes. In a sport like volleyball, the kids really get to display their athleticism with their jumping and attacking and speed. I think people are in awe when they see it for the first time."

When your season is over and you look back, what would you like to say that you accomplished?

"Winning the ACC would be huge. That is always a goal and will continue to be one every year. I want the seniors to go out on a high note and not only to have a winning record but to get to the Big Dance. That's important to both Brittany [Roderick] and Chrissy [DeMichelis], and I'd like to see them end their careers here at Georgia Tech on a high note."

Head Coach

First Season at Georgia Tech

Education: LSU, 1993

Coaching Experience: Georgia Tech (Head coach, 1st Season)
Texas (Associate head coach, 2008)
(Assistant coach, 2003-07)
LSU (Assistant coach, 1998-2002)

Playing Experience: LSU (1987-90)

Tonya Johnson, a six-year assistant and associate head coach at Texas, was named the seventh head volleyball coach in Georgia Tech history on January 9, 2009.

Johnson was an assistant coach under Jerritt Elliott at Texas for five years before being promoted to associate head coach in 2008. She helped guide the Longhorns to the 2008 NCAA Final Four following back-to-back Regional Final appearances in 2006 and 2007. The Longhorns concluded last season with a 31-3 record after recording more than 20 victories in each of the four seasons prior.

An excellent recruiter on the national level, Johnson helped Elliott land the nation's second-ranked recruiting classes in each of the last three seasons (2006-08). Texas' 2009 recruiting class is also expected to be among the country's best, with the signing of the nation's top- and fifth-ranked prep players. A Longhorn has earned the Big 12's Conference Freshman of the Year honor each of the last three seasons, one of whom has also been named the National Freshman of the Year.

In addition to serving as the recruiting coordinator, Johnson worked with the Longhorns' outside hitters, three of whom received All-America accolades over her last three seasons at Texas. Juliann Faucette, the National Freshman of the Year in 2007, was tabbed a first-team AVCA All-American in 2007 after receiving first team Big 12 honors as a freshman. Ashley Engle, a right-side hitter that earned Big 12 Freshman of the Year honors in 2006, was named a first-team AVCA All-American in 2008 after being tabbed to the AVCA All-America second team in 2006, and Destinee Hooker received first-team AVCA All-America honors in 2008 after earning second-team accolades in 2007 and honorable mention recognition in 2006.

Prior to her arrival at Texas in 2003, Johnson served as the top volleyball assistant at LSU from 1998-2003 under Fran Flory, where she was responsible for the majority of the Tigers' recruiting efforts. Johnson began her collegiate coaching career as an assistant under Flory at Kentucky in 1995.

Johnson was a four-year letterwinner at LSU from 1987-90, helping the Tigers to Southeastern Conference titles in 1989 and 1990. She led her Tiger team to the NCAA Final Four her senior year after LSU advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 in 1989.

Prior to joining the collegiate coaching ranks, Johnson taught at Wellington Landings Middle School in Boca Raton, Fla., while serving as an assistant coach at Olympic Heights High School and coaching the Florida Gold Coast club team.

What they are saying about Tonya Johnson...

"The Georgia Tech Athletic Association made a great hire with Tonya Johnson during the offseason. Tonya is an innovator that will take the Yellow Jacket volleyball program to new heights. Tonya's ability to train and make match adjustments played a big role in getting our program back to the Final Four for the first time since 1995. She will build the program the right way and make sure her athletes have the best four years of their young lives."

- Texas head coach Jerritt Elliott upon Johnson's hiring in December, 2008.

"Tonya is an outstanding coach who truly puts the student-athletes first. She is a great trainer, an insightful tactician, and an outstanding recruiter. She challenges her players to be the best on and off the court and allows them to develop their full potential. She is someone who I would let my daughter play for, and for a coach there can be no higher compliment."

- LSU head coach Fran Flory.

"When we met with our players before the search began, we indicated our goals in hiring a new head volleyball coach were to bring in a nationally well-respected individual with great energy who has had post-season success as a player and a coach. Hiring Tonya Johnson has allowed us to achieve those goals! All those who know Coach Johnson understand what a great addition she is for the Georgia Tech athletic department. Players, support staff and administration are all very excited to have her as our new head coach."

- Georgia Tech associate director of athletics/Senior Woman Administrator Theresa Wenzel upon Johnson's hiring in December, 2008

Tonya Johnson on hiring her staff...

You have had a chance to settle in now at Georgia Tech, what is it that you've seen in your first eight months that makes this school stand out?

"The academic piece is huge for us. In the sport of volleyball, you generally find that the kids are very academically oriented, and when they're making the decision on where to go, academics play a big part. The volleyball piece is important too, but a lot of it comes down to academics. That has been our selling point here and a lot of people are impressed with what we have to offer academically."

You have put together a staff with several years of coaching experience. Why was that important to you, and what do each of your assistants bring to this team?

"When you're an assistant coach, you often think about who you would hire if you were to take a head coaching job. As you prepare for that and try to develop your own philosophy about the sport, you think about the types of people you would like to work with on a daily basis. I think I struck gold when I was able to land both Craig [Bere] and Ed [Tolentino] and get them here to Georgia Tech. I am very appreciative of the fact they are here and our staff chemistry is unbelievable. When the team takes notice of our great staff chemistry, it gives them a level of confidence about what we are trying to achieve."

"Craig's been a head coach before so it helps to have another person on staff who thinks like a head coach. Since he has had head coaching experience and has been at some big-time programs, he is pretty well-rounded with the goals and everything we want to accomplish for our program. He brings so much to the table when it comes to recruiting, being in the gym and running a program. That's been a big, big plus for me."

"Ed has been in the Big Ten so his experience being at schools like Michigan and Michigan State has been a plus for us. Having been the main trainer at Premier and being a part of that club for so long has also been extremely beneficial. He brings a lot of experience to the table with his personality. His connections throughout the country have been pretty key for us as well."

"The academic piece is huge for us. In the sport of volleyball, you generally find that the kids are very academically oriented, and when they're making the decision on where to go, academics play a big part." --Tonya Johnson, on what stands out about Georgia Tech.

Craig Bere, who has spent 15 years in the collegiate volleyball ranks, joined first-year head coach Tonya Johnson's staff at Georgia Tech as an assistant coach on February 4, 2009.

Bere spent the last two seasons on the Louisville staff following a successful stint as an assistant at LSU from 2004-2006. He has been a part of an NCAA Tournament team each of the last four years, including both seasons at Louisville. The Cardinals received an automatic bid to last year's NCAA Tournament by capturing the 2008 BIG EAST title, one year after finishing as the runner-up in the 2007 BIG EAST Tournament.

Prior to his appointment at Louisville, Bere was responsible for game strategy, recruiting and practice planning for three years under LSU head coach Fran Flory. He helped guide the Tigers back to the NCAA Tournament in 2005 following a 13-year hiatus, while LSU captured a share of its first Southeastern Conference Western Division title in school history the same season. The following year, LSU repeated as SEC Western Division champions and made a return trip to the NCAA Tournament.

Under his tutelage, setters Daniela Romero and Heather Fierce both ranked in the top 10 in the league in assists per game, while LSU posted the fourth-best hitting percentage in the SEC in 2005.

Bere returned to Division I volleyball at LSU following a successful stint as the head coach at Southern Indiana, where he posted a 47-17 record in two seasons. He guided the Screaming Eagles to their first bid in the NCAA Division II Tournament after capturing the Great Lakes Valley Conference tournament crown in 2002, and came within three points of a repeat GLVC title and tournament berth the following season. His .734 winning percentage at Southern Indiana still ranks as the third-best winning percentage in the school's history.

Southern Indiana setter Kim Boehmer became the first Screaming Eagle to receive All-America honors when she was named to the honorable mention squad in Bere's first season at USI. She also received first-team All-GLVC honors in 2002 and 2003, while Kristi Kavanaugh earned first-team CoSIDA Academic All-America honors under Bere.

Bere began his coaching career at Morehead State, where he served as a student assistant in 1993 before being promoted to full-time assistant coach for the 1994 season. While on staff with the Eagles, Morehead State captured the 1993 Ohio Valley Conference Tournament title and finished as the runner-up in the regular season OVC race in 1994. The Eagles also returned to the title match of the 1995 OVC Tournament, taking runner-up honors.

Following his tenure at Morehead State, Bere joined the Mississippi State staff, where he served as an assistant coach from 1997-2001. There he was responsible for coordinating the Bulldog defense while working closely with Mississippi State's outside hitters. Bere also headed up the team's recruiting efforts while performing additional administrative duties off the court.

A native of Louisville, Kentucky, Bere attended Morehead State, where he was a three-year letterwinner on the Eagle football team and a six-year member of the men's volleyball club team, which led him to a career in college coaching. Bere earned his degree in Health from Morehead State in 1995 and went on to receive his Masters in Health, Physical Education and Recreation in 1997.

A member of the American Volleyball Coaches Association, Bere has served as a camp instructor in summer volleyball camps in Alabama, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana and Michigan. He is married to the former Shannon Krebs, and the couple has one son, Blake.

Ed Tolentino, head tier trainer and director of development for Premier Volleyball and M-Juniors Volleyball Club in Maumee, Ohio, was named an assistant coach at Georgia Tech on March 2, 2009.

Tolentino spent the last three seasons as an assistant volleyball coach at Madonna University in Livonia, Mich., where he helped guide the Crusaders to three Wolverine-Hoosier Athletic Conference tournament and regular season titles as well as a trio of NAIA National Championship appearances. Under his tutelage, three Crusaders earned WHAC Player of the Year honors, one was named the WHAC Libero of the Year and another received WHAC Freshman of the Year accolades. He also coached the runner-up for the 2007 NAIA National Libero of the Year award in addition to six All-America and 14 All-WHAC honorees. Madonna University posted a 108-27 overall record and went 37-3 in conference matches during his three-year stint while finishing all three seasons ranked among the top-25 in the nation, including a final ranking of No. 10 in 2008.

Prior to his stint at Madonna, Tolentino served as an interim assistant volleyball coach at the University of Michigan in 2005, where he assisted in player development and recruiting while coordinating scouting reports.

Tolentino joined the staff of Premier Volleyball and M-Junior Volleyball in January, 2005, serving as head tier trainer for Premier for four years and director of M-Juniors for the last three.

Before joining the staff at Premier Volleyball, Tolentino was an assistant coach at Michigan State University, where he assisted with all aspects of the program, including coordinating travel and scouting reports while assisting in development and recruiting.

His stint in East Lansing came after spending two seasons as an assistant coach at Eastern Michigan, where he helped guide the Eagles to a pair of MAC Tournament appearances and a 27-7 record in 2002.

After spending two years (1997-98) as an assistant coach at Oakland University, Tolentino was promoted to head coach - a position he held for three seasons before joining the Eastern Michigan volleyball staff.

Tolentino began his coaching career at Bishop Foley High School in Madison Heights, Mich., where he served as the head varsity volleyball coach from 1994-96. He was a brief member of the Cranbrook Kingswood volleyball staff in early 1997 before earning his first collegiate coaching role at Oakland later the same year.

Between his assistant and head coaching positions at Oakland, Tolentino spent 10 months as a certified athletic trainer with the Detroit Tigers' Gulf Coast League team. He is currently a member of the American Volleyball Coaches Association (AVCA) and National Athletic Trainers Association (NATA).

Tolentino began his college career as a setter and defensive specialist at Macomb College before transferring to the University of Detroit Mercy, where he earned his degree in sports medicine in 1997.

Chuck Crawford, a long-time high school and club volleyball coach, joined Tonya Johnson's first Georgia Tech staff as a volunteer assistant in July, 2009.

Crawford worked with the A5 Mizuno Volleyball Club in 2008 and 2009, serving as a head coach for an 18-2 squad that posted a fifth-place finish in the USAV Southern Region while receiving an American Bid to the 2009 USAV National Championships in Miami, Fla. It marked the first time in history that an 18-2 team qualified for the National Championships out of the Southern Region.

From 2006-09, Crawford served as head coach of the North Forsyth High School volleyball team after coaching the Centennial High School volleyball team from 2001-04.

After his four-year stint leading the Centennial volleyball program, Crawford worked as an assistant coach for the Milton High School baseball team, helping the squad to a state championship in 2004.

A health and physical education teacher for Fulton and Forsyth Counties from 2001-09, Crawford received his degree from Miami (Ohio) in 2001. He participated on the Miami club team volleyball from 1998-2001.

Crawford, a native of Middletown, Ohio, is married to the former Lori Alexander of Roswell, Ga., and the couple has one child, Carson. An avid rock and mountain climber, Crawford was featured in the Discovery Channel TV series Epic Conditions climbing the nose of El Cap (3,300 feet) in Yosemite. He has also summited the 14,400-foot Mount Rainer in Washington State and spent three years riding bulls in the Professional Rodeo Cowboy Association (PRCA).

Theresa WENZEL

Associate Director of Athletics/SWA
Four Years
Marquette, 1991

Entering her fourth year as an administrator at Georgia Tech, Theresa Wenzel is the voice of women's sports for the Athletic Association, serving as the Senior Woman Administrator for the sports programs. She oversees the volleyball, softball, women's basketball, golf, men's and women's tennis, men's and women's track and field, men's and women's cross country and men's and women's swimming and diving teams in her current role.

Wenzel, the associate director of athletics and senior woman administrator at Georgia Tech, serves as the athletic department's non-academic liaison to the Office of Student Affairs on campus and is also a member of numerous committees, including the Georgia Tech Women's Resource Center Advisory Board, Title IX Compliance Committee, GTAA Compliance and Equity Committee, NCAA Athletic Certification Steering Committee, ACC Student-Athlete Welfare and Equity Committees and the ACC Women's Basketball, Tennis and Softball Committees.

Wenzel has an extensive background in both athletic administration and coaching. She originally joined the Georgia Tech Athletic Association staff in October, 2005, following an eight-year stint at Siena College, during which she served as an assistant and then associate athletics director for business operations while also coaching the women's golf team.

Wenzel arrived at Siena in 1997 and spent one year as the school's intramural director and assistant facilities director. A year later, she was named the assistant athletic director for business operations and head women's golf coach. In seven seasons at the helm of the golf program, the Saints captured five consecutive Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference titles (2001-05). She relinquished her coaching duties following the 2005 season when she was promoted to associate athletics director.

Prior to joining the Siena staff, Wenzel spent three years as an assistant women's basketball coach at Canisius College in Buffalo, N.Y., and also served an internship with the National Invitational Tournament.

A basketball letterwinner at Marquette University, Wenzel earned her bachelors degree in business administration in 1991 and added a master's degree in sport administration from Canisius in 2000.

Dr. G.P. "Bud" PETERSON

Institute President
First Year
Kansas State, 1975

In April 2009, following a unanimous vote by the University System of Georgia Board of Regents, Dr. G. P. "Bud" Peterson became the 11th president of the Georgia Institute of Technology. In this capacity he oversees a top-ten public research university with more than 19,000 students and more than $500 million in sponsored funding.

Throughout his career, Peterson has played an active role in helping to establish the national education and research agendas, serving on numerous industry, government, and academic task forces and committees.

A distinguished scientist, Peterson was selected in 2008 by President George W. Bush to serve on the National Science Board through 2014. The Board oversees the National Science Foundation (NSF) and advises the President and Congress on national policy related to science and engineering research and education.

Peterson earned a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering in 1975, a bachelor's degree in mathematics in 1977, and a master's degree in mechanical engineering in 1980, all from Kansas State University. He also earned a doctorate in mechanical engineering from Texas A&M University in 1985.

In 1981 and 1982, Peterson served as a visiting research scientist at the NASA Johnson Space Center. In 1985, he joined the faculty of the Mechanical Engineering Department at Texas A&M, where he conducted research and taught courses in thermodynamics and heat transfer.

In 1990 he was named the Halliburton Professor of Mechanical Engineering and in 1991 was named the College of Engineering's Tenneco Professor. In 1993, Peterson was invited to serve as program director for the NSF's Thermal Transport and Thermal Processing Division, where he received the NSF Award for Outstanding Management.

From June 1993 through July 1996, he served as head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering at Texas A&M University and in 1996 was appointed executive associate dean of the College of Engineering, where he also served as associate vice chancellor for Engineering for the Texas A&M University System. Previous leadership positions Peterson has held include provost at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, New York and chancellor of the University of Colorado at Boulder.

He also has served as a member of a number of congressional task forces, research councils, and advisory boards, including the Office of Naval Research, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Department of Energy, the National Research Council, and the National Academy of Engineering.

Most recently, Peterson served as a member of the Board of Directors and vice president for Education for the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA). He is currently serving on a number of national accreditation agencies including the American Association of Colleges & Universities, the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, with a focus on improving and assessing outcomes for higher education.

A fellow of both the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) and the AIAA, Peterson is the author or co-author of 14 books or book chapters, 165 referred journal articles, and more than 140 conference publications. He also holds eight patents. Having served as editor or associate editor for eight different journals, he is currently serving on the editorial advisory board of two others. He is a member of Pi Tau Sigma, Tau Beta Pi, Sigma Xi, and Phi Kappa Phi.

Professional society awards include the Ralph James and the O. L. "Andy" Lewis awards from ASME, the Dow Outstanding Young Faculty Award from the American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE), the Pi Tau Sigma Gustus L. Larson Memorial Award from ASME, the AIAA Thermophysics Award, the ASME Memorial Award, the AIAA Sustained Service Award, and the Frank J. Malina Award from the International Astronautical Society.

G. P. Peterson was born September 1, 1952, in San Francisco, California, and raised in Prairie Village, a suburb of Kansas City, Kansas. He and his wife, Val, have four adult children.

2009 YELLOW JACKET VOLLEYBALL

Dan RADAKOVICH

Director of Athletics
Three Years
Indiana (Pennsylvania), 1980

In his fourth year as Georgia Tech's Director of Athletics, Dan Radakovich has brought a new vision for excellence to the Yellow Jackets' storied athletics tradition. In a relatively short amount of time since arriving in Atlanta, Radakovich has put his mark on Georgia Tech's athletics program.

The 2008-09 academic year at Tech was one of unprecedented athletic success.

One year after hiring Paul Johnson as head football coach, Georgia Tech surprised the experts by winning nine games, tying for the ACC Coastal Division title and playing in a 12th consecutive bowl game. The women's basketball team registered its third straight 20-win season and earned an NCAA Tournament bid for the third consecutive year. The baseball team finished ranked in the top 25 and hosted an NCAA Tournament Regional. The softball team swept the ACC regular season and tournament titles, won 46 games and hosted its first NCAA Super Regional.

The golf team captured the ACC championship, advanced to the NCAA Championships and finished ranked seventh nationally. The men's swimming and diving team enjoyed its best NCAA Championships finish ever (19th) and the women's team broke 10 school records. Women's tennis finished ranked 8th nationally and advanced in the NCAA Tournament round of 16. In men's track, Jerome Miller (high jump) and Steve Marcelle (shot put) turned in record-breaking performances en route to earning All-American honors.

Facilities received major upgrades in 2008-09. Shirley Clements Mewborn Field, the new home for Tech's softball program, was unveiled prior to the start of the 2009 season and was ultimately showcased on ESPN when the Yellow Jackets hosted an NCAA Super Regional. The Zelnak Center, a new practice facility for Georgia Tech basketball, will be in place prior to the start of the 2009-10 season. Bobby Dodd Stadium received several cosmetic upgrades, featured by a new video board that was put into place this fall.

Tech student-athletes are performing in the classroom as well. The Annual Progress Report (APR), released by the NCAA in April, showed that seven Yellow Jacket teams earned a perfect score of 1,000 for the 2007-08 year.

The 2007-08 academic year featured Amanda McDowell winning the NCAA singles title in women's tennis. The 2006-07 year was highlighted by Tech's women's tennis team capturing the Institute's first-ever NCAA championship and its third straight Atlantic Coast Conference title.

Outside the competition venues, Radakovich has directed an overhaul of the annual giving and donation structure for Tech athletics, anchored by the TECH Fund, which establishes minimum giving levels tied to season tickets in various seating areas of Bobby Dodd Stadium and Alexander Memorial Coliseum. Several facility upgrades have been completed, including the transformation of Tech's former football locker room on the ground floor of the Edge Athletic Center into a new Technology Center, which benefits academic support services for all Yellow Jacket student-athletes.

Radakovich also initiated the Athletic Director's Initiative Fund, started in June, 2006, which has raised in cash and pledges more than $12 million. A recent gift from the Henry F. McCamish, Jr., family for the renovation of Alexander Memorial Coliseum, could be worth up to $15 million toward that project.

Named Georgia Tech's Director of Athletics on February 22, 2006, Radakovich possesses nearly two decades of experience in collegiate athletics management positions. He came to Georgia Tech after five years as senior associate athletics director at LSU (2001-06), and he previously served as the Athletics Director at American University in 2000-01. That followed stints as associate athletics director at South Carolina (1994-2000) and Long Beach State (1989-94) as well as two years as the athletics business manager at Miami, Fla. (1983-85).

Just the seventh Director of Athletics in Tech history, Radakovich was named by then Institute President Dr. Wayne Clough to succeed Dave Braine, who retired after nearly nine years in the post. Radakovich also follows in the footsteps of storied names such as John Heisman, Bobby Dodd and Homer Rice.

A graduate of Center High School near Aliquippa, Pa., and a member of its Alumni Hall of Fame, Radakovich, 51, became a football letterwinner and student coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, where he graduated in 1980 with a bachelor of science degree in finance. He was enshrined into the Beaver County Sports Hall of Fame last year and was recognized as a Distinguished Alumni from IUP in March, 2009.

Radakovich added a master's degree in business administration from Miami in 1982. He also completed the Sports Management Institute's executive education program in 1992.

He is married to the former Marcie McDonald, and the couple has two children, Christian (19) and Grant (15). Christian is a sophomore at Georgia Tech.

18 and Counting...

The Yellow Jackets posted a winning record for the 18th consecutive season by finishing the 2008 campaign with a 20-10 mark. Dating back to 1991, Georgia Tech has averaged 25 wins per season and fewer than 10 losses. Georgia Tech's 3-0 victory against Virginia on Oct. 31 guaranteed the team its 18th straight winning season.

Consistency in League Play

The 2008 season also ended with the Jackets posting a 12-8 record against Atlantic Coast Conference opponents, giving Georgia Tech its ninth-straight winning season in league play. The Yellow Jackets are the only team in the league to post winning records in each of the last nine seasons, and Tech is also the only ACC school to finish above .500 in each of the last six years.

Seniors Leave with Career Marks

Georgia Tech's 2008 senior class was one of the most decorated in school history, finishing with a combined 12 top-10 career marks in Tech's record books, as well as six top-10 single-season marks.

Michelle Kandell set a new single-season record with 628 digs in 2007 before ending her career in 2008 with 1,514 digs in her four-year tenure, which is the third-best career mark in school history. Her 3.38 digs per set from 2005-08 is the second-highest total in school history.

Talisa Kellogg battled through multiple injuries in her final season to wrap up a career which saw her tally 1,736 kills - the fourth-highest total in school history. Her 3.82 kills per set was also the fourth-best mark in the Tech career record books while her 66 solo blocks was the sixth-most for a Yellow Jacket.

Allie Niekamp, a three-year starter at setter, wrapped up her career with 3,560 assists, which was the third-highest total by a Yellow Jacket. The recipient of Tech's prestigious Total Person Award averaged 11.23 assists per set - the fourth-best mark in school history - and averaged 0.36 assists per set throughout her career, also good for fourth in Tech's career record books.

Finally, middle hitter Callie Miller turned in the best season of her career in 2008 to finish with a .314 hitting percentage (fifth-highest in school history), 430 total blocks and 384 block assists (both of which stand seventh in Tech's annals), and 0.98 blocks per set, which is good for 10th in the career record books.

DeMichelis Dialed In

While many didn't know what to expect from junior Chrissy DeMichelis following off-season knee surgery, the Aurora, Colo., native showed that she could step into Talisa Kellogg's role with ease after finishing with 263 kills (3.17 per set) in 2008. DeMichelis is averaging 3.12 kills per set in her career, which is the ninth-best mark in school history, while she has also proven to be a viable factor on the block, tallying 45 total blocks (12 solo) in her third season on the Flats.

Turning Over the Reigns

Sophomores Mary Ashley Tippins and Jordan McCullers continued to show that they are the players to lead the Yellow Jackets into the future as they both had impressive seasons playing in the shadows of graduating seniors.

In her second season behind three-year starter Allie Niekamp, Tippins became just the ninth setter to eclipse 1,000 assists in a career and currently has 1,037 to her credit. The Atlanta native averaged 10.18 assists per set with 458 total assists in 45 sets in 2008.

Record-setting libero Michelle Kandell had McCullers pushing her on the back row, and the Kennesaw, Ga., native finished second on the team in digs (243) and digs per set (2.13) behind Kandell. McCullers was one of just four Yellow Jackets to play in every set in 2008.

Jackets Net $2,680 in D4C

With 45 digs in a three-set sweep of Florida State on October 3rd, the Yellow Jackets won more than just an ACC match against the Seminoles. The team's defensive performance, in conjunction with donations and pledges made by fellow students, fans, parents and co-workers, helped Georgia Tech raise approximately $2,680 for the Susan G. Komen for the Cure Foundation, an organization that specializes in raising funds to help find the cure for breast cancer.

The Tradition

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now, in its 57th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 114 national championships, including 60 in women's competition and 54 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 257 times.

The year 1980 marked the inception of volleyball in the ACC and conference play began in 1981. Now entering its 29th season of play, the league has seen its member institutions enjoy great success from both academic and athletic perspectives.

Duke University's Rachael Moss headed a list of 10 volleyball student-athletes who earned ESPN The Magazine Academic Honors. A second-team ESPN The Magazine Academic All-American®, Moss was joined by the University of Virginia's Lauren Dickson as a first-team Academic All-District III, and eight more who garnered second- or third-team All-District III accolades.

Clemson University's Danielle Hepburn was the only ACC student-athlete to receive All-America status with a third-team selection by the American Volleyball Coaches Association. Nine more took Honorable Mention accolades in addition to All-East Region honors.

The University of Miami highlighted the AVCA East Region as Lane Corico was selected as the East Region Freshman of the Year and seventh-year head coach Nicole Lantagne was picked as the East Region Coach of the Year.

The ACC again proved to be the nation's premier athletic conference both academically and athletically.

2008-09 in Review

The 2008-09 academic year saw league teams capture five national team titles and 20 individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 47 national team titles over the last 13 years and has won two or more NCAA titles in 27 of the past 29 years.

A total of 128 ACC teams placed in NCAA post-season competition in 2008-09. League teams compiled a 139-84-1 (.623) mark against opponents in NCAA championship competition. In addition, the ACC had 198 student-athletes earn first team All-America honors this past year. Overall, the league had 266 first-, second-, or third-team All-Americans and the ACC produced nine national Players of the Year and five national Coach of the Year honorees. A total of 88 teams finished their respective seasons ranked in the Top-25 poll, including 33 teams ranked in the Top 10 and six teams that held the nation's top spot.

The Championships

The conference will conduct championship competition in 25 sports during the 2009-10 academic year - 12 for men and 13 for women. The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981.

Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet held in tennis at Wake Forest University.

Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing with volleyball deciding its champion by regular season play.

A History

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200.00 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation. The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when the Georgia Institute of Technology was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State University.

The conference expanded to 11 members on July 1, 2004, with the addition of the University of Miami and Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. On October 17, 2003, Boston College accepted an invitation to become the league's 12th member starting July 1, 2005.

The Schools

Boston College was founded in 1863 by the Society of Jesus to serve the sons of Boston's Irish immigrants and was the first institution of higher education to be founded in Boston. Originally located on Harrison Avenue in the South End of Boston, the College outgrew its urban setting toward the end of its first 50 years. A new location was selected in Chestnut Hill and ground for the new campus was broken on June 19, 1909. During the 1940s, new purchases doubled the size of the main campus. In 1974, Boston College acquired Newton College of the Sacred Heart, 1.5 miles away. With 15 buildings on 40 acres, it is now the site of the Law School and residence halls. In 2004, BC purchased 43 acres of land from the archdiocese of Boston; this now forms the Brighton campus.

Clemson is nestled in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains near the Georgia border, and the tiger paws painted on the roads make the return to I-85 easier. The school is built around Fort Hill, the plantation home of John C. Calhoun, Vice President to Andrew Jackson. His son-in-law, Tom Clemson, left the land to be used as an agricultural school, and in 1893 Clemson opened its doors as a land-grant school, thanks to the efforts of Ben Tillman.

Duke was founded in 1924 by tobacco magnate James B. Duke as a memorial to his father, Washington Duke. Originally the school was called Trinity College, a Methodist institution, started in 1859. In 1892, Trinity moved to west Durham where the east campus with its Georgian architecture now stands. Nearby are Sarah P. Duke gardens, and further west the Gothic spires of Duke chapel overlook the west campus.

Florida State is one of 11 universities of the State University System of Florida. It was established as the Seminary West of the Suwannee by an act of the Florida Legislature in 1851, and first offered instruction at the post-secondary level in 1857. Its Tallahassee campus has been the site of an institution of higher education longer than any other site in the state. In 1905, the Buckman Act reorganized higher education in the state and designated the Tallahassee school as the Florida Female College. In 1909, it was renamed Florida State College for Women. In 1947, the school returned to a co-educational status, and the name was changed to Florida State University.

Next to I-85 in downtown Atlanta stands the Georgia Tech, founded in 1885. Its first students came to pursue a degree in mechanical engineering, the only one offered at the time. Tech's strength is not only the red clay of Georgia, but a restored gold and white 1930 model A Ford Cabriolet, the official mascot. The old Ford was first used in 1961, but a Ramblin' Wreck had been around for over three decades. The Ramblin' Wreck fight song appeared almost as soon as the school opened, and it is not only American boys that grow up singing its rollicking tune, for Richard Nixon and Nikita Khrushchev sang it when they met in Moscow in 1959.

Maryland opened in 1856 as an agricultural school nine miles north of Washington, D.C., on land belonging to Charles Calvert, a descendant of Lord Baltimore, the state's founding father. The school colors are the same as the state flag: black and gold for George Calvert (Lord Baltimore) and red and white for his mother, Alice Crossland. Maryland has been called the school that Curley Byrd built, for he was its quarterback, then football coach, athletic director, assistant to the president, vice-president, and finally its president. Byrd also designed the football stadium and the campus layout, and suggested the nickname Terrapin, a local turtle known for its bite, when students wanted to replace the nickname Old Liners with a new one for the

Miami was chartered in 1925 by a group of citizens who felt an institution of higher learning was needed for the development of their young and growing community. Since the first class of 560 students enrolled in the fall of 1926, the University has expanded to more than 15,000 undergraduate and graduate students from every state and more than 114 nations from around the world. The school's colors, representative of the Florida orange tree, were selected in 1926. Orange symbolizes the fruit of the tree, green represents the leaves and white, the blossoms.

North Carolina, located in Chapel Hill, has been called "the perfect college town," making its tree-lined streets and balmy atmosphere what a college should look and feel like. Its inception in 1795 makes it one of the oldest schools in the nation, and its nickname of Tar Heels stems from the tar pitch and turpentine that were the state's principal industry. The nickname is as old as the school, for it was born during the Revolutionary War when tar was dumped into the streams to impede the advance of British forces.

North Carolina State is located in the state capital of Raleigh. It opened in 1889 as a land-grant agricultural and mechanical school and was known as A&M or Aggies or Farmers for over a quarter-century. The school's colors of pink and blue were gone by 1895, brown and white were tried for a year, but the students finally chose red and white to represent the school. An unhappy fan in 1922 said State football players behaved like a pack of wolves, and the term that was coined in derision became a badge of honor.

Virginia was founded in 1819 by Thomas Jefferson and is one of three things on his tombstone for which he wanted to be remembered. James Madison and James Monroe were on the board of governors in the early years. The Rotunda, a half-scale version of the Pantheon which faces the Lawn, is the focal point of the grounds as the campus is called. Jefferson wanted his school to educate leaders in practical affairs and public service, not just to train teachers.

Virginia Tech was established in 1872 as an all-male military school dedicated to the original land-grant mission of teaching agriculture and engineering. The University has grown from a small college of 132 students into the largest institution of higher education in the state during its 132-year history. Located in Southwest Virginia on a plateau between the Blue Ridge and Alleghany Mountains, the campus consists of 334 buildings and 20 miles of sidewalks over 2,600 acres. The official school colors - Chicago maroon and burnt orange - were selected in 1896 because they made a "unique combination" not worn elsewhere at the time.

Wake Forest was started on Calvin Jones' plantation amid the stately pine forest of Wake County in 1834. The Baptist seminary is still there, but the school was moved to Winston-Salem in 1956 on a site donated by Charles H. and Mary Reynolds Babcock. President Harry S. Truman attended the ground-breaking ceremonies that brought a picturesque campus of Georgian architecture and painted roofs. Wake's colors have been black and gold since 1895, thanks to a badge designed by student John Heck who died before he graduated.

Lynnette Master, Jayme Gergen and Lindsey Laband helped the Yellow Jackets punch their ticket to the 2004 NCAA Tournament with a 16-0 regular season record in the ACC.

The Jackets' last NCAA Tournament match was a five-game thriller in front of a packed house at Minnesota (above). Tech tied the match at 2-2 with a 48-46 victory in the fourth game before falling in game five. The 94 total points scored in the fourth game set a new NCAA record.

Kele Eveland

2003 - First Team

The Atlantic Coast Conference's only first-team All-American is former setter Kele Eveland, who played for the Yellow Jackets from 2000-03. The only female in school history to have her jersey retired, Eveland shattered the ACC record with 6,464 career assists while averaging 13.38 assists per game.

Jayne Gergen

2004 - Honorable Mention

A middle hitter from 2001-04, Jayne Gergen set Tech's single-season records for blocks (169) and total blocks (157) in 2002 and finished her career ranked second with a .353 hitting percentage, fourth with 1.18 blocks per game and fifth with 473 total blocks and 426 block assists.

Talisa Kellogg

2007, 2008 - Honorable Mention

Tech's top attacking threat from 2005-08, Talisa Kellogg led the Jackets in kills in each of her four seasons on the Flats and ended her career ranked fourth in school history with 1,736 kills and 3.82 kills per game while recording 66 solo blocks, which is the sixth-best mark in school history.

Lindsey Laband

2004, 2005 - Honorable Mention

Lindsey Laband led the nation with 1540 assists per game in 2004 while guiding an offense that posted national bests in kills per game (18.64) and assists per game (17.34). Laband finished her career ranked fourth in school history with 3,130 assists and third with 12.93 assists per game.

Callie Miller

2008 - Honorable Mention

Callie Miller became the seventh Yellow Jacket to reach 400 blocks in a career in 2008 and concluded her four-year tenure ranked seventh in total blocks (430) and block assists (384). She also posted the fifth-best hitting percentage in school history (.314) after hitting .370 in her final season on the Flats.

Lynnette Moster

2002 - Second Team
2003, 2004 - Third Team

Tech's all-time leader in kills (1,859), Lynnette Moster is the only three-time All-American in ACC history and holds three of the Jackets' top four single-season marks for kills. Moster also finished her career ranked third with 1,456 career digs from 2001-04.

Alexandra Preiss

2003 - Honorable Mention

The school record holder in hitting percentage (.364), Alexandra Preiss capped her four-year career at Georgia Tech by posting a .417 hitting percentage, which was the seventh-best mark in the nation in 2003 and the second-highest mark in Atlantic Coast Conference history.

Lauren Sauer

2003 - Honorable Mention

The only player in school history to eclipse 1,700 kills and 90 solo blocks, Lauren Sauer capped her career ranked second with 99 career solo blocks, fourth in school history with 1,706 kills and 3.60 kills per game and seventh with 368 solo blocks and 269 block assists.

Ulrike Stegemann

2006, 2007 - Honorable Mention

The only opposite side hitter to ever receive All-America accolades at Georgia Tech is Ulrike Stegemann, who played on the Flats from 2004-07. A former middle blocker that moved to the right side after her first season, Stegemann concluded her career with 1,287 kills in 124 match appearances.

Career Records

Lynnette Moster (left) and Maja Pachale (right) hold the top two marks in Tech history in kills and kills per game. Moster is the Yellow Jackets' career kills leader, and Pachale owns the career record for kills per game.

Kerry Annel posted 560 total blocks from 1992-95, a mark that still stands atop the Tech career list today.

Kele Eveland holds the record for career assists at Georgia Tech. She was also the second All-American in school history and the only Tech player to be named to the AVCA All-America first team.

Lynnette Muster holds the top two single-season marks in kills.

Alexandra Preiss hit a school record .417 in 2003.

Jayme Gergen is the single-season record holder in total blocks and block assists

Lisa Kofskey recorded a Tech-record 42 solo blocks in 1987.

THIS IS...GEORGIA TECH VOLLEYBALL

A collage of various photographs of Georgia Tech volleyball players. The images show the team in different contexts: a large group photo in yellow t-shirts and blue shorts, individual players in white jerseys with blue numbers (15, 10, 11, 25, 7, 5, 13), players in camouflage uniforms, and players in black athletic wear. The background features a large, stylized number '13' in a dark blue color.
