

Have Some Fun

GTCN
21

What's On?

WEEK OF 6.23 - 6.29

frí.
6.23

12:00	National Lampoon
2:00	Campus MovieFest
5:00	Phat Literature
6:00	Somethin' Fresh
7:00	Aeon Flux
9:00	Classic GTCN
11:00	Rumor Has It
1:00	Planet X

sat.
6.24

12:00	Rumor Has It
2:00	Campus MovieFest
4:00	National Lampoon
7:00	Aeon Flux
9:00	Classic GTCN
11:00	National Lampoon
1:00	Planet X

sun.
6.25

12:00	Campus MovieFest
2:00	Rumor Has It
4:00	National Lampoon
7:00	Aeon Flux
9:00	Classic GTCN
11:00	Zilo Network
1:00	Planet X

mon.
6.26

12:00	National Lampoon
2:00	Phat Literature
4:00	Film In Italy
5:30	GT Sweat
6:00	Somethin' Fresh
7:00	Aeon Flux
9:00	Classic GTCN
11:00	Rumor Has It
1:00	Planet X

tues.
6.27

12:00	Zilo Network
2:00	Phat Literature
3:00	Outlook Video
3:30	National Lampoon
5:30	GT Sweat
6:00	Somethin' Fresh
7:00	Aeon Flux
9:00	Classic GTCN
11:00	Rumor Has It
1:00	Planet X

wed.
6.28

12:00	National Lampoon
2:00	Rumor Has It
4:00	WTF Wrestling
4:30	Clips and Quips
5:00	Atlantic Station
6:00	Somethin' Fresh
7:00	Aeon Flux
9:00	Classic GTCN
11:00	Rumor Has It
1:00	Planet X

thurs.
6.29

12:00	Zilo Network
2:00	Invisible Children
3:00	Film In Italy
4:30	GT Sweat
5:00	Get Used To It
6:00	Somethin' Fresh
7:00	Aeon Flux
9:00	Classic GTCN
11:00	Rumor Has It
1:00	Planet X

The World Cup Now Goes To The Round of 16!

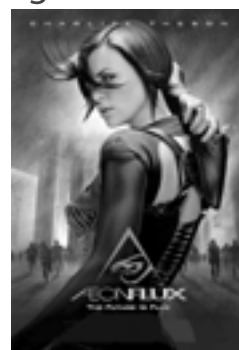

The World Cup field of 32 teams has been cut to 16, and now it is win or go home! Don't miss any of the excitement as the world will be watching on ABC, ESPN and ESPN2 all this week!

Don't miss these exciting GTCN movies every night at 7:00 and 11:00pm!

Rumor Has It

Aeon Flux

Get Your School On

GTCN 20 mon, tue. & thurs.

6:00 ECE 6530

wed. & frí.

6:00 ECE 6323

8:00 AE 6220

10:00 AE 6050

So, you think you know sports?

GTCN is looking for someone to host our new GT sports program this fall. If you are up to the challenge, e-mail Scott Sergent at scott.sergent@housing.gatech.edu and you could be Tech's next great sportscaster!

cable television

digital media video production

gtcn

the georgia tech cable network

www.gtcn.gatech.edu

Baseball from page 16

the Jackets, earning his 11th win of the season.

The game didn't stay scoreless long as Kindel hit a solo homerun to right field to give Tech a 1-0 lead.

In the fourth inning, the Cougars threatened to tie but Kindel gunned down Alex Garabedian at the plate to maintain the lead for the Jackets.

"I just saw him rounding third base and I didn't know if I had a shot at him or not so I just cut it loose, put it on the money, and Wieters tagged him out at the plate," Kindel said.

The Jackets continued to extend their lead with Matt Wieters hitting a solo homerun in the fifth and a RBI single in the seventh, making the lead 3-0.

Wes Hodges hit a RBI single to score Robbins, while Murton scored off a fielding error to make the score 5-0 in the bottom of the eighth.

Wood led the Jackets' defense by throwing 6.2 innings, allowing no runs, eight hits, six strikeouts and only one walk.

"It's just like any other game. I was relaxed and was just ready to go," Wood said.

Wieters led the offensive charge for the Jackets going two-for-four with two RBIs.

The Jackets had five runs off nine hits for the game on Friday.

This season marks the 21st time in 22 years that the Jackets have advanced to the regionals. Tech has hosted a super regional for the past three years.

Wieters, who was named to first team All-America this past Tuesday, was also named the Atlanta Regional Most Valuable Player.

Mike Trapani, Kindel, Michael Fisher, and Ryan Turner joined Wieters on the all-tournament team.

Tech will be playing in the College World Series today at 2 p.m. ET, facing the No. 1 Clemson Tigers.

This marks the seventh meeting between the two teams this year.

Tech faces nation's top teams in CWS

By Matthew Winkler
Sports Editor

Tech is playing in today's College World Series (CWS). This is the third World Series for Tech, with the previous appearances in 1994 and 2002.

In 1994, the Jackets were runner-up in the CWS, losing to Oklahoma. In 2002, Tech finished fifth. Overall, the Jackets are 4-3 in the CWS.

Four ACC teams made it to the World Series this year: Miami, North Carolina, Clemson, and Tech. Also in the field of eight: Rice, Oregon State, Cal-State Fullerton and Georgia.

No. 3 Miami comes into the CWS with a 41-22 record, coached by Jim Morris who is making his 10th appearance in Omaha. The Hurricanes last won the national title in 2002. The offense of Miami is led by outfielder Jon Jay with a .369 batting average. Miami got to the CWS by winning the Oxford regional. Tech holds a 4-1 margin over the Hurricanes this year.

The No. 6 seeded North Carolina Tar Heels, making their fifth appearance are coached by Mike Fox and posted a 50-13 record this year. Carolina boasts national player of the year Andrew Miller on the mound.

Miller posted a 13-2 record with a 2.11 ERA. Tech is 2-1 against the Heels this season.

With the top record in college baseball, 55-11, the No. 2 seed Rice Owls coached by Wayne Graham, reach their fifth CWS. In 2003 Rice won their first national championship. The pitching staff is led by Eddie Degerman with a 1.81 ERA and a 13-1 record. Rice advanced by winning the Oklahoma Regional.

Cal St.-Fullerton is no stranger to the CWS. They won national titles in 2004, 1995, 1984 and 1979. The Titans are coached by George Horton and posted a 48-13 record this season. Brandon Tripp leads the offense with a .343 batting average and .556 slugging percentage.

The No. 5 Beavers are attending their third CWS riding a 44-14 record. Coached by Pat Casey, the Beavers beat Stanford in two games in the Corvallis Super Regional. Pitchers Dallas Buck and Jonah Nickerson lead the Beavers combining for a 23-6 record. The pitching staff of the Beavers has held opponents to .237 batting average for the season.

The Clemson Tigers are the No. 1 seed in the CWS. Clemson is also riding one of the best records in baseball at 52-11 and were ACC tournament champs. Jack Leggett is guiding his Tigers to their first CWS in four years. Brad Chalk is posting a .350 batting average to lead the Tiger bats. Tech is 3-3 against the Tigers this season with the overall record being deadlocked at 93-93-3.

With Georgia being in the CWS this year, it leaves one question for Tech fans: What's the good word? David Perno is leading his 47-21 Bulldogs to their third CWS in six years. The Bulldogs are led by the All-American duo of outfielder Joey Side and pitcher Joshua Fields. Side is batting .359 with 13 home runs and 53 RBI. Fields, the Georgia closer, has a 3-2 record with a 1.88 ERA and has an SEC-record 15 saves.

Post-Season Appearances, Last 22 years

1. Florida State	22
2. Georgia Tech	21
2. Miami	21
3. LSU	20
3. Clemson	20

Golf ends season in NCAA, places 26th

By Matthew Winkler
Sports Editor

The golf team ended a successful season by losing in the NCAA championships which took place on May 31 through June 2. Tech finished the tournament in 26th place.

The Jackets needed to place 15th or higher to advance. Freshman Cameron Tringale ended his successful season as well by finishing eighth in individual competition of the NCAA Golf Championship.

After the first day of competition at the team championship, the Jackets found themselves in last place. Tringale had the best round for Tech, shooting a one-over-par 73 round. Mike Barbossa shot a 75 and Kevin Larsen and Roberto Castro shot a 76 and 77 respectively to contribute to Tech's team score.

On the second day of competition on June 1, the Jackets were at the bottom of the standings after posting a 294 round the day before. Tringale posted a team low round by shooting a 70.

Larsen posted the other under par round for the Jackets, by shooting 71, which included six birdies. Tech's other two rounds that counted toward the team score were Barbossa with a 74 and Taylor Hall with a 79.

Going in to the last day of competition, Tech faced an uphill battle. It proved too much as the Jackets posted a dismal eight-over-par round 256, to finish 26th out of 30.

"[Tringale] is very good fundamentally."

Bruce Heppler
Head Coach

Tringale again posted an impressive round, shooting a 68. Larsen shot a 73, to finish in 63rd place. Barbossa, who ended his collegiate career, shot a 77. Castro finished out the team scoring for Tech by shooting a 78.

One bright spot out of the tournament was Tringale, who placed high enough to make the cut to advance to the individuals' portion of the NCAA championship.

"I wish the team had been playing today. It didn't feel the same with them watching and not playing," Tringale said.

In that portion of the tournament Tringale shot a 74, which was good enough for eighth place. Tringale completed his sixth top-ten finish of the year.

"He's very good fundamentally. He believes in himself, and he's had one of the best freshman years anyone has ever had," said head coach Bruce Heppler.

Three Tech players ended the year by being named to the All-America team. Tringale was named to the second team while Larsen was named to the third team. Castro garnered honorable mention.

Take a Prof to Lunch

Thursday, July 6

11:00 am – 1:00 pm

Student Center Ferst Place
(3rd floor)

Only $6.00 / pair

Call by Friday, June 30 to sign up: 404-894-2805

Invite your favorite professor, staff member, or TA out for a delicious lunch!

www.fun.gatech.edu

Better Ingredients.
Better Pizza.

Call (404)872-5252

990 State Street NW

Delivery and Carryout

Too Tired to Cook?

Try our student special:
1 large 1 topping pizza for ONLY $8.99!

(pick up or delivery)

SPORTS

Technique • Friday, June 16, 2006

CONSTRUCTION CONTINUES

Keeping with Tech tradition, construction continues to be part of campus. Which road will be closed this week? Page 7

SOMERSAULT DELIVERS

This Australian film that chronicles a girl's journey away from home combines artistic flair with a racy plot. Page 9

Jackets advance to College World Series

By Matthew Winkler
Sports Editor

Omaha, Neb. is the next destination for Tech's baseball team. The Jackets (50-16) have advanced to their third College World Series in school history with a win over the Cougars of the College of Charleston this past Saturday.

The Jackets got to the Atlanta Super Regional by winning their first round regional last week, defeating Vanderbilt twice.

On a sultry June afternoon, in front of the crowd of nearly 4,000 at Russ Chandler Stadium. Tech was looking for redemption after losing last year's Super Regional to Tennessee and the Jackets didn't disappoint

"I'm excited for our team, our fans and the administration here at Georgia Tech."

Danny Hall
Head Coach

as they proved too much for the Cougars (46-17), to win the best-of-three series. Tech had won the first game 5-0 the previous day.

"I'm excited for our team, our fans and the administration here at Georgia Tech. We have a chance to go to Omaha and play for a national championship," said head coach Danny Hall as reported by www.ramblinwreck.com.

In Saturday's game, Whit Robbins dominated the plate and Lee Hyde controlled the mound as the Jackets advanced past the super regionals, becoming the first team in the tournament to advance to the World Series.

The Cougars took the first lead of the game by scoring a run off a sacrifice fly in the bottom of the first.

Wes Hodges, who was battling injury, responded in the top of the second for the Jackets with an RBI double.

The lead, however, didn't stay in Tech's favor long as C of C regained the lead with a home run in the bottom of the second inning.

Lee Hyde, who struggled some in the beginning innings, settled in to take control of the game.

"I left some balls up in the zone, and I was having trouble with my command. I just tried to settle down and started throwing strikes," said pitcher Hyde.

The top of the fourth inning saw Tech's offense finally gain composure when Robbins hit a two-run home run. The lead would stay in Tech's favor for the rest of the game.

In the fifth inning, the Jacket offense, fueled by Jeff Kindel's two-run home run, really heated up as they stretched their lead to 8-2.

The Cougars managed to gain a run in the bottom of the eighth, but the Jackets responded with four runs in the top of the ninth to cushion

By Ayan Kishore / STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

The Jackets celebrate after beating the College of Charleston earlier on Saturday. With the win, Tech advances to its third College World Series. The Jackets face Clemson today at 2 p.m. in Omaha, Neb.

their lead to 12-3, thus sealing the fate of the Cougars.

For the game, the Jackets had 12 runs from 15 hits. Robbins led the offense, going 3-for-6 with one home run and three RBI's. Luke Murton also had a productive day, going three-for-five, with one RBI.

For the defense, Lee Hyde threw eight strong innings, allowing six hits and two earned runs. He also struck out eight batters while only allowing two walks. The win was Hyde's sixth of the season.

In Friday's game, the Jackets set the tone for the weekend. Tech blanked the No. 11 Cougars 5-0 to win the first game of the series. Blake Wood took the mound for

See Baseball, page 15

JOHNSON EARNS PRE-SEASON HONOR

By Scott Medway / STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

Calvin Johnson was recently named to the preseason watch list for the Maxwell Award for Collegiate Player of the Year. During October, 12 finalists will be chosen, and the winner declared in December ceremony.

The six-foot and four-inch sophomore is a first team All-American and has accumulated 1,715 yards and 13 touchdowns in two seasons. Johnson will help lead the Jackets when Tech plays Notre Dame in their season-opener that is 79 days away.

Softball players earn many post-season honors

By Randy Darnowsky
Contributing Writer

A few of the outstanding Jacket softball players received national and local recognition. Announced last week, Whitney Haller and Amy Hosier received honorable membership to the Easton-Bell All-America team.

Haller achieved second-team honors in her first season of collegiate softball. Hosier earned All-American honors for the second consecutive season.

Also, Savannah Brown, Haller and Hosier recently earned recognition for the NFCA Southeast All-Region team.

Hosier impressed the judges with record-breaking stats, including a .513 on base percentage and 52 walks. The standout senior had a .370 batting average, to rank third in the conference. Hosier also hit career-best numbers in the home run and RBI categories. Hosier earned first-team honors for the All-ACC and All-Region teams.

Catcher Brown also hit over .300. Brown hit 11 home runs in 46 runs for the Jackets. The sophomore made second team membership.

Freshman sensation Haller has plenty to celebrate. Haller was named

By Stephen Marek / STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

Freshman sensation Whitney Haller had a record breaking year

ACC Freshman of the Year and broke conference records, including home runs (24), RBIs (72), total bases (171), slugging percentage (.799), and saves (6). The first baseman stands at second in RBIs and third in home runs. The all-around player made first-team honors for the All-Region team.

Junior Caitlin Lever was named Tech Student-Athlete of the Week Mon. May 22, 2006. Lever led the Tech softball team to its second straight NCAA Regional Championship Game.

She hit successfully and consecutively in the last seven regular season games. Furthermore, she posted a .462 batting average, one homer, and five RBIs in the regional tournament.

Miller leads track in NCAA Outdoors

Seven track members were invited to the NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships held on June 7-10 in Sacramento, Calif.

Sophomore Jerome Miller finished 10th out of 13 in the men's high jump. Miller recorded a mark of 7 feet, ¼ inch to lead the Jackets.

Two days earlier, Miller, tied a school record with a qualifying mark of 7 feet, 1 ½ inches.

Ashlee Kidd, a junior from St. Petersburg Florida, advanced to the semi-finals in the women's 400-meter dash with a qualifying time of 52.81 seconds.

Shantia Moss, Kidd, Andriane Lapsley and Jacqua Williams represented the Jackets in the women's 4x100 meter relay.

The group finished ninth in the race with a time of 44.16 seconds.

In the women's 10-meter high hurdles, Fatmata Fofanah finished in the semi-finals 16th with a time of 13.53 seconds.

Moss also advanced to the semi-finals and placed 10th with a time of 13.18 seconds.

Lapsley, also competed in the 22-meter dash and finished with a time of 23.93 seconds, which placed her at 25th.

Depland, an All-American, competed in the triple jump. Depland placed 10th in the competition.