Men's Outlook

A Wealth of Depth Has Jackets Buzzing in 2004-05

With 15 returning letterwinners and a tank full of depth and experience, the Georgia Tech men's swimming and diving team will try and flow back to the upper echelon of the Atlantic Coast Conference this season.

"I know the expectations are high," said head coach Seth Baron. "We only graduated three athletes from last year's squad and return most of our scoring athletes from the 2004 ACC Championships. We have a lot of depth and talent with the new additions to the men's squad."

With many of Tech's scoring athletes back from last year's ACC meet and the conference championships being held in the Georgia Tech Aquatic Center for the first time in school history, the Yellow Jackets should have a legitimate chance at improving on last season's performance.

"We have one of the finest, if not the finest, facilities in the country," said Baron. "Now we get to host the conference championships and I know our athletes are excited about the opportunity to swim in their home pool and get back to where we've been in years past."

The Rambling Wreck swam their way to a second-place finish at the 2002 ACC meet and want to get back to that level at the championship meets. Leading the Jackets heading into the season will be All-American Sam Morgan, senior captain Matt Figh, junior Jason Howard and sophomore diver Tony Burkhardt.

"The list could be endless," said Baron. "Sam is coming off a great two seasons for us and expect he'll do the same this year. Matt Figh tied our school record in the 200 free last year and will be one of our top swimmers in the 200 and 500 free. Jason Howard had a phenomenal sophomore season and I believe that this year he is going to have a lot of confidence to produce even better results at the ACC meet."

"Tony had a solid freshman year and with the additions of the three freshmen [Michael Bennett, Peter Doblal, Evan Stowers] he is going to have some stiff competition."

Depth will be a new look for the Yellow Jackets in the upcoming season. Tech added 10 new faces to the roster, including three divers.

"We have areas that our greatly improved," said Baron. "Some strictly because of the addition of athletes in those events, like distance events. We graduated Eddy Oliver, who was a great distance athlete, but we add two great distance swimmers in Chris Ewald and Rob Miller. We add Onur Uras [2004 Olympian for Turkey] who can swim the 100 and 200 butterfly, which gives us a bit more versatility because we don't have to use Matt Figh in the 200 as often as we did last year."

"Diving is much stronger this year because we've added three young men that are going to bring some stability and some strong competitiveness."

"We added some sprint freestylers and added a lot of stroke people. We got areas that are better."

"Overall, I think we should see a much improved team this year with added depth and versatility."

The strength of the Jackets will be depth and versatility, along with a talented group of underclassmen.

"This is a pretty good class," said Baron. "There is a lot of talent in this class. Ewald was on the USA National Junior Team, was the fastest 800-meter freestyler for 18 and under and has international experience (competing for the U.S. this summer in Australia). His swim club teammate, Rob Miller, also is a good distance swimmer. He had a great senior year and had significant improvements from when we saw him in November till the end of his senior year."

"Onur Uras, who just got back from the Olympics, is going to booster our butterfly events, along with Jason Bourgeois. Evan Stowers on the diving boards is a very talented young man who's going to be able to come in and give us a solid one-two punch on the diving boards. There's potential across the board, we have some walk-on athletes, who over the course of the year could develop into something spectacular. We saw that with Jason Howard, who was a walk-on two years ago and earned a scholarship, scoring top eight at the ACC Championships. Anything is possible. We're excited about getting the season underway so we can see who is going to have a break out year. It's a very strong class, there are three or four strong guys at the top and we have a lot of depth that follows those gentlemen. The class makes our program much stronger and deeper and will provide us with versatility in the dual meets."

"I think the freshmen are not only going to have a great year, but have a strong impact on our program."

Along with hosting the 2005 Men's and Women's ACC Championships, Georgia Tech will host the 2005 NCAA Zone Diving Championships and the 2006 Men's NCAA Championships.

"I think it's a testament to our administration here and the commitment our coaching staff has to elevating our program," said Baron. "We feel like our facility stacks up with any in the country and it's going to be exciting to host all these prestigious events."

The one area Tech lacks depth heading into the year will be in the backstroke and sprint breaststroke.

"Our backstroke events are one of our weaknesses," said Baron. "We have a great swimmer in Jeremy Raines in the backstroke, but we don't have any substantial depth to back him up. The drop off from our number one and two guys drops off dramatically."

"I think we're pretty solid in the 200 breaststroke with Alex Williams and Ryan Bishop, but I think we're a little weak in the 100 breaststroke. We're pretty strong in the 400 IM with someone like Sam Morgan, Ryan Bishop, Conrad Aach and Jacob Wilson, but we don't have that kind of depth in the 200 IM."

"So there are a couple places that are weak and hopefully some of the freshmen can come in and make those events stronger."

A look at Tech event by event:

SPRINT FREESTYLE

A quartet of juniors will headline the 50 and 100 freestyle events for the Yellow Jackets. Ryan Riebesell, Teemu Kettunen, Howard and Brian Huff made up the 200 and 400 freestyle relay teams last year and will continue to swim together this season.

"Ryan Riebesell was our fastest 50 freestyler last year and was in a great mix of four guys in the 100 free that all made the consolation finals at the conference championship last year. The 8th street relay, as they like to call themselves, will be back for two more seasons."

"Marc Maier will be an addition to the sprint freestyle events. We moved him out of the middle distance events to the sprint events to take advantage of his athleticism. Hopefully, we'll see a much improved 50 and 100 freestyle from Marc."

"We have some people behind those guys that are still developing. Matt McGinley and Jacob Kwasnik have the ability to improve and fight to make our conference team this year. Additionally, Drew Cranford is a freshman with raw talent and we look forward to developing it."

MIDDLE DISTANCE FREESTYLE

Leading the way for Tech in the 200 free will be Figh and Howard. Figh etched his name in the Tech record book in the 200 last year and Howard finished the season No. 4 on the all-time list in the 200.

"We've got some talented athletes in the 200 and 500," said Baron. "Figh and Howard are training partners and exude a tremendous amount of confidence."

The Yellow Jackets are deep in the 500 free. Morgan and Figh posted NCAA 'B' cut times in the 500 last year. Also swimming this event will be Howard. The junior walk-on began swimming the 500 last year and should continue to improve in the upcoming season.

Sam Morgan

The two talented distance freshmen swimmers, Ewald and Miller, will also swim the 500 for the Rambling Wreck.

"The 500 free is very strong," said Baron. "There are five talented athletes that the coaching staff can choose from on a day-to-day basis."

DISTANCE FREESTYLE

Morgan garnered All-America honors in the mile at the NCAA Championships and is a two-time NCAA qualifier in the event.

Accompanying Morgan in the mile will be highly-touted freshmen Ewald and Miller.

"Morgan will be the frontrunner and provide leadership to the two young guys right behind him, Ewald and Miller. This should be another strong event for us.

"Potentially, Matt Figh could swim the mile this year. He has posted some good times in the 1000 free at dual meets in the past and we'll try and see what third event will be his strongest."

"The 200 is a tad bit weaker for us. Alex has been working hard with coach [Stu] Wilson this summer and can become a premier performer for us."

INDIVIDUAL MEDLEY

Showcasing the IM events for Tech will be All-ACC performer Ryan Bishop. Bishop finished third in the 400 IM at the 2004 ACC Championships.

Joining Bishop in the IM will be junior Jacob Wilson, Aach, Morgan, Uras and freshman Jeff Burton.

"We have a lot of depth at the 400 IM, but lack depth in the 200 IM," said Baron. "Bishop, Wilson and Morgan are very talented swimmers. The rest of the group has the potential to be very good, we'll just have to wait and see."

RELAYS

The 200 and 400 freestyle relays return the record-setting '8th street' relay team of Riebesell, Kettunen, Howard and Huff.

"These guys did a great job last year and will be back for the next two years," said Baron.

The 800 freestyle relay has a chance to get back to the top of the conference this year. With the additions of Ewald and Miller, to accommodate the talents of Morgan, Figh, Huff and Maier, it could provide Tech with the spark its needed.

"We have a chance at having the best 800 free relay team we've ever had since I've been here," said Baron. "We finished second at the 2002 ACC meet and the men have taken on the philosophy of getting back to that level."

The medley relays return everyone from last year's group and should improve. Raines, Williams, Kettunen and Riebesell made some big strides last year and should create some ripples at the '05 ACC Championships.

"We have three very strong legs of the medley relays and are searching for the final leg to push us over the top," said Baron. "I think we're very close."

DIVING

Burkhardt returns for his second season after posting top-10

Tony Burkhardt

finishes at the ACC meet on the one- and three-meter springboards.

"Tony had a great season last year," said Baron. "We feel that after a season of working with coach [John] Ames, he will be even better this year."

Bennett, Doblar and Stowers are all talented rookies and should add stability to the boards, which it has lacked over the last four seasons.

"We have four young men that can score some valuable points for us," said Baron. "Tony and Evan are at the top, but Bennett and Doblar are strong divers as well and could push one another throughout the season."

Onur Uras

BUTTERFLY

The 100 and 200 butterfly will be much stronger with the additions of some talented athletes. The leader for Tech in the 100 fly will be returning swimmer Kettunen. Uras swam in the Athens Olympics and is a very talented 100 fly swimmer. Sophomore Mario Montalvo will also swim the 100 and the 200 fly for Tech.

Freshman Jason Bourgeois, Figh, Ewald and Uras will also swim the 200 fly.

"We have a tremendous amount of versatility in the fly this year," said Baron. "We will be able to mix and match in dual meets to find the most talented swimmers for ACC's."

BACKSTROKE

Raines returns for Tech in the 100 and 200 backstroke events. A 2003 ACC champion in the 100 back, Raines posted top-eight finishes at last year's ACC Championships in both the 100 and 200.

"As I said earlier, we lack depth in the backstroke," said Baron. "Conrad Aach and Ryan Bishop helped us out in dual meets last year. We're going to have to find some athletes that can step up for us in the back."

BREASTSTROKE

Sophomore Ryan Bishop and Alex Williams should lead Tech in the breaststroke. Williams held the top time for the season in the 100 breast and Bishop posted the top time in the 200 breast.

"Alex and Ryan have the ability to score at the conference meet," said Baron.

Women's Outlook

Jackets Look to Continue Rise at NCAA and ACC Championships

After three years of existence, the Georgia Tech women's swimming and diving team posted its first NCAA finish, 33rd, and a second straight sixth-place finish at the ACC Championships. With everybody returning for the Yellow Jackets, Tech will use leadership to continue sending ripples throughout the swimming community.

"The one clear cut difference we've seen with our women's program is it has become more established and has solid leadership," said head coach Seth Baron. "We now have a group of ladies that are going into the season that have been with us for four years. I know they fully understand our program, the conference and where they were the first year and where they are now. The leadership they have developed is a huge plus for us heading into this year."

The eight seniors coach Baron refers to are Ann Battle, Jennifer Christenson, Lisa Hancock, Jaclyn Keys, Michelle Maguire, Anna Saum, Jill Vukmanic and Moeko Wallis.

"They cannot receive enough gratitude and recognition from myself and the coaching staff for being the first class and being the ladies that stepped into a brand new program, taking a chance with a new program, and competing at a high level," said Baron.

Sophomore Vesna Stojanovska swam the 200, 400 freestyle and 200 butterfly events at last year's NCAA Championships, scoring seven points with a 10th-place finish in the 200 fly. For her effort, the 2004 Olympian garnered All-America honors, becoming the first women's athlete to accomplish that feat.

"A young program, third year in existence, with an NCAA All-American and scoring at the NCAA Championships sends a signal to prospective student-athletes what we are capable of doing here at Georgia Tech," said Baron. "It also sends a message to the rest of our team that, 'hey, if my teammate can do it, why can't I?' The program is just getting better and better every year."

"Our immediate goals are to get into the Top 25 nationally as quickly as we can, to qualify more athletes for the NCAA Championships and move up at the conference championships. With the added depth and experience, our dual meet record should improve as well."

"I've always told the girls, don't let the youthfulness of the program keep you from succeeding. There is no reason that a four-year program can't have a winning dual meet record, improve at the conference championship and continue to score at the NCAA Championships."

Adding to a very talented group of swimmers are eight newcomers for the Jackets. Its second largest class Tech has had since its inaugural season in 2001-02.

"This freshmen class has a lot of potential," said Baron. "We have a lot of good depth and we believe some of these girls can compete at NCAAs at some point of their careers, if they can in their freshman year, it remains to be seen. What this class does for us is provide depth and stability in our program."

"Ann Battle has done a good job in our distance freestyle events over the last three years, but it has been an area we have lacked depth. We're now adding two very talented young ladies in Elizabeth Stowe and Amanda Gannon, which can help fill a void we've had."

"Our breaststroke has been Laura Heiser all by herself. Last year we added Alison Walker and this year we add Katie McGraw to that mix to make that event deeper and stronger."

"We've added individual medley swimmers in Megan Campbell and Allison Childress to help us with our 200 and 400 IM's. Katie Wright from Macon, Ga., is going to come in and provide us with more depth in the distance freestyle."

"Not to mention two very talented divers in Sara Ballard and Stephanie England."

They both have a chance to elevate the diving program for our women. For the first time since the inception of the program, we have three solid divers. We also have some solid leadership in the diving program with [Laurissa] Prystaj who scored at the ACC Championships."

Another first for the Tech swimming and diving program will be hosting the ACC Championships and NCAA Zone Diving Championships.

"I'm excited for our senior athletes who are going to be able to have the ACC Championships in their home pool," said Baron. "They will be the first group of ladies that will have gone four years through our program and it's a nice reward to have your last ACC meet in front of the home crowd."

"It's an advantage because your team is very familiar with the surroundings. The upperclassmen know what is expected of them and have very realistic goals. I know they will swim really well and improve on last year's performance."

Leadership and depth will be the stability and foundation for success or failure this season. Along with the eight seniors, Tech returns five juniors and six sophomores, coming off a program-best 282 points at the ACC Championships.

"We had a situation last year where we were only 12.5 points away from fifth place," said Baron. "We had some obstacles to overcome, losing Lisa Hancock to surgery and Vesna was deathly ill at the conference meet, getting IV's throughout the competition. With all that, the girls still managed to have a good meet and know that if we stay healthy, it can be even better this year."

"Given that, and the eight new ladies we've added to the program, makes us that much stronger and deeper."

The 2004-05 season will also witness the greatest home schedule in Tech history. The Georgia Tech Aquatic Center will be host to the Georgia Tech Invitational (Nov. 19-21) and six dual meet competitions, along with the ACC Championships (Feb. 16-19, 23-26) and NCAA Zone Diving Championships (March 11-13).

"We have a lot of events at home this year," said Baron. "A lot of people wanted to come to Georgia Tech because we're hosting the ACC Championships, NCAA Zone Diving Championships and the 2006 Men's NCAA Championships. It's nice to be able to compete at home and in comfortable surroundings."

With all of its conference scorers returning and a talented freshman class, Tech does not appear to have many weaknesses heading into the upcoming season.

"I really cannot think of many," said Baron. "The youthfulness of our program is probably the only thing that comes to mind. There will be teams that will probably come in here and say, 'they're only four years old and we should beat them easily', but that will not be the case. We're going to surprise a lot of teams."

A look at Tech event by event:

SPRINT FREESTYLE

Wallis and junior Liz Foster headline the sprint freestyle events for the Jackets. Wallis and Foster broke the school records in the 50 and 100 freestyle events at the ACC Championships.

"Moeko Wallis is a school record holder in the 50 free and Liz is the record holder in the 100 free, so we feel really strong at these two events," said Baron. "Natanya gained a lot of experience in her freshman year and knows what to expect about dual meets and conference. Jaclyn had the best season of her life last year and I think that's going to give her a lot of confidence heading into her senior year."

"Dana West has a chance to be really good in the 100 free. Jennifer Christenson and Meghan DeVinney will also swim the 100 free for us."

MIDDLE DISTANCE FREESTYLE

The middle distance group is one of the deepest events for the Rambling Wreck heading into the season. Leading the way will be Stojanovska, breaking the Tech records in both the 200 and 500 freestyle events.

"Vesna anchors these two events for us, swimming both of them at the NCAA Championships," said Baron.

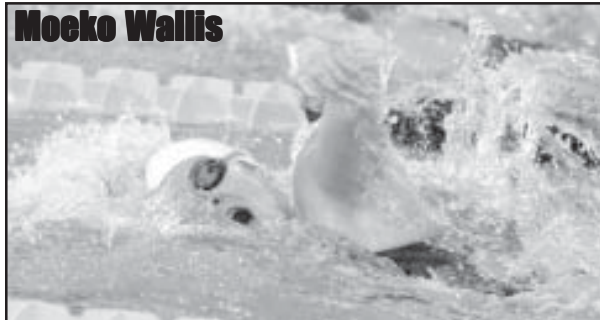

DeVinney, junior Ashley Kracke and sophomores Dana West and Heather Matz will also swim the 200 free for the Yellow Jackets.

Battle finished 22nd in the 500 free and Maguire posted a 23rd-place finish at the ACC Championships. Joining them in the 500 will be Matz.

Freshmen Amanda Gannon and Elizabeth Stowe will swim the 200 and 500 free for Tech this season.

"We have a lot of depth in the 200 and 500 this year and should be much improved this year," said Baron. Ann Battle and Michelle Maguire will also swim the 500 for us."

DISTANCE FREESTYLE

This should be one of the most significant improvements for Tech in 2004-05. Battle set a new school record in the mile at the ACC meet and Maguire finished 20th at the conference championships.

"Ann and Michelle will lead us in the mile," said Baron.

Gannon and Stowe will also see action in the mile for the Yellow Jackets.

"Amanda and Elizabeth give us a much more solid base and beef up the distance events for us."

Stojanovska could swim the 1000 free for Tech in dual meets, along with the four mentioned athletes.

"This year we have some choices in these events, whereas in years past, it's been Ann and Michelle," said Baron.

Laurissa Prystaj

BUTTERFLY

The butterfly events will be deep and very experienced. Stojanovska earned All-America honors in the 200 fly at last year's NCAA Championships and will lead a host of talented athletes in the 200 fly.

The frontrunner for Tech in the 100 fly will be Foster, after breaking the school record at the 2004 ACC meet.

DeVinney returns after carrying the second fastest times in the 100 and 200 fly last year.

"Liz will lead us in the 100 fly and will be pushed by Meghan DeVinney," said Baron. "We also have Natanya Harper, Dana West, Jill Vukmanic and Anna Saum. That's a solid group of girls in the 100 fly."

Freshman Megan Campbell and Gannon will also swim the butterfly for the Yellow Jackets.

BACKSTROKE

Standing out in the 100 backstroke for the Rambling Wreck will be a pair of seniors in Keys and Tech record holder Saum.

Saum earned All-ACC honors at the 2003 ACC meet, while Keys posted a lifetime-best time in the 100 back at the 2004 ACC meet. They both swam in the consolation finals at the conference championships.

Kracke owns the top marks in the 100 and 200 back for the Yellow Jackets and tallied a NCAA 'B' cut time in the 200 back at last year's ACC meet.

"Anna and Ashley have been strong backstrokers for us in the past," said Baron. "I expect them to continue to do very well for us."

Sophomore Amanda Korell had a solid rookie campaign for Tech and will compete in both the 100 and 200 back this season.

West could also see time in the 100 back for the Jackets.

"Amanda made some nice adjustments last year and Dana West improved throughout her freshman season."

BREASTSTROKE

Heiser has been a steady performer for Tech in the 100 and 200 breaststroke events over the last two seasons. Sophomore Alison Walker posted a school record in the 100 breast at the ACC Championships to give Tech a second top-14 finisher at the conference meet.

Freshman Katie McGraw will add strength and versatility to an event that has lacked it over the years.

"I'm really excited about this event for us this year," said Baron. Each year we've added somebody new and this year we should have three strong competitors in the 100 and 200 breast."

INDIVIDUAL

MEDLEY

Tech should be able to mix and match in the IM events this year. Hancock, who lost her junior season due to an injury, should be the leader in the event.

Foster held the top mark in the 200 IM last year and Vukmanic posted a lifetime-best time in the 200 IM at the ACC meet.

Saum and Maguire also return for the Jackets in the IM, along with Matz and Korell.

"We have a good mix of talent here and will have some decisions to make for dual meets to find our best lineup for the conference meet,"

Vesna Stojanovska

said Baron.

RELAYS

The Yellow Jackets broke all the school records in each relay event at the conference meet last year. Keys, Wallis, Harper and DeVinney made up the 200 and 400 freestyle relay teams for Tech.

The 800 free relay team of Stojanovska, Matz, Kracke and DeVinney returns this season.

The record-setting medley relay teams return for another run at the record books this season. With the addition of some talented freshmen and the experience back, Tech should move up at the ACC meet.

"We should continue to improve in the relays," said Baron. "We broke all five records last year at the ACC meet and I think this year will be more of the same."

DIVING

Junior Laurissa Prystaj cracked the top 10 at the ACC meet on both the one- and three-meter diving boards in her sophomore campaign. She will lead two freshmen, Sara Ballard and Stephanie England, in 2004-05.

"We are very solid in diving this year," said Baron. "The two freshmen compliment a very talented upperclassman in Laurissa."

Head Coach Seth Baron

Seth Baron is in his eighth season as the head coach of the Georgia Tech men's swimming and diving team and fourth year as the head coach of Tech's combined men's and women's swimming and diving program. This season will mark the second Tech will compete in the Georgia Tech Aquatic Center, since enclosing it in 2003.

In 2003-04, the Tech combined program reached a first as both the men and women posted NCAA finishes and freshman Vesna Stojanovska became the first Tech woman to earn All-America honors. Tech was one of 23 schools to have both the men's and the women's teams finish in the Top 35 at the NCAA Swimming and Diving Championships.

Stojanovska finished 10th in the 200-meter fly at the 2004 Women's NCAA Swimming and Diving Championships, to garner All-America honors and lead the Rambling Wreck to a 33rd-place finish. The Skopje, Macedonia, native also swam the 200- and 400-meter freestyle events for the Jackets, finishing in a tie for 23rd and 37th, respectively.

Sophomore Sam Morgan qualified for his second straight Men's NCAA Swimming and Diving Championships, posting a 15th-place finish in the 1500-meter freestyle and 44th-place finish in the 400-meter free, earning All-America honors in the 1500m free. The Yellow Jackets finished 35th at the NCAA meet, placing in the Top 35 for the fourth consecutive season.

The men's team placed in the top five for the fifth consecutive year at the ACC Championships, scoring 392 points to finish fifth. The women's team scored a program-best 282 points, finishing 13 points shy of fifth place.

Freshman Ryan Bishop earned All-ACC honors in the 400 individual medley for the Yellow Jackets, tallying a third-place finish at the men's ACC meet. Bishop became the ninth athlete to garner such honors under Baron's direction.

Another first for the Tech combined program happened in the summer of 2004 in Athens, Greece. Current swimmers Stojanovska (Macedonia) and freshman Onur Uras (Turkey) joined former Tech graduates Jorge Oliver (Puerto Rico) and Leo Salinas (Mexico) at the Athens Olympics to become the first Yellow Jackets to compete in the Olympiad Games.

Baron has compiled a 40-40 men's dual-meet record and a 13-20 women's mark during his first seven years on the job. Also during his time in Atlanta, the Yellow Jackets have been listed among the NCAA Division I All-Academic Swim Teams each semester, including an Academic All-American every semester of his tenure.

Under Baron's guidance, six Tech swimmers have earned All-America honors, six different swimmers have qualified for the NCAA Championships and the team has finished in the Top 35 at nationals in four straight seasons. There have been three Tech ACC champions and 13 All-ACC performers, including a school record five at the 2001 meet.

Along with excellence in the pool, Baron has implemented a strong foundation for education that breeds success at Tech. The women's team finished No. 6 in the CSCAA team rankings for grade point average and the men's team finished 20th in the CSCAA final team rankings for academics for the winter/spring semester. The women's team was the only squad to crack the top 10 academically and score points at the NCAA Championships.

A total of 24 Tech swimmers made the ACC Academic Honor Roll team in 2003-04 and three (Matt Figh, Jason Howard and Ashley Kracke) made the CSCAA Academic All-America honorable mention team.

In 2003, Shilo Ayalon earned Verizon Academic All-America honors and was awarded the James Weaver Corrigan Post-Graduate Scholarship, given by the Atlantic Coast Conference for excellence in academics and athletics.

The 2002-03 campaign was another successful one in just the second season of having a combined program. Baron led the women's team to a sixth-place finish at the ACC Championships, two places higher than the previous season. For the men, they finished in the top four for the fourth straight season, scoring 471 points to place fourth overall.

Two Jackets qualified for the NCAA Championships as the men ended in a tie for 28th place. Senior Shilo Ayalon (500 free, 1650 free, 400 IM) earned All-America honors for the third consecutive season, placing fourth in the 1650 free. Freshman Sam Morgan (500 free, 1650 free) became the first Jacket rookie to qualify for NAAs and finished 18th in the 1650 free. Tech tallied 15 points at the national championship.

The 2001-02 season proved to be an impressive debut as a combined program for the Yellow Jackets. The men's squad continued its rise among the nation's elite, as Tech finished a program-best second at the Atlantic Coast Conference Championships with 580.5 points. The men also tied for 27th at the NCAA Championships and were ranked 22nd in the final NSCAA Top 25 Poll, both program bests. Shilo Ayalon earned All-America honors for the second consecutive season with an eighth-place finish in the 1650 free at NAAs. A record five Jackets earned all-conference honors.

The women went 5-6 in the dual meet portion of their schedule and placed eighth at the ACC Championships. Cara DeVanny reached the NCAA Championships in three events, an impressive milestone for a first-year team. Anna Saum became the first All-ACC competitor in women's swimming for Tech.

In 2000-01, the men's team posted 434.50 points to earn a third-place finish at the ACC Championships. Tech also scored its first points at the NCAA Championships, earning 10 points to finish 29th. Baron guided the first pair of All-Americans in Tech history, Ayalon and Tomonori Tsuji. Four swimmers earned All-ACC honors.

Prior to the ACC and NCAA Championship meets, Baron paced the Jackets to an 11-3 dual meet record, tying the school record for dual meet wins in a season. Tech swimmers also established 16 school records in '00-01.

Baron spent the summer of 2001 as the head coach of the U.S. team at the 16th World Maccabiah Games. This international event gave Baron the opportunity to work with the likes of Olympic champion Lenny Krayzelburg.

In 1999-2000, Baron led Tech to a 5-6 dual meet record and its highest point total at the Atlantic Coast Conference Championship with 289 points, matching the best finish in the program's history with a sixth-place showing. Under Baron's direction, the Yellow Jackets set 15 new school records during the season and clocked in with a school-record nine NCAA provisional times. Prior to last season, the most "B" cuts by a Georgia Tech swim team was two, in 1999. Also, for the first time in 11 years, Tech had an All-ACC honoree as David Laitala earned that recognition with his second-place finish in the 100 butterfly.

During the 1998-99 season, Baron led Tech to its first ACC regular season dual-meet victory, which was a 149-82 decision at Duke. That year, the Jackets scored their second-highest point total in the ACC Championship meet with 192.5. The team placed seventh in the conference championship, but closed the gap on sixth-place Maryland by over 100 points. Tech had its first-ever NCAA B-standard achievements by David Laitala and Theral Mackey.

8th season • Auburn (1987)

After heading the U.S. National Team at the Maccabiah Games on two occasions, Baron will once again lead the U.S. at the 17th World Maccabiah Games in July 2005. During the summer of 1997, Baron served as the head coach for the U.S. National Swim Team that competed at the 15th World Maccabiah Games in Tel Aviv, Israel. During the Games, the fourth-largest international competition in the world, the U.S. team picked up an impressive 40 medals (12 gold, 17 silver and 11 bronze). While at Auburn and South Carolina, Baron assisted with the coaching of 15 NCAA All-Americans, 13 Olympic Trial qualifiers and two SEC Champions.

As the head coach for the Charlottesville, Va., YMCA Aquatic Club, Baron saw his team make dramatic improvements, including a fourth-place finish at the 1994 YMCA National Championships. For his efforts, he was nominated for the 1994 National YMCA Coach of the Year and the Virginia Swimming Senior Coach of the Year.

Baron also served as the assistant head coach with the United States National Team at the 14th World Maccabiah Games in 1993.

During the 1986-87 season, Baron served as an undergraduate assistant with the Auburn University swim team. Baron returned to his alma mater in 1991 as a graduate assistant coach.

Early in his career, Baron also coached at his high school alma mater, The Bolles School, in Jacksonville, Fla., with his former coach and mentor Gregg Troy, one of the 1996 and 2000 U.S. Olympic Team coaches.

As a collegiate swimmer at Auburn he garnered All-America honors and was a key member in leading the team to four consecutive top-15 appearances at the NCAA Championships. He served as the team's captain during his senior year and earned a Bachelor of Science degree in marketing in 1987.

Internationally, Baron was a dominant force at the 12th World Maccabiah Games in 1985, as he set records in the 400 medley relay and the 200 individual medley. While in Israel, Baron competed in eight different events and racked up a total of six gold medals and one silver medal. His six gold medals tied a record held by Mark Spitz and Mitch Gaylord for the most medals in a single Maccabiah Games en route to being named Athlete of the Games in 1985.

In the 1983 Pan American Maccabiah Games in Sao Paulo, Brazil, Baron set records in the 100 fly, 100 free and the 200 free on his way to four gold, four silver and two bronze medals.

Baron was a 1984 participant in the 100 butterfly and 200 freestyle in the Olympic Trials for the XXIII Olympiad. Baron also qualified for the 1988 Olympic Trials for the XXIV Olympiad, though he retired from competitive swimming in the summer of 1987.

Along with his coaching responsibilities, Baron serves on the Board of Directors for the Maccabi U.S.A./Sports for Israel, is part of the Executive Committee and Organizing Committee. He also serves on the Advisory Board for the Center for Sport & Jewish Life.

A native of Boca Raton, Fla., he enjoys golf, camping, hiking and biking.

Coaching Staff

John Ames
Diving Coach
4th season
Ohio, '93

John Ames is in his fourth season as diving coach for the Yellow Jacket swimming and diving program.

Under his guidance, former diving standout Paul McCarty became Tech's first All-ACC diver since 1996 with a third-place finish on the one-meter board at the 2002 ACC Men's Swimming and Diving Championships.

Hired in August 2001, Ames came to Tech from George Washington University and the Montgomery Dive Club, one of the largest diving programs in the nation. With Montgomery, Ames served as the team's associate head coach. He coached multiple Junior and Senior National qualifiers, as well as a number of Junior World Championship qualifiers. His duties with the team included selection of team members, designing workouts and coaching and preparing the team for competition.

In his six seasons at George Washington, he guided the Colonials to numerous upper-tier Atlantic 10 Conference finishes, with both the men's and women's teams finishing as high as second. He also coached several NCAA Zone Diving Championships qualifiers.

Prior to his stint with Montgomery and George Washington, Ames served as an assistant coach with the Northern Virginia Dive Club. He also worked as a graduate assistant and diving coach at Western Illinois University.

Ames graduated from Ohio University in 1993 with a bachelor's degree in psychology after completing his collegiate diving career with the Bobcats. He earned a Master of Science degree in sport administration while at Western Illinois.

Shilo Ayalon
Grad. Asst. Coach
2nd season
Georgia Tech, '03

Recipient of the ACC James Weaver Corrigan Post-Graduate Scholarship awarded by the conference for excellence in academics and athletics, Shilo Ayalon enters his second season as graduate assistant coach. Ayalon will assist with on-deck coaching, on-campus recruiting and all other areas of the Tech swimming and diving program.

A three-time All-American and a seven-time All-ACC performer at Georgia Tech, Ayalon set the ACC Championship meet record this past season in the 1650 free with a time 14:47.99, en route to claiming his first ACC crown. Ayalon is the first Yellow Jacket to qualify for three straight NCAA Championships.

Along with his in-pool performance, Ayalon earned Academic all-district honors two consecutive seasons and was a 2003 Verizon Academic All-America selection. He earned CSCAA Academic All-America honors for the second consecutive season a year ago and is a four-time ACC Honor Roll selection.

The Tel-Aviv, Israel native, earned the team's prestigious Fred Lanoue Athletic Achievement Award for the second straight time after the 2003 season. Named after Fred Lanoue, the award is given to the student-athlete who brings the highest recognition to the institution through their outstanding athletic achievements.

Ayalon graduated from Tech with a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering this past spring. He is currently enrolled in Georgia Tech's graduate school working on a master's in electrical engineering. Along with taking classes, Ayalon is a teacher's assistant in the electrical engineering program.

Maria Thrash
Assistant Coach
2nd season
Clemson, '84

Maria Thrash enters her second season as assistant swimming coach at Georgia Tech. Thrash assists with the sprinters, conditioning, recruiting and is the Director of the Tech swimming camps.

During her first season, Thrash led the Tech women to school records in the 50 and 100 freestyle events. Senior Moeko Wallis posted a Tech record time of 23.74 in the 50 free at the ACC Championships, finishing 11th.

Junior Liz Foster tallied a lifetime-best time of 51.49 in the 100 free to break a Tech record and finish fourth at the ACC swim meet.

Thrash has over 36 years experience, coaching and competing, in the sport of swimming. Before coming to Tech, Thrash was Head Senior Coach from 2002-03, responsible for over 275 athletes. Thrash coached one male and one female state record holder and tutored the male high school Swimmer of the Year. The team included six Scholastic All-Americans and two high school All-Americans.

She was Head Age Group Coach from 1988-2002, garnering Georgia Coach of the Year honors in 1997 and 1998. There she was responsible for the development of 240 athletes, recruited fifty new swimmers each year and managed the Roswell facility, including coordination of meets and practices. During her stint, Thrash coached one Head Age Group record holder.

Before Swim Atlanta, Thrash was an assistant coach at the Dynamo Swim Club. There she managed sixty athletes and developed and coordinated the spring stroke clinics with over 150 athletes.

As an athlete, Thrash was a two-time captain at Clemson University where she lettered from 1979-83. She helped the Tigers to a 19-15 dual meet record and an 8-7 mark in the Atlantic Coast Conference. Thrash graduated from Clemson University in May 1984, with a bachelor's degree in administrative management.

Thrash's great uncle, Jesse Thrash, was the first all-conference football player at Tech in 1902. Her grandfather, Kenneth Thrash, M., Sr., played football at Tech from 1926-28 and her father, Kenneth, Jr., played football at Georgia Tech from 1955-56, leading the Rambling Wreck to final rankings of No. 4 (10-1, 1956) and No. 7 (9-1-1, 1955).

Jorge Oliver
Vol. Asst. Coach
2nd season
Georgia Tech, '03

Former Georgia Tech men's swimmer Jorge Oliver enters his second season as a volunteer assistant coach at Tech.

Oliver represented

Puerto Rico in the 2004 Athens Olympics this past summer. The Jacksonville, Fla., native swam the 200 individual medley at the Summer Games.

As an athlete at Tech, Oliver finished his career ranked No. 3 in the 100 butterfly (49.55), fourth in the 100 backstroke (50.51) and 100 freestyle (45.75), sixth in the 200 backstroke (1:50.42) and seventh in the 200 IM (1:53.38).

Oliver graduated from Georgia Tech in December 2003 with a degree in chemical engineering.

Stu Wilson
Assistant Coach
3rd season
Georgia, '89

Stu Wilson enters his third season at Georgia Tech as an assistant coach for men's and women's swimming and diving.

Wilson's duties include on-deck coaching, primarily with the Tech's distance swimmers, as well as recruiting for both the men's and women's teams. In addition, Wilson will assist the head coach with the design of weight and dryland training programs for the team.

Wilson has had two swimmers qualify for the NCAA Swimming and Diving Championships, former Tech standout Shilo Ayalon and junior Sam Morgan. Ayalon was a three-time All-American athlete, twice under Wilson and Morgan garnered All-America honors for the first time in his career at last year's NCAA swim meet. Morgan finished 15th in the 1500-meter freestyle.

Prior to joining the Yellow Jacket staff, Wilson worked with the club team Swim Atlanta from 1990-2001. Wilson served as the team's Head Senior Coach since 1998. In this position, he planned and implemented strength and conditioning programs for swimmers age 13 and over. He also handled administrative duties, including fundraising, travel arrangements, compiling a newsletter and keeping track of all team records. He worked as a head age group coach with Swim Atlanta from 1990-98.

Wilson coached several successful swimmers at Swim Atlanta, including U.S. Olympian Amanda Weir, who set national age-group records (11-12 and 13-14) in the 50 free. Weir captured the Gold medal at the Pan Am Games in 2003 as the leadoff swimmer of the U.S. 4x100 free relay team and won a Silver medal with the American Olympic team in Athens on the same relay.

Additionally, he mentored swimmers that posted over 50 national top-16 age-group performances.

As a collegiate athlete, Wilson competed at the University of Georgia from 1984-88, reaching the finals of the SEC Championships in the 200 and 500 freestyle events in each of his last three seasons. Wilson was a NCAA qualifier in the 400 free relay and held the Bulldog record in the 200 free at one time. Wilson also qualified for U.S. Nationals in his final six seasons of competitive swimming.

Wilson graduated from Georgia with a Bachelor of Arts in Economics in 1989.

Support Staff

Bobby Robinson
Senior Associate
Athletic Director
Furman, '68

Bobby Robinson enters his second year at Georgia Tech as Associate Director of Athletics.

Robinson oversees facilities and game operations.

Robinson spent 17 years as Clemson's Director of Athletics, serving from 1985 until stepping down on June 30, 2002.

During his time at Director of Athletics, the Tigers won 56 Atlantic Coast Conference team titles as well as the 1987 NCAA championship in men's soccer, and Clemson student-athletes captured 24 individual national titles and over 400 All-America citations. The Clemson football team went to a bowl game in 14 of his 17 years, and the men's basketball program advanced to postseason play 12 of 17 years.

Over his career, 16 of the 19 Tiger sports programs had at least one final top 10 national ranking, and Clemson finished in the top 30 of the national all-sports rankings in nine of Robinson's 17 years.

Tiger student-athletes also made great strides academically during Robinson's tenure, thanks in large part to the construction of Vickery Hall, Clemson's student-athlete enrichment center. In addition to that facility, Robinson also launched an $82 million fundraising project to enhance all of Clemson's athletics facilities, including Clemson Memorial Stadium and Littlejohn Coliseum.

Robinson first went to Clemson in 1970, working in the housing office until moving to the athletics department three years later. After serving the athletics department in various capacities, he was named business manager in 1975. He was promoted to assistant athletic director in 1977 and then associate athletic director in 1980. He served in that capacity until being named Director of Athletics in March of 1985.

Along with his administrative duties, Robinson served as Clemson's golf coach from 1974-83, guiding the Tigers to one ACC title and three NCAA Tournament appearances.

A native of Columbia, S.C., Robinson was honored by the State of South Carolina with the Order of the Palmetto, the highest honor a resident of the state can receive, and in 2002, he was inducted into the Clemson Hall of Fame.

Robinson earned a bachelor of arts degree in business and political science from Furman in 1968.

Janet Taylor
Trainer
2nd season
N. Carolina, '03

Janet Taylor enters her second season as trainer of the swimming and diving program.

Taylor is in her second year of graduate school at Georgia State in the Sports Medicine program. She will graduate with her Master's degree in May 2005.

Prior to Tech, Taylor attended the University of North Carolina, where she earned a degree in Exercise and Sports Science, with a concentration in athletic training.

While at UNC, Taylor worked with football, women's basketball, baseball, men's J.V. and varsity basketball and women's lacrosse.

This summer, Taylor assisted with the Tech men's basketball and volleyball camps.

Scott MacDonald
Assistant Director
of Sports Informa- tion
St. Andrews, '99

Scott MacDonald enters his second year as Assistant Sports Information Director at Georgia Tech. MacDonald serves as the primary contact for softball, men's and women's swimming and diving and men's and women's track and field.

Before coming to Tech, MacDonald served as an intern at the University of North Carolina in 2002-03. At Carolina, he was the primary contact for men's and women's cross country, softball and wrestling.

Prior to Carolina, MacDonald was a graduate assistant at Oakland University in the sports information office from 1999-2002. There he worked with men's and women's basketball, baseball, women's soccer, softball and swimming and diving, along with serving as a part-time pitching coach for the baseball team. MacDonald graduated from Oakland with a Master's degree in Public Administration in '02.

As a collegiate athlete, MacDonald was a four-year letterwinner in baseball at Henry Ford C.C. (1994-96) and St. Andrews Presbyterian College (1996-98). He earned all-region and all-conference honors at Henry Ford after going 8-3 in 1996, leading the Hawks to two straight conference titles and a regional final in 1996, eventually falling to national champion Grand Rapids C.C.

At St. Andrews, MacDonald finished 16-8 and ranked nationally in strikeouts and ERA.

The Bloomfield Hills, Mich., native, also lettered in golf for two seasons at St. Andrews (1998-99). He graduated from SAPC in 1999 with a degree in physical education and sport.

Eddie Lee Ivery
Strength Coach
Georgia Tech, '92

Eddie Lee Ivery is in his fourth season as strength coach at Georgia Tech. Ivery primarily works with swimming and diving and men's tennis.

nis.

Ivery was a four-year letterwinner for the Tech football team from 1974-78. He continues to hold the record for most rushing yards in a game (356) and season (1,562) and earned All-America honors in 1978. He currently stands third on the all-time rushing list at Tech and was a first round draft pick (15th overall) by the Green Bay Packers in 1979, playing 10 seasons in the NFL.

Ivery returned to Tech and received his degree in 1992.

Ivery's son, Eddie Jr., is currently a wide receiver on the Yellow Jacket football team.

Robert Smith
Academic Advisor
Edinburgh, '98

Robert Smith enters his third year as academic advisor for the men's and women's swimming and diving teams. Additionally, Smith works with baseball and softball.

Smith attended the University of Edinburgh in Scotland and graduated in 1996. He went on to receive a Master's degree in American History at the University of Georgia in 1998. Smith is currently working on his PhD in History at Georgia.

Smith, and his wife Carolanne, reside in Atlanta.

Leah Moore
Thomas
Sports
Nutritionist
UTC, '99

Leah Moore Thomas enters her second year at Georgia Tech as the sports dietitian/

nutritionist.

Thomas works with all the Tech athletes, developing eating plans designed for optimal performance and health.

Before Tech, Thomas earned a Master's degree from Georgia State in exercise science in 2003. She performed an internship in the Dietetic program at GSU.

Prior to Georgia State, Thomas attended Tennessee-Chattanooga, where she earned a B.S. degree in nutrition in 1999. While attending UTC, Thomas ran cross country and track for the Mocs from 1996-99. She helped lead the team to three conference championships and earned Academic Female Athlete of the Year honors as a senior.

In 2004, Thomas became a U.S. Olympic Trials Marathon qualifier.

Along with her duties at Tech, Thomas writes a monthly nutrition column to the "Wingfoot", an Atlanta Track Club publication and "Net News", an Atlanta Lawn Tennis Association (ALTA) publication. She also authored a chapter on Weight Management for the 4th edition of Sports Nutrition: A Guide for the Professional Working with Active People, published by the Sports, Cardiovascular and Wellness Nutritionists Dietetic Practice Group of the American Dietetic Association.

Dr. G. Wayne Clough President

The chief engineer of Georgia Tech's determined effort to provide technological leadership in a changing world is Dr. G. Wayne Clough, the Institute's tenth president and the first alumnus to serve in that capacity.

His leadership has made undergraduate education more dynamic. He implemented a required computer initiative for all students, and oversaw the revision of the curriculum to include web-based enhancements. The next step was a broad initiative to engage students more fully with faculty in the classroom and research lab, and to create more student leadership opportunities. The positive impact is reflected in higher quality students and higher retention rates.

Sponsored research has also increased every year since Clough became president. Research expenditures are now exceed $370 million as Tech moves into exciting interdisciplinary fields like bioengineering, sustainable technology, and nanoscience.

Clough's skills as a civil engineer are evident in reshaping the campus to meet the needs of Tech's world-class programs and students. He has overseen the construction of more than a dozen academic and research buildings, with several more on the drawing board. The campus is fully wired with 1,700 miles of fiber-optic cable and offers a comprehensive wireless environment as well.

To provide the additional resources required to reach this goal, Clough engineered the Campaign for Georgia Tech, which raised a record $712 million in five years for 54 endowed faculty chairs, 233 endowed scholarships, eleven new buildings, and a host of academic, research and athletic programs.

Beyond campus, he gives Georgia Tech a face and voice in Washington, D.C., as a member of the President's Council of Advisors on Science and Technology and the executive committee of the U.S. Council on Competitiveness, and as chair of the National Academy of Engineering committee on the Engineer of 2020.

Since September, 2001, he has represented the Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) on the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division I Board of Directors.

A native of Douglas, Georgia, Clough received his bachelor's and master's degrees in civil engineering from Georgia Tech in 1964 and 1965. He earned a Ph.D. in civil engineering from the University of California, Berkeley in 1969.

He was provost and vice president for academic affairs at the University of Washington in Seattle when he answered the call to return to his alma mater as president in September of 1994. Prior to that, he had spent a decade at Virginia Tech as head of the Department of Civil Engineering, then as Dean of the College of Engineering. He also served on the faculties of Duke and Stanford universities.

A specialist in geotechnical and earthquake engineering, he is the author of more than 120 papers and reports, six book chapters, and several widely used geotechnical computer codes. He is presently a consultant to the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit System for ongoing major seismic retrofitting. His other interests include technology and higher education policy, economic development, diversity in higher education, and technology in a global setting.

Closer to home, he serves on the Board of Advisors for Noro-Moseley Partners, the Southeast's largest venture capital fund, and on the Board of Directors of Total System Services of Columbus, Ga. He is a member of the executive committees for the Metro Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and Central Atlanta Progress, and a trustee of the Georgia Research Alliance. Georgia Trend magazine has included Clough on its list of the 100 most influential Georgians for the last seven years.

Among his many national awards for teaching and research, Clough holds eight from the American Society of Civil Engineers and is one of a select few to have been twice awarded the Norman Medal, civil engineering's oldest honor. In 2001 he received the National Engineering Award from the American Association of Engineering Societies. He has been a member of the National Academy of Engineering for more than a decade.

Wayne and Anne Robinson Clough have been married for more than 30 years and have two grown children.

Dave Braine Director of Athletics

As he enters his eighth year at Georgia Tech, Director of Athletics Dave Braine has overseen tremendous growth in the Yellow Jackets' overall athletics program while positioning Georgia Tech for the future with ambitious building projects.

Georgia Tech's overall athletics program has enjoyed unprecedented success during Braine's tenure, and the 2003-04 school year proved to be the most successful campaign in Tech history. Yellow Jacket teams combined for a school-record 31st place finish in the annual NACDA Director's Cup standings, which ranks the overall success of athletics programs based on NCAA finishes in each sport. Tech's No. 31 finish shatters its previous high of 45th place in 1994.

Highlighting the 2003-04 year was the remarkable performance by the Rambling Wreck basketball team, which advanced to the NCAA Championship game. Tech's women's volleyball and track and field programs also enjoyed watershed years, with the volleyball team reaching the NCAA Elite Eight, and the track team winning two national titles and placing 15th at the NCAA Outdoor Championships.

Fifteen of Tech's 17 sports programs reached postseason play in 2003-04. In fact, Georgia Tech was the only school in the nation to win a football bowl game as well as NCAA Regionals in men's basketball and baseball, and one of only three programs to win a bowl game and at least one game in the NCAA basketball and baseball tournaments. Tech boasts 25 Academic All-America honorees in the last seven years, including three in 2003-04, while the football team placed a school-record eight student-athletes on the 2003 ACC All-Academic team.

The addition of women's swimming and diving in 2001-02 is further evidence of Georgia Tech's commitment to women's athletics under Braine. In U.S. News & World Report's inaugural ranking of collegiate athletics programs in 2002, Tech was rated number two in the nation in gender equity.

Braine currently serves on the NCAA Division I Football Issues Committee, and he previously served a two-year appointment as chairman of the NCAA Special Events Committee in 1995-96.

Winning records and all-star honors, however, are just part of the Braine athletics program. Just as he did earlier as director of athletics at Marshall and Virginia Tech, he emphasizes much more, especially the Total Person Concept, a comprehensive support program that stresses academics and life skills. Through the Total Person Program, Tech student-athletes benefit from a number of enrichment programs ranging from life skills and career planning to wellness and community outreach. Braine is also proud that Georgia Tech was named the recipient of the first-ever Atlantic Coast Conference Sportsmanship School of the Year Award in 2004.

Hired by President Dr. G. Wayne Clough, Braine was named Georgia Tech's director of athletics on June 3, 1997, succeeding Dr. Homer Rice, who retired after serving as AD from 1980 until 1997.

Now in his 21st year as an athletics director, Braine was AD at Marshall from 1985 through 1987. He moved to Virginia Tech and made a name for himself in a 10-year tenure in which he helped change the face of Hokie athletics. It was under Braine's leadership that Virginia Tech gained membership in the Big East Football Conference, which proved to be a stepping stone to full membership in the league. Braine originally came to Georgia Tech in 1974 as defensive secondary coach on the football staff of Pepper Rodgers and served in that capacity for two years.

A native of Grove City, Pa., Braine earned his bachelor's degree (1965) as well as a master's of arts and teaching (1966) at the University of North Carolina, where he was a three-time football letterman.

After teaching and coaching at Manatee High School in Bradenton, Fla., he joined the Virginia Military Institute football staff as a freshman coach in the spring of 1967. Later he coached at Richmond from 1971-73 before his stint at Tech. Braine moved to Virginia as administrative assistant and secondary coach in 1976. In 1978, he became assistant athletic director at Virginia. He took a similar position at Fresno State in 1983 and was promoted to associate athletic director in 1984. From there moved on to become the athletics director at Marshall in 1985.

Braine, 61, received a high honor in 1993 when he was inducted into the Mercer County Hall of Fame in the area where his hometown is located. The Tech AD has four children and seven grandchildren.

2003-04 Review

Jackets Step Forward in Combined Program

Georgia Tech made tremendous strides in its third season as a combined swimming and diving program. The Yellow Jackets scored points at both the Men's and Women's NCAA Championships, finishing in 33rd-place on the women's side and in a tie for 35th on the men's side. The Jackets cracked the Top 35 for the fourth straight season at the men's NCAA meet, while the women placed for the first time in program history.

Sophomore Sam Morgan made his second straight appearance at the NCAA Championships. The Gainesville, Ga., native finished 15th in the 1500-meter freestyle with a time of 15:15.00, earning All-America honors for the first time in his career.

Freshman standout Vesna Stojanovska qualified for the Women's NCAA Championships with NCAA 'B' cut times in the 200, 500 freestyle and 200 butterfly events. The Skopje, Macedonia, native posted a 10th-place finish in the 200-meter fly to become the first women's swimmer to earn All-America honors.

MEN'S SWIMMING AND DIVING

The men's swimming and diving team finished in the Top 35 at the NCAA Championships for the fourth consecutive season. The Yellow Jackets had an All-American at the meet for the fourth straight year.

The Rambling Wreck finished fifth at the Atlantic Coast Conference Championships, tallying 392 points.

- Ryan Bishop finished 39th in the 200 IM at U.S. Olympic Trials
- Matt Figh tallied a 12th-place finish in the 200 fly at 2004 ConocoPhillip National Championships

WOMEN'S SWIMMING AND DIVING

Tech placed at nationals for the first time in school history.

Stojanovska became the first women's swimmer to earn All-America honors and just the second to compete at the NCAA swim meet.

The Yellow Jackets finished sixth at the ACC Championships, tallying 282 points. That point total set a program best at the ACC meet and finished 13 points shy of fifth place.

Tech broke 13 school records over the course of the season, including all five relay events at the ACC meet.

The Jackets finished the season with a 4-7, 1-4 ACC dual meet record.

The Atlantic Coast Conference

The Tradition

Now in its 52nd year of competition, the Atlantic Coast Conference has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 91 national championships, including 47 in women's competition and 44 in men's. In addition, NCAA individual titles have gone to ACC student-athletes 116 times in men's competition and 57 times in women's action.

2003-04 in Review

The 2003-04 academic year concluded with the league pocketing three more national team titles and six individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 48 national team titles over the last 14 years.

The ACC's 2003-04 national champions were Wake Forest in field hockey, North Carolina in women's soccer and Virginia in women's lacrosse. Overall, 66 ACC teams took part in postseason play compiling a 101-66-4 (.596) record.

A total of 169 student-athletes from the ACC earned first, second or third-team All-America honors this past year. In addition, the ACC produced nine national Players of the Year, two national Rookies of the Year and three national Coaches of the Year recipients.

The ACC placed at least one team in the top 10 nationally in 17 sports. In all, 31 ACC teams finished their season with a top 10 ranking.

The Championships

The conference will conduct

Georgia Tech was named the recipient of the first-ever Atlantic Coast Conference Sportsmanship School of the Year Award.

The Yellow Jackets won sportsmanship awards in 2004 in women's indoor track and field, women's tennis and men's and women's outdoor track and field.

The concept of the sportsmanship awards was created by the ACC Student-Athlete Advisory Committee to recognize teams who earned the utmost regard from their peers during competition.

Championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing.

A History

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members - Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest - drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of bylaws was adopted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Suggestions from fans for the name of the new conference appeared in the region's newspapers prior to the meeting in Raleigh. Some of the names suggested were: Dixie, Mid South, Mid Atlantic, East Coast, Seaboard, Colonial, Tobacco, Blue-Gray, Piedmont, Southern Seven and the Shoreline.

Duke's Eddie Cameron recommended that the name of the conference be the Atlantic Coast Conference, and the motion was passed unanimously. The meeting concluded with each member institution assessed $200.00 to pay for conference expenses.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia as the league's eighth member. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The ACC operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when the Georgia Institute of Technology was admitted. The Atlanta school had withdrawn from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State University.

The conference expanded to 11 members on July 1, 2004, with the addition of the University of Miami and Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University. On October 17, 2003, Boston College accepted an invitation to become the league's 12th member starting with the 2005-06 academic year.

The Ramblin' Wreck Fight Song

"I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech,
and a hell of an engineer.

A helluva, helluva, helluva, helluva, hell of an engineer.
Like all the jolly good fellows, I drink my whiskey clear.
I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech,
and a hell of an engineer.

Oh, if I had a daughter, sir, I'd dress her in white and gold.
And put her on the campus to cheer the brave and bold.
But, if I had a son, sir, I'll tell you what he'd do.
He would yell "To Hell with Georgia" like his daddy used to do.

Oh, I wish I had a barrel of rum and sugar three thousand pounds.
A college bell to put it in and a clapper to stir it around.
I'd drink to all good fellows who come from far and near.
I'm a ramblin', gambler, hell of an engineer."

The Yellow Jacket Marching Band
The Yellow Jacket Marching Band (above) performs at halftime of every Georgia Tech home football game and a smaller "Pep Squad" is in attendance at every home women's basketball game.

Buzz

The Yellow Jacket nickname and mascot are two of the most beloved trademarks of Georgia Tech athletic teams. The origin is unknown, but one thing is clear, the nickname did not grow out of the familiar six-legged insect, but that the mascot, known as "Buzz", grew out of the nickname.

"I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech..."

It was Sept. 30, 1961. The opponent was Rice University for the home opener. For the first time, the official Ramblin' Wreck car was unveiled to 43,501 fans at Grant Field, leading the Georgia Tech football team onto the field. It has happened at every home game since. The event did not establish a new tradition, but it cemented one. The restored 1930 Model A Ford Sport Coupe was Tech's first official Ramblin' Wreck, and it was an instant success.

TECH TRADITIONS

Homecoming Displays

Each year during Homecoming Week, campus fraternities and sororities spend hours designing and building murals which are displayed in front of their houses for judging.

The Swarm

Made up entirely of Georgia Tech students, "The Swarm" can be found in their bright yellow t-shirts in prime seating locations at every home football, volleyball and men's basketball game.

Tech Tower

One of the most popular pranks for Tech students to accomplish is the stealing of the "T", which sits upon the side of the Tech Tower on campus.

George P. Burdell

In 1927, a mythical student named George P. Burdell appeared on class rosters, registration forms and grade reports. He has since become one of Tech's most notable students.

Burdell was the creation of Ed Smith, who actually turned in separate exams for him, convincing professors that Burdell was a student in good standing. Burdell received a bachelor's and later a master's degree from Tech. Since Smith's graduation, students have kept George P. Burdell alive at Tech, including the Georgia Tech band (right) who has him paged at every away football game during the season.

The Whistle

Heard throughout Tech's campus five minutes before the hour from 6:55 a.m. until 5:55 p.m., the blowing of the campus whistle signifies the beginning and end of each class period.

Mini 500

On the evening prior to the Homecoming football game, various student organizations compete in the "Mini 500". In the four-person relay race, students must complete a lap around Peters Parking Deck using only one leg to push themselves on their team's homemade tricycle.

Coaching History

EARLY YEARS

Georgia Tech first fielded a swim team in 1918-19, when the first tryout was held at the city Y.M.C.A. and about 60 men came out. According to the Blueprint, the fledgling squad featured "some of the fastest water splashers that the South has ever turned out and one that would make any Eastern college hustle to beat." The team was captained by G.R. Fraser, described as the best swimmer in the South and holder of the Southern record in both the 220-yard swim and the 50-yard swim.

Tech's first swim meet was on the road against the Clemson Tigers. In addition to Fraser, the first Tech team included Weiss, Scott, Carson, Evans and Owens, who returned with a 50 to 19 victory. Fraser swam the 220 yards in 2:50.00, cutting four seconds off his own Southern record.

The program enjoyed success against Southern competition throughout the 1920s. In 1927, Tech defeated all Southern opposition and made a good showing against two strong eastern teams. The Jackets broke into prominence by forcing the famous Brooklyn Y team to the limit, but fell 46 to 16. Two days later, Yale handed the Jackets the short end of a 46 to 16 score.

In 2003-04, the Yellow Jackets gave birth to a brand new renovated Georgia Tech Aquatic Center. Tech opened the enclosed Olympic pool by hosting NC State on Oct. 25, 2003. With the home fans cheering them on, the Rambling Wreck swam past the visiting Wolpack, 132-107 (men) and 152-91 (women).

EARLY CHAMPIONS

The Yellow Jacket tankmen, despite the lack of an on-campus facility, won 10-straight unofficial Southern championships from 1926-35.

In 1927, Dave Young tied the national intercollegiate record in the 150-yard backstroke in 1:43.20. Representing Tech in the national intercollegiate, Young set a new record of 1:46.10 seconds and in the finals established a new record of 1:44.00, finishing four seconds ahead of Spindle of Michigan to win Tech's only national championship in swimming. He also earned All-America honors with a second-place finish in the 220-yard free style.

KENNETH THRASH, SR. (1932-35)

After playing football at Tech, Kenneth Thrash, Sr., took over the swimming reigns and led the Jackets to four straight Southern Conference Championships from 1932-35.

Almost as impressive as five consecutive conference titles, Thrash only tasted defeat once in dual meets, finishing with an astonishing record of 24-1. His winning percentage of .960 is the best all-time in school history.

As a former football player for the Rambling Wreck (1926-28), Thrash helped the Yellow Jackets win two conference titles (1927-28) and a national championship in 1928.

FRED LANOUE (1936-64)

The first known coach of the Yellow Jacket swim program was Raymond Eaton in 1930-31. Kenneth Thrash guided the program for four seasons from 1933-35, giving way to Professor Hartzell in 1936.

Fred Lanoue, a graduate of Springfield College and former New England diving champion, began working with the Tech swimmers in 1936 and became the Yellow Jackets' full-time head coach in 1938 when the Tech pool was completed.

Under Lanoue's guidance, Tech won four Southeastern Conference championships in nine years, the first in 1942 and then three in a row in 1948, 1949 and 1950. Lanoue coached the Jackets for 27 years, stepping down after the 1964 season.

HERB MCAULEY (1965-87)

The star of the 1942 SEC championship squad was Herb McAuley, who won the SEC 220 and 440 freestyle championships that year. McAuley had his schooling interrupted by World War II, serving in the Army Signal Corps before graduating from Tech with a degree in electrical engineering in 1947. Upon graduation he joined the Yellow Jacket staff as assistant coach under Lanoue, a position he held for 17 years.

McAuley succeeded Lanoue as head coach for the 1965 season. He coached the Jackets for 23 seasons, compiling a record of 169-144-1. He was inducted into the Georgia Tech Hall of Fame in 1982. Under McAuley, Tech competed in its first ACC Championships meet in 1980. The program took a one-year hiatus upon McAuley's retirement in 1987, which signaled the end of a 40-year stint on the Tech coaching staff.

BRAD LEHMAN (1989-91)

The swimming program resumed under Brad Lehman in 1988-89. In Lehman's first year, senior Tim Halligan earned All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors following his second-place finish in the 200 butterfly. Halligan qualified for the NCAA Championships in the event, finishing 21st.

Lehman coached the team for three seasons, amassing an overall record of 19-13.

BILL HUMBER (1992-97)

Bill Humber took over the Tech program in 1991-92. In 1993, he guided the Jackets to their then-best showing at the ACC Championships with a sixth-place finish and a then school-record point total of 198.

In 1994, diver Brandon Lumm won the first ACC championship in the program's history with his victory in the three-meter event. He earned All-ACC recognition that year and qualified for Bill Humber tallied a dual meet record of 38-45 during his six-year tenure at Georgia Tech.

Coaching History

Seth Baron led the men's team to a fourth straight Top 35 NCAA finish and the women to a 33rd-place finish in 2004.

the NCAA Zone Diving Championships three-straight years from 1994-96.

SETH BARON (1998-PRESENT)

In August 1997, Tech hired Seth Baron to take the helm of the men's swimming and diving program. The Jackets' women's program debuted in 2001-02, and Baron now pilots the combined program. Baron, formerly an assistant coach at South Carolina and Auburn, also previously worked with the U.S. National Swim Team and was the head coach for the U.S. squad at the 1997 and 2001 World Maccabiah Games in Tel Aviv, Israel.

Under Baron's direction, the Tech men have finished in the top five at the ACC Championships in each of the last five years, including a fifth-place finish this past season. Tech finished in a tie for 35th place at the 2004 NCAA Championships, cracking the Top 35 in four consecutive seasons, the first time in program history.

In just three seasons of existence, the women's program tallied a 33rd-place finish at the 2004 NCAA Championships and crowned its first All-American in freshman Vesna Stojanovska. The Jackets posted their second straight sixth-place finish at the ACC meet, scoring a program-best 289 points.

After becoming the first freshman to compete at the NCAA meet, sophomore Sam Morgan qualified for a second straight NCAA Championships in 2004 and became the fourth All-American at Tech, finishing 15th in the 1500-meter freestyle.

Stojanovska finished 10th in the 200-meter butterfly to garner All-American honors on the women's side.

Current graduate assistant coach Shilo Ayalon was a three-time All-American for the Yellow Jackets. He holds the ACC meet record in the 1650 free and won his first and only ACC title in the mile at the 2003 ACC Championships.

Along with collegiate accomplishments, the Tech combined program witnessed its first two Olympians in 2004 as Stojanovska (Macedonia) and incoming freshman Onur Uras (Turkey) competed at the Summer Olympics in Athens, Greece.

Joining them in Athens were former men's swimming standouts Leo Salinas (Mexico) and volunteer assistant coach Jorge Oliver (Puerto Rico).

Tech recorded its most successful season to date in 2001-02. Tech's men tallied 580.5 points to finish a program-best second at the ACC Championships, as a record five Jackets earned All-ACC honors. Tech also placed 27th at the NCAA Championships, led by Shilo Ayalon's eighth-place finish in the 1650 free. He earned All-America accolades for the second consecutive season.

In 2000-01, the Yellow Jackets placed third at the ACC Championships, scoring 434.50 points. Four swimmers earned All-ACC accolades: Ayalon, David Laitala, Scott Lenyk and Tomonori Tsuji.

Tech also scored its first points in NCAA competition in 2001. Ayalon placed 11th in the 1650 free, while Tsuji finished 13th in the 200 breast to become the program's first All-Americans.

The Jackets went 11-3 in dual-meet competition, and 16 school records were established, led by Ayalon's four marks.

In 2000, Baron and the Yellow Jackets finished the regular season with a 5-6 dual-meet record. Laitala became the first Yellow Jacket swimmer in 11 years to earn All-ACC recognition, placing second in the 100 butterfly at the ACC Championships.

In his first season at Tech, Baron guided the team to a 4-7 dual-meet record and a seventh-place finish in the Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

As an athlete, Baron also competed for the U.S. National Team, winning 10 gold medals in international competitions, including the 1985 World Maccabiah Games and the 1983 Pan Am Maccabiah Games in Sao Paulo, Brazil. He participated in the U.S. Olympic Trials in 1984 and qualified for the 1988 Trials.

Hall of Fame

AquaJackets

The Georgia Tech AquaJackets Booster Club has been created to increase the awareness and interest in Georgia Tech Swimming and Diving. The AquaJackets Booster Club also provides a forum for those people who may want to be a little more involved than the average fan.

This season, the Georgia Tech swimming & diving team began a capital campaign to raise funds to furnish the newly-renovated Georgia Tech Aquatic Center, team locker rooms, team lounge and team computer lab.

This was made possible through a generous gift from:
THE DASH FAMILY FOUNDATION

Additional gifts were provided by:

Russ and Sian Ashenden (1987)	Bryan Graves (1994)
Dave Barrales (1972)	R. Page Griffin (1950)
Alan Bomar (1984)	David Hoadley (1976)
William Brock (1947)	Irv Hoffman (1960)
David Codelli (1991)	G. Paul Jones, Jr. (1952)
Gordon Coleman (1948)	Alfred Martin (1979)
Mario DeLaGuardia (1953)	Craig McGahey (1977)
Barry Folsom (1970)	Gus Ramirez (1968)
Larry Garner (1963)	Jack Rogers (1957)
	A. Chester Skinner (1943)

Swimmers & Divers in the Georgia Tech Hall of Fame

Georgia Tech Aquatic Center

The home of the Yellow Jacket swimming and diving program is the Georgia Tech Aquatic Center, located on the west side of campus as the foundation of the Campus Recreation Center (CRC).

The facility was the site of all swimming, diving and synchronized swimming competition as well as the swimming portion of the modern pentathlon during the Centennial Olympic Games in the summer of 1996.

The Jackets opened the newly-enclosed GTAA in 2003-04, as they hosted NC State on Oct. 25, 2003. In 2004-05, Tech will welcome the 2005 Men's and Women's ACC Championships, along with hosting the 2005 NCAA Zone Diving Championships. In addition to those events, the Aquatic Center will host the 2006 Men's NCAA Championships.

The GTAA provides the Yellow Jackets with a world-class venue for aquatic sports and serves as an important element of the physical legacy of the Games, enhancing the activities Georgia Tech can offer its students for years to come.

The 2,000-seat main stadium contains a competition pool and dive pool.

The competition pool is 50 meters by 10 lanes, with two movable bulkheads so that courses can be set up for 25 yards, 25 meters or 30 meters for water polo. It also features a movable floor which can be set from zero depth to seven feet, eight inches.

The dive pool features one- and three-meter springboards plus one-, three-, five-, seven and a half- and 10-meter platforms, as well as a Spargar system that sends a mass of bubbles from the bottom of the tank to ease entry into the water.

During the Games, the Aquatic Center also included a temporary water polo pool with a seating capacity of 4,000. It was used for all competition except the finals, which were held in the main pool.

The original $21 million facility was funded entirely by the Atlanta Committee for the Olympic Games (ACOG). Construction on the facility began in July 1994 and was completed in time to host the VIIIth Synchronized Swimming World Cup in August 1995. The newly-renovated enclosure of the GTAC is part of an over $45 million expansion to the CRC.

Other test events held at the facility included the NationsBank Pan Pacific Swimming Championships, the IXth Diving World Cup and the IXth Water Polo World Cup.

Georgia Tech continues to reap the benefits of a world-class aquatic facility for use by the Rambling Wreck swimming and diving program as well as the student body. Tech held its first meet in the aquatic center on Oct. 5, 1995, hosting Emory.

"We are very excited about our new facility," said swimming & diving head coach Seth Baron. "Not only will our program benefit from this project, but more importantly all of the Georgia Tech students will benefit from a newly-renovated and expanded recreational center.

"There is full ventilation of the facility, including humidity control and air conditioning. We have indirect natural sunlight coming through high glass windows on one side.

"The project includes men's and women's locker rooms, each containing 35 double-width lockers, with a team meeting room situated between the two. In the back, there is a glass-enclosed area with an office and a storage facility for equipment.

"The Aquatic Center office is a secondary office, in addition to the one we have in the Athletic Association. It includes, two desks with computers, so the student-athletes would have access to the Internet, email, word processing and an additional area to do classwork and studying.

"For the divers, we've added a permanent hot tub for practice and competition.

"Now that the project is completed, we can host everything from the ACC Championships to the NCAA Championships, Junior and Senior Nationals and U.S. Open. A lot of major competitions will be held here, bringing exposure to Georgia Tech as well as the Georgia Tech Swimming & Diving program."

Some of the non-college events that the Aquatic Center will host in the next two years will be the Georgia Senior State Swimming Championships (Dec. 2004) and the U.S.A Southeast Sectional Championships (July 2005).
