Dear Zefang Liu,

The IAEA can give you permission to reproduce Figure 1.3.2-1, Table 4.3.1-1, Table 4.3.2-1, Figure 4.3.3-1, Table 4.4.2-1 from ITER EDA Documentation Series No. 24, to the extent and for the purposes detailed in your email. Kindly note that the IAEA retains the copyright.

We kindly ask you to clearly indicate that you are reproducing the Figures and the Tables with permission by the IAEA. Please ensure due acknowledgement and reference to the following IAEA publication: International Atomic Energy Agency, ITER Technical Basis, ITER EDA Documentation Series No. 24, IAEA, Vienna (2002).

Please also note, this is a non-exclusive permission and applies to English language only.

Best regards,

Dear International Atomic Energy Agency,

This is Zefang Liu, a PhD student from the Georgia Institute of Technology (Atlanta, United States). May I request permissions to reproduce several figures and tables from one IAEA publication? I would like to use these figures and tables to create my own ones in my PhD dissertation. For example, I would like to fit curves of a figure and draw similar ones. For tables, I plan to use some rows of them. Please let me know if I can obtain permissions. Thanks.
