TOP-NOTCH FACILITIES FOR PRACTICE AND COMPETITION

Georgia Tech's golf team has playing privileges at some of the top golf facilities in Georgia, including the GOLF CLUB OF GEORGIA and EAST LAKE GOLF CLUB. The Yellow Jackets also hone their games at the GEORGIA TECH PRACTICE FACILITY, located four blocks from campus.

Very convenient for Georgia Tech's golfers, the GEORGIA TECH PRACTICE FACILITY covers an 8-acre area next to Atlanta's Atlantic Station development. Just blocks away from the Tech campus, it includes bunkers, two tee boxes, two greens and two chipping areas.

The GOLF CLUB OF GEORGIA's two Arthur Hills-designed courses, Lakeside and Creekside, are distinctly different from each other, offering the golfer enormous architectural, aesthetic and strategic variety.

The Lakeside Course, a more traditional modern layout with demanding, firm and fast greens, was honored in 1991 by Golf Digest as "Best New Private Course" in America. With a back nine playing around scenic Lake Windward, the Lakeside Course challenges the senses and the short game. Creekside, which opened in 1993, is a target-style, wetlands course reminiscent of the Carolina Low Country and requiring accurate shotmaking.

Lakeside is the annual site of the United States Collegiate Championship and also has hosted U.S. Open Sectional qualifying. Both Lakeside and Creekside have hosted The Georgia Cup, established in 1998.

Established in 1904, EAST LAKE GOLF CLUB is the home course of legendary golfer Bobby Jones and is the oldest golf course in the city of Atlanta. Over the years, East Lake has given birth to 21 regional and 21 national golf champions and is the only course in history to have produced two British Amateur champions: Bobby Jones in 1930 and Charlie Yates in 1938. The course has hosted 17 major championships including the 1950 U.S. Women's Amateur, 1963 Ryder Cup, and 2001 U.S. Men's Amateur. In 2005, East Lake was named the permanent home of the PGA Tour Championship, which serves as the climax to the Tour's FedEx Cup Playoffs.

Greater Than the Sum of its Parts?

Heppler optimistic his Yellow Jackets have the collective talent to contend

Despite the departure of two senior regulars, one of whom was a first-team All-American in 2009, the optimism in the golf office at Georgia Tech is palpable this fall.

Head coach Bruce Heppler, whose program extended its string of consecutive years in the NCAA Tournament to 12 last spring and finished the year ranked No. 7 in the Golfweek/Sagarin Performance Index, is quite optimistic about this year's team, which includes five returning letterwinners and three newcomers.

The Yellow Jackets, who won their third Atlantic Coast Conference title in four years last spring, lost two seniors who played regularly in three-time All-American Cameron Tringale and lefty David Dragoo. Chesson Hadley, a 2008 second-team All-American who shook off a poor fall to record three top-20 finishes in the spring, returns as the team's only senior.

Other returnees who played regularly in the spring are junior John-Tyler Griffin, who played every event a year ago and had the team's second-best stroke average, and sophomore James White, who posted a pair of top-10 finishes in the spring, including a tie for sixth at the ACC Championship.

There's no obvious horse among those three (Griffin had the low stroke average among Tech's returnees at 74.00), but Heppler is confident one or more of them will emerge as contenders on a regular basis, and the rest will give the Jackets a solid 1-through-5 each week.

"It's certainly not a knock on anyone on our team," said Heppler. "There are some guys that certainly need to improve and make a move forward, but I think it's going to have to be a group effort. Chesson Hadley, being an All-American twice, has a chance to be a first-teamer, and John-Tyler Griffin has continued to really move forward. Some people certainly have the ability, and I think where we're going to have to make that up is in the scores towards the end of the lineup."

Hadley, from Raleigh, N.C., burst on the scene during the spring of his freshman year with three top-10 finishes in the post-season and carried that over into his sophomore campaign, when he was a second-team All-American. After falling into a slump last fall, he recovered in mid-spring to post a tie for 11th at the United States Collegiate Championship and finish one shot out of the lead at the ACC Championship.

"He's got to level out - his work level and his emotional level - and get to where there is some sort of consistency," said Heppler.

"The thing that he brings to the table is that, when he plays well, his ability level allows him to win tournaments. When he's right, then he is the number one guy on the top-5 team."

Griffin demonstrated early on an ability to handle the tougher golf courses on which Tech has played. The Wilson, N.C., native broke into the Jackets lineup at the Southern Highlands Collegiate in the spring of his freshman year and has not missed an event since, posting three top-10 finishes in 20 events.

"He's gotten close to playing winning golf," Heppler said. "But to be an All-American you can't have a 35th or a 45th-place finish. The consistency needs to be at a higher level, and I think he's close to doing that."

Heppler saw glimpses of great play a year ago from a pair of freshmen in James White (Acworth, Ga.) and Minghao Wang (Reunion, Fla.). Wang had a top-20 finish at the Isleworth-UCF Collegiate in the fall, but it was White who emerged as a solid force in the spring, logging a tie for sixth at both the Puerto Rico Classic and the ACC Championship. Wang averaged 75.72 over 18 rounds, and White averaged 74.78 over 27 rounds.

Both have talent and a competitive drive.

"We asked a lot out of both of those guys (last year), and I think they learned a lot," said Heppler. "I think they've gotten better on the golf course. Minghao had a very nice summer, James not so much, but he did qualify for the U.S. Amateur and came close to making match play. If they can become a little more consistent, then that's where we start talking about getting this push."

Two other returning players who saw little action last year could figure in the plans. Junior Paul Haley and sophomore William Miller, who played just one event between them last year, look to make a push on the other veteran players. Haley (Dallas, Texas) played in eight events as a freshman in 2007-08, averaging 75.10 over 20 rounds, posting a tie for seventh at the Yale Spring Opener and going 3-1 at the Callaway Golf Collegiate Match Play. Miller (Venetia, Pa.) tied for 78th at the season-opening Carpet Capital Collegiate last fall and never made the travel squad after that.

"We've got to restore some enthusiasm and confidence (with those two)," said Heppler. "They've both gotten a little bit beat up here in qualifying and some not-so-great summers, but they've both seemed to return with 'I'm ready to go fight this thing again and compete.' You've got to do the right stuff, you've got to be consistent with your work and get your enthusiasm back, and then you can feel good about yourself."

Heppler really likes what he has seen from his incoming class, which includes freshmen Seth Reeves and Bo Andrews, both ranked among the top three players in Georgia and North Carolina, respectively. Also joining the Jackets is transfer Kyle Scott, who helped West Florida win a Division II national championship in 2008.

Reeves, a long, strapping left-handed hitter from Duluth, Ga., who finished second in the 2008 Georgia state AAAAA championship to James White, was rated the No. 2 player in Georgia. Andrews, from Raleigh, N.C., was the No. 3-rated player in that state and led his high school team to four state titles.

Perhaps more ready to compete early is the South African Scott, who twice earned Division II All-America honors, leading West Florida to the 2008 national title while finishing third himself.

"Both (Reeves and Andrews) are coming from really good high school programs where team was something, and that was a part of the whole recruiting process that they were drawn to," said Heppler. "They're coachable, they want to listen and learn, and we're getting a lot more good stuff done everyday because of what they've brought."

"(Scott) has a national championship, and he's played in good college golf tournaments," said Heppler. "He's really straight, has really good fundamentals, and he looks like someone who will not shy away from a challenge or a close match."

The lineup that hits the road will travel to some different places this year from what has been the typical Tech schedule. Heppler, in his 15th season on the Flats, has opted out of the Golfweek Preview Classic and the Isleworth-UCF Collegiate in the fall, replacing them with the Mason Rudolph Intercollegiate in Nashville, Tenn., and the UNCG Bridgestone Collegiate in Greensboro, N.C. Tech's own United States Collegiate Championship will not be held this spring while the Golf Club of Georgia attempts to find new dates to hold the event in coming years. Instead, Heppler will take his team to the Linger Longer Invitational at Lake Oconee in Georgia and the Wolfpack Invitational in Raleigh, N.C.

Tech will host one of the six NCAA Regional tournaments, which will be held in May at the Capital City Club's Crabapple Course. If Tech makes the field, it will play within its home state four times.

All in all, Heppler is confident that his players' dedication and enthusiasm will overcome any perceived shortfall in track record, and that any one of his five players on a given week can put forth a contending performance and all five can post competitive scores.

"I don't know where we are (in terms of national ranking)," he said. "We're at a place where we could be good. I'm looking forward to this year more than I've looked forward to things in a long time, because from 6 in the morning to 10 at night we've got a lot of good stuff going on. And over the years when that's been the case, most times we've overachieved."

Bruce Heppler

Head Coach

15th year at Tech

Five ACC Championships

If a consistently high level of success over a long period of time is the measure of a great program, then Georgia Tech's golf program under Bruce Heppler would certainly meet the standard. One of the top coaches in collegiate golf, Heppler has guided the Yellow Jackets to the NCAA Tournament every year since 1998, and helped author six top-five finishes in the Finals, including three runner-up finishes.

During his tenure, Tech has won six Atlantic Coast Conference titles, including the title outright in 2009 and a share of the championship in 2006 and 2007. The Yellow Jackets have captured or shared 29 team titles overall. All these accomplishments, and more, have factored into Tech's golf program being judged the best in the nation in the September, 2005, issue of Golf Digest magazine, and No. 2 in the 2006 edition.

Heppler has recruited and developed his share of star players as well. The Yellow Jackets have had at least a pair of All-Atlantic Coast Conference honorees in 11 of the last 12 years. Tech had at least two players earn All-America honors 10 straight years until 2009, and Cameron Tringale became the Jackets' ninth first-team selection last year. Three of his players, Matt Kuchar, Bryce Molder and Troy Matteson, have been named national players of the year.

Seven of his Tech players are members of the PGA Tour, including Matt Kuchar, Troy Matteson, Bryce Molder, Nicholas Thompson and Matt Weibring. Three others, including Roberto Castro, Kevin Larsen and Chan Song, are also playing professionally either in the United States or abroad.

During the summer of 2003, Heppler served as the head coach of the United States' Palmer Cup team, which faced off with a team of European collegiate players in Kiawah Island, S.C. Kuchar, Molder, Castro, Hadley and Tringale have all played for the USA in Palmer Cup competition.

On the conference level since 1985, when the Yellow Jackets won their first ACC Championship, Tech has earned more NCAA Championship berths than any team except Clemson. The Jackets have earned more top-10, more top-5 and more top-2 finishes in NCAA Championship competition than any other ACC team. Tech also has had more All-America selections (54) than any other ACC team during the same period except the Tigers.

Nationally, only Arizona State, Florida and

Oklahoma State have had greater success in NCAA Championship competition and in All-America selections over the same period of time. Since 1997, however, when Heppler got the Tech program back on its feet, the Yellow Jackets have fared better head-to-head against all those teams in the NCAA Championship (7-4 vs. Arizona State, 6-5 vs. Oklahoma State, 7-4 vs. Florida).

It didn't take long for Heppler to restore the glory to Tech's golf program following a couple of lean years in the mid-1990s. After recruiting future All-Americans Matt Kuchar and Bryce Molder, Heppler had the Yellow Jackets back in the NCAA Tournament in his third season, where they finished third, just four shots off the lead. Tech also was ranked No. 1 in the nation during the course of the year and won the NCAA East Regional.

Even better things were to come as Tech captured the first of its six ACC titles under Heppler in 1999. In 2000 the Yellow Jackets came the closest to an NCAA Championship in their history, tying for first after 72 holes with Oklahoma State before losing a one-hole playoff. On the year, Tech captured four team titles and finished in the top four in each event it entered.

During the 2001 campaign, the Jackets won their second ACC crown in three years, the second under Heppler, captured a school-record-tying five tournament wins during the year and finished fourth in the NCAA Championship. For his efforts, Heppler was named ACC Coach of the Year for the second time in his career and guided three All-Americans in Bryce Molder, who was also the consensus National Player of the Year, Troy Matteson and Kris Mikkelsen.

In 2002, Heppler led the Yellow Jackets to arguably the best season in school history, as Tech captured seven team titles and finished second at the NCAA Championship. In the process, Heppler earned National and ACC Coach of the Year honors. During the year, the Jackets won the school's eighth ACC title, while placing all five starters on GCAA All-America teams. Under Heppler's tutelage, junior Troy Matteson became the third Tech player to win the national individual title, the first player to win the event in its current team format.

A 49-year-old native of St. George, Utah, Heppler has demonstrated his strength as a recruiter

Heppler, a dean's list student at Brigham Young, earned his bachelor's degree in accounting from BYU in 1985, and later received his master's degree in sport management from Massachusetts in 1988. He played golf for one year at Dixie Junior College in St. George before transferring to Brigham Young.

He became a certified public accountant in 1985 and spent one year in the firm of Huber and Associates in Salt Lake City, then began his collegiate coaching career in 1987 as the men and women's golf coach at Amherst. He then spent two years as an administrative assistant at UNLV, becoming the assistant men's golf coach at UNLV in 1989. He spent two years in that role before moving to Oklahoma State in 1991.

"Georgia Tech is a great fit for me," said Heppler. "This is one of the five or six best programs right now if you look around at college golf's successful teams since the '90s. We have a lot of alumni on the PGA Tour, which is great for the school.

Young people can see they have a chance to be player of the year or win a national championship here. It's a great school academically, which is a real draw with the general pool of talent out there interested in playing college golf."

Heppler is married to the former Traci Schull of Southbury, Conn., and they have a son, Zakary, and a daughter, Moriah. Heppler is actively involved with Atlanta Alliance for Children and is a member of the Golf Coaches Association of America.

Christian Newton

Assistant Coach
3rd year at Tech

Formerly an assistant coach at Alabama and Georgia Southern, Christian Newton joined the Georgia Tech staff as assistant golf coach on August 1, 2007, and is now in his third year with the Yellow Jackets.

Involved not only in coaching and the strength and conditioning programs for Tech's players, Newton, 30, also assists Heppler in recruiting and coordinates the Yellow Jackets' golf booster club and fund-raising efforts.

He has been a finalist each of the last two years for the James Strickland Assistant Coach of the Year Award, presented by the Golf Coaches Association of America to the nation's top assistant coach. In six years as an assistant coach, he has helped guide his teams to the NCAA Championship four times, including both years at Tech.

Newton, who worked at Alabama for two years (2005-07), helped coach the Crimson Tide to a sixth-place finish at the 2007 NCAA Championship and was involved in all facets of the Crimson Tide program. He helped revamp the golf booster program and golf camp while assisting in the development of all-Southeastern Conference players Michael Thompson, Gator Todd and Matthew Swan.

A native of Lyons, Ga., Newton was an assistant coach at his alma mater, Georgia Southern, from 2003-2005, helping the Eagles to a tie for 13th at the 2005 NCAA Championship. He also assisted in coaching two All-Americans, Aron Price and David Palm, the Eagles' first All-Americans since the 1989-90 season.

Newton has worked as a golf shop assistant at Southern Links Golf Club in Statesboro and as assistant ticket manager for the AT&T Classic/Atlanta Classic Foundation. He competed on the Developmental Professional Golf Tour in 2002.

Newton earned a bachelor's degree in sports management from Georgia Southern in 2002, and completed his master's in sports management there in 2004. He played golf four years (1997-2001) for the Eagles, earned all-Southern Conference honors in 2001 and also played in the NCAA Championship that spring.

Newton was married in January, 2009, to Jessica O'Dwyer of Atlanta.

Chesson Hadley

Senior • 6-4 • 160

Raleigh, N.C.

North Raleigh Christian Academy

Lanky player who hits it long off the tee ... Came out of nowhere to post a strong spring resume after not playing a single fall event as a freshman, and finished his sophomore campaign as the 9th-ranked collegiate player ... Earned honorable mention All-America honors as a freshman for his NCAA finish and second-team honors by the GCAA as a sophomore ... Has nine top-10 finishes and one victory in 27 events and a stroke average of 72.38 in 82 career rounds.

2008-09: Struggled to regain his sophomore level of play until late in the spring, when he tied for 11th at the U.S. Collegiate and third at the ACC Championship ... Qualified to travel in eight of Tech's 11 events ... Had four top-20 finishes, including a tie for 17th at the PING/Golfweek Preview in the fall ... His final-round 66 helped Tech win the ACC Championship ... Fourth on the team in stroke average (74.15), including a 73.27 norm in 12 spring rounds (second-best on the team), with eight rounds of par or better out of 27 total ... Finished the year No. 139 in the Golfweek/Sagarin Index, with a 383-317-29 record against the 5th-toughest schedule.

2007-08: First-team All-American by Golfweek magazine, second-team by the Golf Coaches Association of America ... Made the All-Atlantic Coast Conference team ... Named to the United States team for the 2008 Palmer Cup Matches, in Glasgow, Scotland, where he earned two points for the U.S. ... A semifinalist for the Ben Hogan Award, and was on the watch list for the Jack Nicklaus Award ... Tech's top player, led the ACC in stroke average (71.09) with five top-10 finishes and 10 in the top 20 ... Won the Carpet Capital Collegiate to begin the fall and extended his streak of top-10 finishes in team events to eight tournaments before finishing 12th at the Southern Highlands Collegiate in the spring ... Spent time ranked as the No. 1 player in the nation by Golfweek/Sagarin, finished at No. 9 (No. 8 in the Golfstat Cup) ... Compiled a 595-97-16 head-to-head record against the nation's 10th-toughest opposition according to the Sagarin ratings ... A perfect 29-for-29 in rounds counted for the team ... Had 21 rounds of par or better out of 32, and was Tech's only player under par collectively for the year (minus-23) ... Paced Tech in the NCAA Central Regional (T-12), and did so five times in nine team, stroke-play events.

2006-07: Honorable mention All-America

choice following his tie for fourth at the NCAA Championship, four shots out of the lead ... Developed into a solid No. 3 player in Tech's lineup in the spring ... Top 10 finishes in his last three starts (9th at ACC Championship, 7th at NCAA East Regional, T-4 at the NCAA Championship) ... Finished No. 51 in the final Golfweek/Sagarin rankings following his remarkable performance in the three post-season events ... Appeared in every spring tournament, averaging 72.09 strokes over 23 rounds, 12 at par or better, five in the 60s ... Made his collegiate debut at the UH-Hilo Invitational, tying for 18th place with a 5-under-par score of 205.

ACC Championship Experience: Three top-20 finishes, including a T-3 in 2009 (9-under 207) and a T-13 as a freshman (1-under 215) ... Averaged 70.67 over nine rounds (14-under-par).

NCAA Championship Experience: 72.19 stroke average in 16 regional and championship rounds ... T-4 in his first NCAA Finals appearance (2007 in Williamsburg, Va.) ... Two top-20 finishes in NCAA Regionals (7th in 2007 East Regional in Alpharetta, Ga., T-12 in 2008 Central Regional in Columbus, Ohio).

Amateur: 2009: T-16th at the Northeast Amateur (1-under 275) ... 2008: Finished seventh at the Players Amateur following a final-round 60 ... Won both his singles matches, but lost his four-ball and foursomes matches as the U.S. lost to Europe in the Palmer Cup in Glasgow, Scotland ... 2007: Advanced to the third round of match play at the North and South Amateur in Pinehurst, N.C. (T-8 in stroke play) ... T-6 at the Dogwood Invitational ... T-17 at the Northeast Amateur ... T-26 at the Players Amateur.

High School: Three-time all-state performer in North Carolina (2004, 2005, 2006) ... Five-year letterwinner at North Raleigh Christian Academy ... ## Dan Radakovich

Director of Athletics

Fourth Year at Georgia Tech

In his fourth year as Georgia Tech's Director of Athletics, Dan Radakovich has brought a new vision for excellence to the Yellow Jackets' storied athletics tradition. In a relatively short amount of time since arriving in Atlanta, Radakovich has put his mark on Georgia Tech's athletics program.

The 2008-09 academic year at Georgia Tech was one of unprecedented athletic success.

One year after hiring Paul Johnson as head football coach, Georgia Tech surprised the experts by winning nine games, tying for the ACC Coastal Division title and playing in a 12th consecutive bowl game.

The women's basketball team earned an NCAA Tournament bid for the third consecutive year. The baseball team finished ranked in the top 25 and hosted an NCAA Tournament Regional. The softball team swept the ACC regular season and tournament titles.

The golf team captured the ACC championship, advanced to the NCAA Championships and finished ranked seventh nationally. The men's swimming and diving team enjoyed its best NCAA Championships finish ever (19th) and the women's team broke 10 school records. Women's tennis finished ranked 8th nationally and advanced in the NCAA Tournament round of 16.

Facilities received major upgrades in 2008-09. Shirley Clements Mewborn Field, the new home for Tech's softball program, was unveiled prior to the start of the 2009 season and was ultimately showcased on ESPN when the Yellow Jackets hosted an NCAA Super Regional. The Zelnak Center, a new practice facility for Georgia Tech basketball, will be in place prior to the start of the 2009-10 season.

Tech student-athletes are performing in the classroom as well. The Annual Progress Report (APR), released by the NCAA in April, showed that seven Yellow Jacket teams earned a perfect score of 1,000 for the 2007-08 year.

The 2007-08 academic year featured the hiring of Johnson as head football coach, women's basketball emerging as one of the top programs in the South, baseball advancing to the NCAA Regionals and women's tennis advancing to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament.

The 2006-07 year was highlighted by Tech's women's tennis team capturing the Institute's first-ever NCAA championship and its third straight Atlantic Coast Conference title. The football team won the ACC Coastal Division and went to its 10th straight bowl game, the men's basketball team earned its third NCAA Tournament bid in four years, the women's basketball team posted its finest season with 21 wins and a berth in the NCAA Tournament, and the golf team won a share of the ACC title for the second straight year.

Outside the competition venues, Radakovich has directed an overhaul of the annual giving and donation structure for Tech athletics, anchored by the TECH Fund, which establishes minimum giving levels tied to season tickets in various seating areas of Bobby Dodd Stadium and Alexander Memorial Coliseum. Several facility upgrades were completed, including the transformation of Tech's former football locker room into a new Technology Center, which benefits academic support services for all Yellow Jacket student-athletes.

Radakovich also initiated the Athletic Director's Initiative Fund in June, 2006, which has raised in cash and pledges more than $12 million. A recent gift from the Henry F. McCamish, Jr., family for the renovation of Alexander Memorial Coliseum, could be worth up to $15 million toward that project.

Named Georgia Tech's Director of Athletics on February 22, 2006, Radakovich came to Georgia Tech after five years as senior associate athletics director at LSU (2001-06), and previously served as the Athletics Director at American University in 2000-01. That followed stints as associate athletics director at South Carolina (1994-2000) and Long Beach State (1989-94) and years as the athletics business manager at Miami (FL) (1983-85).

A graduate of Center High School near Aliquippa, Pa., and a member of its Alumni Hall of Fame, Radakovich, 51, became a football letterwinner and student coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, where he graduated in 1980 with a bachelor of science degree in finance. He was enshrined into the Beaver County Sports Hall of Fame last year and was recognized as a Distinguished Alumni from IUP in March, 2009.

Radakovich added a master's degree in business administration from Miami (FL) in 1982. He also completed the Sports Management Institute's executive education program in 1992.

He is married to the former Marcie McDonald, and the couple has two children, Christian (19) and Grant (15). Christian is a sophomore at Georgia Tech.

Dr. G.P. "Bud"
Peterson
Institute President

In April 2009, following a unanimous vote by the University System of Georgia Board of Regents, Dr. G. P. "Bud" Peterson became the 11th president of the Georgia Institute of Technology. In this capacity he oversees a top-ten public research university with more than 19,000 students and more than $500 million in sponsored funding.

Throughout his career, Peterson has played an active role in helping to establish the national education and research agendas, serving on numerous industry, government, and academic task forces and committees.

A distinguished scientist, Peterson was selected in 2008 by President George W. Bush to serve on the National Science Board through 2014. The Board oversees the National Science Foundation (NSF) and advises the President and Congress on national policy related to science and engineering research and education.

Peterson earned a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering in 1975, a bachelor's degree in mathematics in 1977, and a master's degree in mechanical engineering in 1980, all from Kansas State University. He also earned a doctorate in mechanical engineering from Texas A&M University in 1985.

In 1981 and 1982, Peterson served as a visiting research scientist at the NASA Johnson Space Center. In 1985, he joined the faculty of the Mechanical Engineering Department at Texas A&M, where he conducted research and taught courses in thermodynamics and heat transfer.

In 1990 he was named the Halliburton Professor of Mechanical Engineering and in 1991 was named the College of Engineering's Tenneco Professor. In 1993, Peterson was invited to serve as program director for the NSF's Thermal Transport and Thermal Processing Division, where he received the NSF Award for Outstanding Management.

From June 1993 through July 1996, he served as head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering at Texas A&M University and in 1996 was appointed executive associate dean of the College of Engineering, where he also served as associate vice chancellor for Engineering for the Texas A&M University System. Previous leadership positions Peterson has held include provost at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y. and chancellor of the University of Colorado at Boulder.

He also has served as a member of a number of congressional task forces, research councils, and advisory boards, including the Office of Naval Research, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Department of Energy, the National Research Council, and the National Academy of Engineering.

Most recently, Peterson served as a member of the Board of Directors and vice president for Education for the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA). He is currently serving on a number of national accreditation agencies including the American Association of Colleges & Universities, the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, and the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, with a focus on improving and assessing outcomes for higher education.

A fellow of both the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) and the AIAA, Peterson is the author or co-author of 14 books or book chapters, 165 refereed journal articles, and more than 140 conference publications. He also holds eight patents. Having served as editor or associate editor for eight different journals, he is currently serving on the editorial advisory board of two others. He is a member of Pi Tau Sigma, Tau Beta Pi, Sigma Xi, and Phi Kappa Phi.

Professional society awards include the Ralph James and the O. L. "Andy" Lewis awards from ASME, the Dow Outstanding Young Faculty Award from the American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE), the Pi Tau Sigma Gustus L. Larson Memorial Award from ASME, the AIAA Thermophysics Award, the ASME Memorial Award, the AIAA Sustained Service Award, and the Frank J. Malina Award from the International Astronautical Society.

Peterson was born September 1, 1952, in San Francisco, California, and raised in Prairie Village, a suburb of Kansas City, Kansas. He and his wife, Val, have four adult children.

Representative

Dr. Sue Ann Bidstrup Allen, a professor in the School of Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering at Georgia Tech, was appointed as the Yellow Jackets' Faculty Executive Assistant in July 2009.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen received her B.S. in Chemical Engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1981. She then attended the University of Minnesota and received her Ph.D. in the field of Chemical Engineering in 1986. After a postdoctoral appointment in the Electrical Engineering Department at MIT, Dr. Bidstrup Allen joined Georgia Tech as an assistant professor in the School of Chemical Engineering in 1988, was appointed to the position of associate professor in 1994 and to the position of professor in 2000. She served as the Associate Chair of the School of Chemical Engineering from 2004 to 2005. In 2005, she was named Faculty Executive Assistant to the President by Dr. G. Wayne Clough and continued to serve in this position under Interim President Gary B. Schuster and President G.P. "Bud" Peterson until August 2009.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen's main research focus is in the area of new materials and processes for microelectromechanical systems (MEMS) and for advanced interconnects for integrated circuits. She has advised nine postdoctoral fellows and has graduated 19 Ph.D. and 14 M.S. students. During her career, she has published approximately 100 refereed articles and has been issued eight patents.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen is a recipient of the National Science Foundation Presidential Young Investigator Award, the DuPont Young Faculty Award, the 2008 American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE) Sharon Keillor Award, and the 2008 Council of Chemical Research (CCR) Diversity Award. She also received the Faculty Leadership Award from Georgia Tech in 1995 and the Packaging Research Center Educator of the Year Award in 2000. She is a Fellow of the Society of Plastics Engineers and is a member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, the American Chemical Society, the Electrochemical Society and the American Society for Engineering Education.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen is married to Mark G. Allen, a professor in the School of Electrical and Computer Engineering at Georgia Tech. They have two children, David and Sarah.

THIS IS GEORGIA TECH

Nestled in the heart of Midtown Atlanta

The Georgia Institute of Technology is one of the nation's top research universities, distinguished by its commitment to improving the human condition through advanced science and technology.

Georgia Tech's campus occupies 400 acres in the heart of the city of Atlanta, where more than 19,000 undergraduate and graduate students receive a focused, technologically based education.

Accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS), the Institute offers many nationally recognized, top-ranked programs. Undergraduate and graduate degrees are offered in the Colleges of Architecture, Engineering, Sciences, Computing, Management, and the Ivan Allen College of Liberal Arts. Georgia Tech is consistently ranked in U.S. News & World Report's top ten public universities in the United States.

THE ULTIMATE TROPHY

Earning a degree from Georgia Tech is the top priority

- Georgia Tech's golf team has earned NCAA Public Recognition Awards for its academic performance three consecutive years. Awards are given to teams in all divisions that finished in the top 10 percent in each sport with their APRs (Academic Progress Reports). The Yellow Jacket golf team, which captured its third ACC championship in four years last year, finished in the top 10 percent for the third straight year.
- All four seniors on last year's Tech golf team participated in commencement exercises and received their undergraduate degrees last spring - Adam Cohan (Management), David Dragoo (Economics), Taylor Hall (Management) and Cameron Tringale (Management). All completed their coursework with GPAs of 3.27 or higher, and Cohan and Dragoo graduated with honors.
- Dragoo was one of three Yellow Jacket scholar-athletes and one of forty-two in the Atlantic Coast Conference who received Atlantic Coast Conference postgraduate scholarships. Dragoo, a senior from Scottsdale, Ariz., had a 3.64 cumulative grade-point average in Economics.
- Dragoo and Cameron Tringale were both named All-America Scholars by the Golf Coaches Association for the second straight year. Ten of head coach Bruce Heppler's players at Tech have received that honor, available only to juniors and seniors, twice.

The Rambling Wreck

September 30, 1961 versus Rice. For the first time, the official Rambling Wreck car led the Georgia Tech football team onto Grant Field. It's happened at every home game since.

The event did not establish a new tradition at Georgia Tech, but it cemented one. The vehicle, a restored 1930 Model A Ford Sport Coupe, was Tech's first official Rambling Wreck car.

Since that time, the Rambling Wreck car has joined a much older tradition - the Yellow Jacket - as an official school mascot.

The term Rambling Wreck was first applied to a 1914 Ford owned by Floyd Field, Dean of Men. In the first published reference to the car as the "Rambling Wreck" in 1927, the Technique student newspaper spoke out against Field when he considered trading the car, but he did it anyway.

Tech officials decided in the late 1950s that the school needed an official car that would be known forever as the Rambling Wreck. Dean of Students James Dull began a search for a pre-1940 vintage model, and finally found one parked in front of his apartment building. The owner, Capt. Ted J. Johnson, a Delta Air Lines pilot, had just finished restoring the 1930 Ford Cabriolet Sport Coupe, which he intended to give to his son as a gift.

Johnson decided to let Tech have the car for $1,000 in May, 1961. He later returned the purchase price in the form of a contribution to the Alexander-Tharpe Fund, fulfilling a desire to go on record as having given the Rambling Wreck to Georgia Tech.

The Yellow Jacket

Conflicting accounts exist as to the origins and beginnings of the Yellow Jacket, but the nickname did not grow out of the familiar six-legged insect; rather, the insect mascot, known as "Buzz," grew out of the nickname. The first known reference to Tech students as "Yellowjackets" appeared in the Atlanta Constitution in 1905 and came into common usage at that time. The name, spelled as one word, was first used to describe supporters who attended Tech athletic events, dressed in yellow coats and jackets. The actual mascot was conceived at a later, undetermined date.

Other nicknames which have applied to Tech teams include the Engineers; the Tecks, the first known nickname which was phased out around 1910; the Blacksmiths, common between 1902 and 1904; and the Golden Tornado, thought to be created by sportswriters when John Heisman led Tech to its first national title in 1917.

White & Gold

In the fall of 1891, before Georgia Tech organized a football team of its own, a game was scheduled between Auburn and Georgia. A rivalry was already established in baseball between Tech and Georgia, so Tech students were invited to the game to cheer, of course, for Auburn.

The students appointed a committee to recommend colors to be worn and cheers to be used at the game. The committee suggested white and gold, and about 200 students attended the game wearing those colors.

In 1893, when Georgia Tech's football team played Georgia for the first time, a group of young women from the Lucy Cobb Institute for Girls attended the game to cheer for Tech, dressed in white and gold.

Oh well it's up with the White and Gold
Down with the Red and Black
Georgia Tech is out for the victory
We'll drop the battle axe on Georgia's head
When we meet her, our team is sure to beat her
Down on the old farm there will be no sound
Till our bow-wows rip through the air
When the battle is over, Georgia's team will be found
With the Yellow Jackets swarming around.

TRADITION RICH

These are just a few of the many traditions surrounding Georgia Tech athletics

The Fight Song

The Georgia Tech fight song grew out of an old folk ballad, "The Sons of the Gamboliers."

Howard D. Cutter, a member of Tech's first graduating class (Mechanical Engineering, 1892), wrote in the November-December 1942 issue of the Georgia Tech Alumnus that the "Ramblin' Wreck" had its origins during the first two years after Tech opened in 1888, inspired when the entire student body traveled to Athens to see Tech's baseball team defeat Georgia.

By the early 1900s, "Ramblin' Wreck" was an established tradition. The earliest existing published version of the song appeared in the Blueprint, the Institute's yearbook, in 1908.

In 1910, Michael A. Greenblatt, Tech's first bandmaster, discovered the band playing "Ramblin' Wreck" to the tune of "Sons of the Gamboliers," and made his first arrangement of the song in the form of a handwritten manuscript.

When Frank Roman succeeded Greenblatt as bandmaster in 1911, he wrote a new adaptation of "Ramblin' Wreck," accompanied by many trumpet flourishes, that became nationally known. His is the version that continues to be popular today.

The fame of the song spread to such proportions that in 1959 it was sung by Richard Nixon and Nikita Khrushchev at their historic face-to-face meeting in Moscow. In 1984, the law firm of Newton, Hopkins & Ormsby investigated the copyright of "Ramblin' Wreck" and found that a number of people have had various versions of the song copyrighted. The original version of the song is in the public domain and can be played without payment of royalties.

I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech and a hell of an engineer,
A helluva, helluva, helluva, helluva, hell of an engineer,
Like all the jolly good fellows, I drink my whiskey clear,
I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech and a hell of an engineer.
Oh, if I had a daughter, sir, I'd dress her in White and Gold,
And put her on the campus, to cheer the brave and bold.
But if I had a son, sir, I'll tell you what he'd do.
He would yell, "To Hell with Georgia," like his daddy used to do.
Oh, I wish I had a barrel of rum and sugar three thousand pounds,
A college bell to put it in and a clapper to stir it around.
I'd drink to all good fellows who come from far and near.
I'm a ramblin', gamblin', hell of an engineer.

TOTAL PERSON PROGRAM

Preparing for life beyond the court

At Georgia Tech, the day the cheering stops will still be a time of celebration. An athlete's playing days will end, but the Total Person Program ensures that Tech student-athletes will be prepared for the career and personal challenges ahead.

Through this multifaceted program, the brainchild of former Director of Athletics Dr. Homer Rice, Rambling Wreck student-athletes have the opportunity to learn the elements of success beyond the classroom or playing field. They gain skills that remain with them for a lifetime, preparing for the career and personal challenges ahead.

During his 17-year tenure from 1980-97, Rice rebuilt Georgia Tech's athletic fortunes with an emphasis not just in fund-raising and facilities but in equally important areas such as academic support and life skills.

Since Rice started the Total Person Program in 1980, it has developed into the most comprehensive student-athlete support system in the country. Rice's model has been adopted nationwide as the foundation for the NCAA's Life Skills Program. Because of the success of the Total Person Program, Georgia Tech was one of three schools chosen to consult with the NCAA on this project. The foundation laid by Rice has been built upon with a continued emphasis on all aspects of the student-athlete's life.

Addressing virtually every area of a well-rounded educational experience, the Total Person Program, under the direction of Leah Thomas, focuses on the following components:

- Academic Support and Degree Completion
- Life Skills
- Career Planning and Placement
- Counseling and Wellness
- Leadership
- Honors
- Community Outreach

Homer Rice Center for Sports Performance

Georgia Tech's Homer Rice Center for Sports Performance is a unique facility for testing and improving performance. The Homer Rice Center focuses on five components: sports physiology, nutrition, sports medicine, psychology and motion analysis. Opened in 1996, the $8 million facility also includes the Howard Candler, Jr., Football Conference Center and the George W. Mathews, Jr., Athletic Heritage Center.

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING AND SPORTS MEDICINE

Georgia Tech offers the best facilities and staff to help each student-athlete achieve peak performance and receive the best in medical care and injury prevention.

DELLINGER GOLF CENTER

Conveniently located near the Tech athletics offices, this facility offers Tech golfers a quiet place to study, workout and unwind.

The Dellinger Golf Center, housed on the ground level of the Northwest stands of Bobby Dodd Stadium, was originally dedicated on Oct. 13, 1990 and reopened after renovation in the fall of 2003. It was named for Tech golf enthusiast James Dellinger, and is the perfect spot for studying, relaxing, watching television, playing pool or browsing the internet. It also is a glorious reminder of Georgia Tech's great golf tradition.

The Dellinger Center houses a lounge with a large-screen television, stereo system, DVD player, video game console, comfortable couches, a card table and a pool table for the enjoyment of Tech's golfers. Additionally, there are offices for the Tech coaching staff and a state-of-the-art locker room. The center also includes a study hall with computer stations with internet access, along with a recreation room.

The carpeted lounge area is named for Charles R. Brown, the catalyst responsible for the modern success of Tech golf.

On the walls, you'll find portraits of each of Tech's All-America golfers, from Watts Gunn in 1927 to Roberto Castro and Cameron Tringale, plus photos of Tech teams past and a collage from Larry Mize's 1987 Masters triumph.

On display in trophy cases is memorabilia from the days of Watts Gunn, Bobby Jones and Charlie Yates. Encased in the center are Tech's National Player of the Year trophies honoring David Duval, Stewart Cink, Matt Kuchar and Bryce Molder. Also on display are Tech's NCAA East Regional individual championship trophies, and all 11 ACC championship trophies. Prominent displays of Tech's GCAA All-America honorees are in both the locker room and television lounge.

Tech's three team trophies, the Robert Tyre Jones Award for the team's outstanding player, the Watts Gunn Trophy for the team's most improved and dedicated player, and the Charles Yates Cup for academic achievement, are also displayed here.

As part of Tech's renovation of Bobby Dodd Stadium, the renovated golf center was completed in the fall of 2003 along with the expanded north end zone of the stadium.

GEORGIA TECH PRACTICE RANGE

Yellow Jacket golfers have a convenient facility at the edge of campus where they can work on all part of their games.

Practice Facility Donors

Thanks to the generosity of four supporters of the Georgia Tech golf program, the Yellow Jackets can take advantage of a Tom Fazio-designed practice facility conveniently located adjacent to campus between 14th and 16th Streets.

"We really needed to have our own place to practice, and Jim Dellinger, Julian Saul, Gene Brooks and Dan Yates were willing to make that happen for us," said head coach Bruce Heppler.

A tremendous asset for the team, the facility allows the Yellow Jackets to practice a wide array of skills. Covering eight acres of land and more than 320 yards in length from one end to the other, the range includes two bent grass greens, one for chipping and one for putting.

Tee boxes are located at both ends, as well as several fairway bunkers from which players can hit iron shots, and there are designed wedge areas to work on the short game. There is no shot in golf that Tech's players are not able to work on.

"Plus, they are able to practice with the balls they play with in competition rather than range balls, so they can find out more about distance, control and accuracy," says Heppler. "When you have your own place and you can throw down your own balls and practice anywhere you want, that's a much better situation than going to a driving range.

"It's four blocks from the new Olympic housing. It makes practicing more convenient and allows our players to use their time better. And, of course, it's still backed up by our ability to play on some of the best golf courses in the Southeast."

CARPET CAPITAL COLLEGIATE

A staple of the fall collegiate schedule for many of the nation's top teams

Georgia Tech's annual Carpet Capital Collegiate, a staple of the collegiate golf schedule for many of the nation's top golf programs for the last 20 years, annually hosts one of the toughest fields on one of the most challenging golf courses that stage college events.

"With the excellent ACC and SEC teams in the tournament, outcome plays a significant role in which teams are selected for postseason competition," said Tech head coach Bruce Heppler.

Georgia Tech has won the event six times, including three in a row most recently between 1999 and 2001, and has been the runner-up five other times. Clemson has four victories, first in 1993 and most recently in 2002, while Florida and Georgia each has won twice.

Future PGA stars such as Tech's Stewart Cink and Troy Matteson, Clemson's Lucas Glover and

D.J. Trahan, and NC State's Tim Clark have won medalist honors. But former Yellow Jacket Bryce Molder (pictured above right) captured the event three consecutive times between 1998 and 1999.

Three different formats have been used for the event. In the inaugural 1989 event, the low five of six scores by round were used for team totals, while the four low scores on each hole were used in 1991. All others have used the standard low four-of-five rounds each day counting toward the team score.

The Carpet Capital Collegiate is played at The Farm Golf Club, the 6,896-yard, par-72 course designed by Tom Fazio, located in Rocky Face, Ga., just outside the city of Dalton in Northwest Georgia. The tournament takes its name from the city, which is home to some of the largest carpet manufacturers in the world. The Farm has been recognized as one of the nation's premier modern facilities.

The original idea for the tournament, conceived by former Tech coach Puggy Blackmon and born with the help of many Tech alumni in the Dalton area, was to pit the six best teams each from the Atlantic Coast Conference and the Southeastern Conference, with the winner claiming bragging rights.

The event was envisioned as a tribute to amateur and collegiate golf in the South, particularly Georgia, where Bobby Jones and The Masters have contributed to the heritage of the sport. The event has grown to include many nationally prominent programs outside the ACC and SEC area, and better than half of the tournament participants each year are ranked among the nation's top 25 teams.

The permanent Carpet Capital Collegiate champions trophy is named for Lowell Fritz, golf professional at Dalton Golf and Country Club. Fritz has long been dedicated to junior golf and the youth of the Dalton area. Boys or girls, members or non-members, Fritz has taken many hours of his personal time to teach the game of golf.

U.S. COLLEGIATE CHAMPIONSHIP

"This event is in a class by itself in college golf."

When the Golf Club of Georgia and Georgia Tech joined forces with the idea of hosting one of the nation's premier collegiate golf events in 2005, the idea was to bring together the nation's top golf programs to play one of the top golf facilities in the state of Georgia and enjoy a first-class golf experience.

The United States Collegiate Championship was the result, and the event has been a rousing success the first four years, drawing rave reviews from coaches and players alike. Due to scheduling conflicts, the tournament will not be played in 2009, but will return the following academic year.

The 2008 event, in which Clemson captured its second title in four years, attracted the nation's top 11 teams according to the Golfweek/Sagarin Performance Index, making it the strong field of any regular-season collegiate event.

"This event is in a class by itself in college golf," said East Tennessee State coach Fred Warren. "Everything associated with the tournament was first-class in every sense of the word."

"Without a doubt," said Georgia Coach Chris Haack, "(the USCC) is a Major on the college circuit."

"It really does kind of give you a feel of Augusta," said Wake Forest sophomore Webb Simpson, the 2005 Southern Amateur champion who has a first- and second-place finish in the event.

"To have a tournament of this magnitude at a facility we feel is the best in the country is very exciting," said Georgia Tech coach Bruce Hepler, whose program has enjoyed a long-standing relationship with The Golf Club of Georgia. "Knowing and appreciating the commitment and enthusiasm the staff and the members hold toward the event, it makes us feel very comfortable that it will become a very special tournament."

The competition and golf experience of United States Collegiate Championship are as first-class as the quality of its teams.

Players wear long pants and have caddies. The course is not roped, allowing galleries an intimate opportunity to walk with the competitors, as is the case with the club's annual Georgia Cup match between the United States and British Amateur champions.

Rules officials and scoring volunteers also accompany each group, giving the competitors the feel of a championship event.

"As far as college tournaments go, the U.S. Collegiate Championship did, in fact, raise the bar," wrote Ron Balicki in Golfweek magazine. "Providing a great golf course is one thing. Providing all the extras and the unsurpassed hospitality is another, and is what pushed the bar to new heights of what a college tournament could be."

The Golf Club of Georgia, a 36-hole Arthur Hills facility north of Atlanta named "Best New Private Course in America" in 1991 by Golf Digest, also served as the host site for the 2007 NCAA East Regional Championship, with Georgia Tech as the host institution. The Lakeside Course, on which both tournaments are played, measures 7,020 yards and plays to a par of 72.

Academics and On-Course Success Go Hand-In-Hand

Georgia Tech's golf team has achieved equal success both on the course and in the classroom in recent years. Tech has a majority of its members achieve Dean's List status with a 3.0 or above grade point average every semester, and the NCAA's Academic Progress Report has given head coach Bruce Heppler's team a top-10 public recognition award each of the last three years.

Since Bruce Heppler arrived as Tech's coach, at least four members of each team have made the Atlantic Coast Conference Academic Honor Roll, which recognizes student-athletes who record at least a 3.0 grade-point average for the entire academic year. Since 1999, at least five have made it every year, and as many as seven made the list in 2006 and 2007.

Eleven Tech golfers, for a total of 21 times, have been named All-America Scholars by the Golf Coaches Association of America, which honors juniors and seniors who record a minimum 3.2 GPA, play in 75 percent of their team's events and post a stroke average of 76 or lower.

"The mission statement of Georgia Tech athletics puts academics as the No. 1 priority of the Institute," said Heppler. "It is our philosophy to recruit academically-inclined student-athletes who want academics to prepare them for life.

"Once a student-athlete has his or her academics in order, then golf comes very easy. We try to make every effort to make a playing and practice schedule each year that is suited to give our student-athletes academic success. Since 1995, every senior that has gone through Georgia Tech has earned their degree, and you have to give credit to those individuals for making graduation their top priority. It is a tribute to how hard they have worked and it is the vision the Institute has for them."

TEE CLUB SPONSORS

Booster group provides financial and volunteer support for Tech's golf program

Thanks to the generosity of Georgia Tech alumni and friends, there is one other revenue-producing sport at the Institute. Football and basketball have traditionally generated sufficient funds to pay for their operations and others, but golf has become a money maker.

Through the golf booster club, known as the Tee Club, and through the newer scholarship endowment program, the team is financially self-sufficient. This financial autonomy does not conflict with the overall mission of Tech's Athletic Association. On the contrary, it helps free funds that would otherwise be earmarked for golf for use in other sports.

The growth of Tech's golf booster system has been extremely rapid in comparison to other top programs in the country. Beginning in 1981, with the backing of Dr. Homer Rice, Tech's director of athletics at the time, efforts were made to identify a group of alumni who would and could provide financial backing for a team that had not won a tournament in 10 years.

Golf does not have the built-in fund-raising advantages of some other sports, such as ticket sales, game programs or an outfield fence for which to sell advertising. The best way to raise funds is through contributions, and that comes primarily through the booster club.

The Tee Club began as a small committee made up of distinguished Tech alumni that began working with Dr. Rice on the revitalization of the golf program in the early 1980s. This group provided the first private financial support for the program, and within a year the committee had grown from five to 12 members, and is now composed of 16 people.

A new, exciting way to become involved with Tech athletics had been initiated, and the boosters soon became too numerous to be called a committee. The name was changed to the Tee Club, and its membership grew to approximately 300 in just seven years.

Soon, it became evident that the Tee Club could produce enough funds to cover operating costs, but not enough to pay for scholarships for the golfers. A scholarship endowment program was established and has grown to over $3.8 million, which is invested so that its returns can finance the education expenses of Tech golfers.

For their donations, supporters of Tech golf receive many benefits, including playing in an annual tournament. Therein lies the greatest incentive for many alumni — being able to play the game with some of the nation's finest collegians. Golf is perhaps the only sport where two individuals of divergent talents are able to compete together fairly and enjoyably, and that is what attracts many donors to the program.

Golf is one of the few sports where alumni can actually interact with the players. They understand golf, they like golf, they play golf, and it is the only sport where players can get out and participate with the alumni.

As a direct result of the Tee Club and the endowment program, the golf team is able to do many things now that simply would not otherwise be possible. The team has competed in recent years in distant locales ranging from Las Vegas, Nev., Tucson, Ariz., Bandon, Ore., and Pebble Beach, Calif., to Tokyo, Japan, Kona, Hawai'i and San Juan, Puerto Rico. Tech's golfers can compete in the best tournaments regardless of location.

The financial support allows the coaching staff to attend national junior events for recruiting and cover the cost of prospective student-athletes that visit Tech.

The Tee Club deserves much of the credit for the golf team's meteoric rise to national prominence.

It is the Tee Club's goal to completely endow all scholarships and operating costs for the golf program.

TROY MATTESON

NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Troy Matteson

NCAA Champion in 2002

Troy Matteson capped an outstanding junior season by winning the biggest tournament of the year, the NCAA Championships in Columbus, Ohio. The victory was his fourth of the year, tying the school record held by David Duval and marked the first time since 1934 that a Yellow Jacket was crowned National Collegiate Champion.

Matteson's run to the title began inauspiciously as he opened with a 2-over-par score of 73 to stand tied for 88th place, seven shots off the tournament lead. That would change quickly, as he found his scoring groove over the next 54 holes of play.

Day two saw the first significant move, as Matteson carded a 5-under-par round of 66 to move into a tie for 12th place at 73-66-139. The steady play continued over the final two rounds, as Matteson finished with sub-par rounds of 70 and 67 respectively to take over the individual lead as the final round came to an end.

The victory marked the fourth individual title of the year for Matteson, tying the school record previously held by David Duval, along with being the third time in school history that a Yellow Jacket had been the individual national champion.

For his efforts, Matteson was named the recipient of the Arnold Palmer National Player of the Year award and earned first-team All-America honors for the first time in his career.

Watts Gunn

National Collegiate Champion in 1927

The Rambling Wreck and the name of Watts Gunn rose to supreme heights in 1927.

Becoming the first Georgia Tech golfer to win the National Collegiate Championship, Gunn shot a total of 302 over the 72-hole event at the Garden City Country Club to win the medal competition. He went on to dispatch Walker Cup teammate Roland McKenzie, 10-9, to win the individual title, and his 69 in the final round broke the course record. He also helped Tech win the Southern Intercollegiate title the same year.

Along with winning the collegiate championship, Gunn was a two-time U.S. Walker Cup team member, joining the squad in both 1926 and 1928. In those two events, he compiled a combined 4-0 record, posting a pair of victories in each.

Gunn was inducted into the Georgia Tech Hall of Fame in 1961. The annual Yellow Jacket men's golf team award for the season's most improved player is named in Gunn's honor.

Charlie Yates

National Collegiate Champion in 1934

Yates, who won the British Amateur in 1938 and the Western Amateur in 1935, won the Georgia state championship in 1931 and 1935, advanced to the second round of match play in the U.S. Amateur and was the low amateur in the first Masters tournament in 1934.

He culminated a fine college career by winning the 1934 National Collegiate Championship in Cleveland, Ohio, joining Watts Gunn as the only two Tech golfers ever to do so. Yates is one of eight Yellow Jackets to have competed in the Walker Cup, as he was a team member in both 1936 and '38, compiling a 3-0-1 record in those matches. In 1953, he was named the captain of the Walker Cup team and was an honorary captain in 1985.

Yates played in the first 11 Masters tournaments, five times finishing as low amateur and three times finishing in the top 24.

He was inducted into the Georgia Tech Hall of Fame in 1959 and an award named in his honor has been given annually to the member of the Yellow Jacket golf team displaying the most outstanding academic achievement.

INTERNATIONAL COMPETITION

Georgia Tech players have been integral parts of U.S. teams on both the professional and amateur levels.

Stewart Cink (second row left in top left photo of the 2004 team) has competed in four Ryder Cups for the United States, including the victorious 2002 team on which David Duval (left) also played.

Matt Kuchar and Bryce Molder, pictured together during the 1999 Walker Cup below, combined to participate in eight Walker and Palmer Cup matches for the United States. Cameron Tringale (bottom left) is Tech's most recent representative in the Walker Cup (2009), while Roberto Castro (bottom right) played in two Palmer Cup matches for the USA.

H.E. DENNISON • 1931-55

A professor of economics and social science, as well as the director of industrial management, H.E. Dennison served as Georgia Tech's first golf coach from 1931-55. He shepherded a program which had already earned success on the national stage when Watts Gunn won the national collegiate championship in 1927. Collegiate golf was strictly a dual match sport in Dennison's time, and Tech went three straight years from 1933-35 without losing a match.

Dennison had the distinction of coaching such standouts as Charlie Yates, the 1934 national collegiate champion, 1938 British Amateur champion and three-time Walker Cup team member, as well as the 1938 Southern Intercollegiate champion Tommy Barnes and 1948 Southeastern Conference champion Albert Swann. He also led the Yellow Jackets to their first NCAA Championship appearance as a team in 1947.

TOMMY PLAXICO • 1956-82

Likeable Tommy Plaxico, a former Georgia Tech star of the cinders in the 1940s, served as the Yellow Jackets' golf coach from January of 1956 until he retired in 1982, an era which saw the landscape of college golf evolve from schools playing dual matches exclusively to playing stroke-play tournaments. Among his players were future PGA Tour star Larry Mize, 1967 NCAA runner-up Bunky Henry and 1999 U.S. Senior Amateur champion Bill Ploeger.

Plaxico, a contemporary of such Tech coaching luminaries as Bobby Dodd, Whack Hyder and Jim Luck, was a regular on the Tech track team for three years and was captain of the 1941 squad. After serving four years as a Navy fighter pilot in World War II, Plaxico returned to campus to receive his degree in industrial management in 1946. He immediately joined the Tech faculty as a member of the Physical Training staff, a capacity in which he served until he retired. Plaxico, also an avid tennis player, served as an assistant track coach for five years and was in charge of Georgia Tech's intramural program.

PUGGY BLACKMON • 1982-95

The arrival of Puggy Blackmon signaled a new era in golf at Georgia Tech, keeping the Yellow Jackets in line with the way college golf was growing. The South Carolina native came from a teaching and professional golf background, and laid the foundation for the stature of the program today. Heavily involved in junior golf, Blackmon immediately began recruiting top junior players, set about raising money for the program and started the booster club which continues to support Tech golf today.

Within three years, he guided the Yellow Jackets to their first Atlantic Coast Conference championship, and Tech became a perennial top-25 program. That led to the program being invited to compete in bigger and better events, and the Jackets would go on to win five ACC titles, compete in 11 NCAA Championships and win 33 tournaments overall during his tenure. He recruited and coached PGA Tour players Stewart Cink, Michael Clark II, David Duval and Tripp Isenhour.

Bobby Jones • Atlanta, Ga.

On Sept. 27, 1930, Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., of Atlanta walked off the 11th green at the Merion Cricket Club and into history. No one before him had won golf's four major championships in a single year. No one has done it since.

No one might ever do it again.

"It may be 60 years, if then, before we see another Grand Slam," said Joe Dey, former commissioner of the PGA Tour and former executive director of the United States Golf Association.

"You never say never," said Ben Hogan, who was 18 when Jones won the Slam and remains the only golfer to win three professional majors in one year. "But considering the times — there are so many more good players — it's improbable that any player will win all four."

Of all the single-season sustained records of excellence in major sports, Jones' mark has stood the longest. Longer than Babe Ruth's 60 home runs, a record that last 34 years after he set it in 1927; longer than Joe DiMaggio's 1941 hitting streak of 56 games, which is still alive after 49 years; longer than Wilt Chamberlain's 50.4 points-per-game average, set in 1961-62; longer than Bryon Nelson's PGA Tour streak of 11 straight victories and 18 overall in 1945.

The four tournaments Jones won —the national Open and amateur championships of the United States and Britain—originally were known as the "Impregnable Quadrilateral." That term eventually evolved into the Grand Slam, a term that stuck even when the PGA Championship and the Masters replaced the two amateur tournaments in the mythical foursome.

To understand the magnitude of Jones' deed, consider that in the ensuing 60 years only four players—Hogan, Gene Sarazen, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus—in their careers have won each of the four events that make up the modern Slam.

In golf's record books, Hogan comes across as the most serious challenger to Jones record when in 1953 the Texan won the Masters, U.S. Open and British Open. But because there was some overlap in dates of the British Open and the PGA Championship, the possibility of Hogan completing the Slam never existed.

Perhaps the most incredible thing about Jones' Slam is that he planned it. He didn't have a name for it, nor was he glory-seeking. His reasons were purely personal. Being an amateur golfer, his finances and family obligations would not allow him to play in all four tournaments after 1930. As it turned out, he didn't have to. He announced his retirement from competitive golf a few weeks after winning the U.S. Amateur. He was 28.

Dey, then a 23-year-old sportswriter for The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, was there at Merion in Ardmore, Pa., when Jones completed the Grand Slam. Now 83, Dey said Jones' performance was "simply unbelievable.

"I saw every shot, and I haven't seen anyone since as dominant as Jones was in that Amateur," Dey said. "None of his matches went past the 14th hole. He cruised along. Considering the pressure and the crowds—you have to remember in those days the fairways weren't roped—it was a remarkable performance by a remarkable player."

Dey has seen all the great players and says only Hogan and Nicklaus equaled Jones in figuring out a way to win.

"If Nicklaus couldn't do it, I don't think it could be done. Maybe Hogan could have, but there wasn't that much emphasis on the Grand Slam during his day. I don't see anyone out there today who knows how to win like they did and like Jones did.

"Also, it's just too hard now because there are too many good players to expect one to win all four, and too, I believe the intense media attention given to the majors creates tremendous pressure that begins to build when someone wins the first two."

Hogan, now 78, agrees about the media pressure. "It's incredible," he said, "much more so than when I played. Because it was impossible for me to play in all four in 1953, there was none of that."

Dey credits Jones with the Grand Slam transformation from two amateurs and two Opens to today's four pro majors. "When Jones retired, there was not another amateur of his ability, and after he started Augusta National, and the Masters took hold, the attention turned away from the amateurs to the professionals," he said.

"What Jones did was win the Grand Slam, then without realizing it, created another one."

How good was Jones? From 1923 through 1930, Jones won 13 major national titles in the U.S. and Great Britain, 62 percent of the championships he entered.

In the last 11 British and U.S. Opens in which he played, he finished no worse than second in 10, winning seven times. And from the time he was 14 to the time he was 28, no player ever beat him twice in championship match play.

It also must be noted that Jones was hardly a full-time golfer. Often he would go months without picking up a club. Instead, he studied mechanical engineering at Georgia Tech, got a degree in English literature at Harvard, dabbled in real estate and then attended law school at Emory. In his 13 years in major championship competition, he was a student, high school or college, in nine of them. He played only 52 tournaments in that span, an average of four a year, and won 23.

Though Jones was born and raised in Atlanta, there is no public display of his memorabilia. His old locker remains at East Lake Country Club men's locker room and several pictures hang on the walls of the grill room. Most of his trophies and his famous putter, Calamity Jane, are on display in a showcase in the Jones Room at the Atlanta Athletic Club.

Jones died in the early evening of Dec. 18, 1971. He played his last round of golf in 1948, the year he was stricken with syringomyelium, a disease that attacks the central nervous system. His burial is in Atlanta's Oakland Cemetery. His tombstone reads:

Robert Tyre Jones, Jr.

Born 1902 Died 1971

No other words were thought necessary.

This story was written by the late Tom McCollister, who covered golf for the Atlanta Journal-Constitution and paid this tribute to Bobby Jones on the 60th anniversary of his Grand Slam, in the Sept. 27, 1990, edition of the Journal and Constitution.

Watts Gunn • Macon, Ga.

Watts Gunn was born in Macon, Ga., on January 11, 1905. He made golf history in 1925 in the U.S. Amateur at Oakmont Country Club, setting the world record for international championship golf by winning 15 straight holes in the first round of the 36-hole match. In that tournament, he went to the finals against friend and rival Bobby Jones, marking the only time two players from the same city ever met for the U.S. Amateur crown.

Gunn's first major tournament win was in the 1923 Georgia Amateur. In 1927, he won the Southern and National Intercollegiate tournaments, and the following year he won the Southern Amateur and Southern Open Championships. In 1926 and 1928, he played on the Walker Cup teams with Jones, defeating the British team both years. He played many benefit tournaments, including several exhibitions with Jones in 1927 and 1928. He took the Georgia State Amateur title in 1927 and 1928. At Lanier High School, he captained golf teams that never lost a match.

Watts Gunn was inducted into the Georgia Golf Hall of Fame on January 14, 1989.

From a Time Magazine account dated July 11, 1927

Last week, Watts Gunn of Georgia Tech, playmate of Robert Tyre Jones Jr., went four times around the Garden City (L. I.) Golf Club course in a total of 302 strokes. Had he been alive to do this in 1902, he would have won the U. S. Open Championship by five strokes.* But, at 22, his reward was the qualifying medal of the national intercollegiate golf tournament.

Consistently but not brilliantly, Golfer Gunn battered his way to the finals where he found the other favorite, Roland Mackenzie of Brown University, his good friend, with nerves set for a 36-hole struggle.

Beginning at the fifth hole of their first round, Golfer Gunn went stark, staring golf-mad, made six birdies, used only nine putts on seven consecutive holes—putts varying between 35 and 12 feet—sunk with a borrowed putter. His score for the first 18 holes was 69, breaking the course record by two strokes. After that it was only a matter of time before Mr. Gunn won match and championship, 10 up, 9 to go.

Another figure in the tournament was John D. Ames, blond son of Knowlton L. ("Snake") Ames (sinuous Princeton quarterback of the strenuous '90s), who lost to Watts Gunn in the second round but was elected president of the Intercollegiate Golf Association.

Charlie Yates • Atlanta, Ga.

Charlie Yates, a link to Atlanta's vast golf history who later shepherded the city's arts community into the future, was once heralded by Life magazine as owning "the best grin in golf."

He didn't mind using it either, whether to woo the English crowds while he was winning the 1938 British Amateur championship or while heading the effort to raise the $20 million that built the High Museum. A participant in the city's history for much of the 20th century, it is not inappropriate he be remembered first for that smile and a benevolent demeanor that underscored his life.

Yates, 92, died October 17, 2005 at his home in Buckhead.

Mentored by Bobby Jones - he in fact played with Jones in his final round in 1948 at East Lake Golf Club - Yates was national college champion while at Georgia Tech (1934), a two-time Walker Cup competitor (1936 and 1938) and was captain of the U.S. Walker team in 1953.

He seized the international limelight at the 1938 British Amateur at Royal Troon. Beating two U.S. and British Amateur champions along his eight-match campaign, he struck a tone with the British galleries who were not then so easily charmed by foreigners taking away their titles. Afterward, the legendary British golf author Bernard Darwin wrote, "There has been no invading Champion more popular than Charlie Yates, whose cheerfulness and humor, of his own particular brand, made everybody like him."

Yates played 11 times in the Masters, including the inaugural tournament in 1934.

"There wasn't any strict rule about who was eligible to play in the Masters then," he once told The Augusta Chronicle. "Bob invited some of his friends, such as myself."

He tied for 21st that year and twice was low amateur, but his most memorable Masters came in 1935. Yates was playing in the group ahead when Gene Sarazen made double eagle on the par-5 15th to force a playoff he won the next day. That shot put the Masters on the map.

Yates' amateur career, except for playing the Masters, ended with World War II when he was drafted into the Army. He transferred to the Navy and spent 30 months as a lieutenant on the destroyer USS Mayo, which was struck by enemy fire during the invasion of Italy.

For nearly 50 years, he served on the Masters' Press Committee, a constant presence in the media quarters and, to many who returned to Augusta National year after year, a Masters tradition in himself.

"I am deeply saddened by the passing of Charlie Yates," Augusta National chairman Hootie Johnson said. "Charlie was an outstanding amateur golfer and a member who was linked to Bobby Jones and the club's history, attending every Masters through 2003. He will be greatly missed."

But it was in 1973 that Yates began some of his most lasting work. He accepted Mayor Ivan Allen's suggestion to retire at age 60 and head up the Atlanta Arts Alliance (which later became the Woodruff Arts Center).

Yates already had served as president of the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra (1962-65) and helped recruit Robert Shaw to be its conductor.

"When you look at who had a heavy influence on the thinking of people like the late Ivan Allen, or Robert W. Woodruff, Charlie was an effective leader in getting those people to see how Atlanta's strategy should include the development of world class arts and organizations," said Beauchamp Carr, executive vice president of the Woodruff Arts Center.

Originally drawn to the arts when his wife Dorothy recruited him for nights at the symphony, Yates ushered the city into a new age. Besides overseeing the effort to build the High, he helped raise the $5.4 million for the center's endowment. In his 10 years as president (1973-83) of what became the Woodruff Arts Center, the overall budget rocketed from $3.8 million to $16.3 million.

"I don't think of it as reaching into their pockets," he once said of his fund-raising ethic. "I think of it as their doing something for their own benefit."

The smile didn't hurt much either.

This story was written by Thomas M. Stinson and published in the Oct. 18, 2005 edition of the Atlanta Journal-Constitution. Additional information from an Associated Press story was added to this account.

NCAA CHAMPIONSHIP TIMELINE

The national collegiate championships were conducted by the United States Golf Association through 1938, and consisted of a medal competition and a match play bracket similar to today's U.S. Amateur.

The NCAA began conducting the championship in 1939, using a match play format through 1965, when it became a 72-hole, stroke-play event.

The NCAA instituted a 54-hole cut from 1979-88. A 36-hole cut was used in 1989, and again from 1992-2001. No cuts were made in 1990, 1991 or 2002.

Regional qualifying tournaments were instituted in 1989, expanding the championship field to 81 teams, 27 in each of three regionals, with 30 teams advancing to the 72-hole finals. In 2009, the format was changed to include a total of six regional tournaments (13 teams in three, 14 teams in the other three). Thirty teams (five from each regional) advanced to the finals.

The finals structure also changed in 2009, with 30 teams playing 54 holes of stroke play. The individual national champion was crowned after 54 holes, and the top eight teams advanced to a match play bracket to decide the team champion.

FIVE GEORGIA TECH PLAYERS HAVE WON ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE TITLES, AND WITH ONE EXCEPTION, THE YELLOW JACKETS HAVE WON THE TEAM TITLE EACH TIME. DAVID DUVAL IS THE ONLY YELLOW JACKET TO WIN TWICE (1991 AND 1993), WHILE BOB MCDONNELL WAS THE FIRST TECH PLAYER TO WIN THE MEDAL IN 1985. ONLY IN 2000, WHEN BRYCE MOLDER CAPTURED THE INDIVIDUAL TITLE, DID TECH FAIL TO ALSO WIN AS A TEAM (RUNNER-UP).

Georgia Tech fielded its first intercollegiate golf team in 1918, "and it was met with marked success in the matches with the Eastern colleges," reads the 1918 edition of the Blueprint, the Georgia Tech yearbook.

"To get to the personnel and work of the team. Very little time was had by the men to practice, but they went to it with a will and when the time for the first match with Columbia came around, a formidable quartet was on hand. Perry Adair, one of the foremost golfers in the South, was number one man. Adair has been playing golf around Atlanta since twelve years old and holds many of the course records in the South. Fred Howden of Savannah, was elected manager. Howden had a score of notable records to his credit there. Ewing Watkins, one of the best golfers in Tennessee and said to be the longest driver in the South, and Tom Prescott of Atlanta golf fame, comprised the other two members of the team."

Scoring for matches that year, and in years beyond, "was kept on the Nassau system, the winners on the first nine being awarded one point, the same being true for the second nine holes, and an additional point being awarded for the best ball of the match."

Year-by-Year Results (since 1947)

From 1937-39, the Southeastern Conference Championship was held in Baton Rouge, La. From 1940-64, the SEC Championship was held in Athens, Ga., as part of the Southern Intercollegiate Championship (no championship was held from 1943-45 due to World War II). Tech continued to participate in the SIC long after leaving the Southeastern Conference in 1964.

TOP-NOTCH FACILITIES FOR PRACTICE AND COMPETITION

Also offering playing privileges to Georgia Tech's golf team are ANSLEY GOLF CLUB'S SETTINDOWN CREEK and stately DRUID HILLS GOLF CLUB. Settindown Creek is one of the top courses in Atlanta and played host to the 2002 NCAA East Regional and the 2005 U.S. Women's Amateur. Druid Hills, located five miles from Tech's campus, annually serves as the host for the prestigious Dogwood Invitational amateur event, and helped host the 2001 U.S. Amateur.

The GEORGIA TECH CLUB, which opened in 2006, offers the Yellow Jackets a first-class training facility. Other facilities in and around the Atlanta area offering support to the Tech golf program include Ansley Golf Club, Atlanta Athletic Club, Atlanta Country Club, Capital City Club, Cherokee Country Club, Fox Creek/Legacy Golf Links, Hawks Ridge, Reynolds Plantation and The Farm.

Georgia Tech will host one of the six NCAA regional tournaments in May at the Capital City Club's Crabapple Course in Woodstock. It is the third time Tech will host an NCAA regional.

GEORGIA TECH'S MAJOR CHAMPIONS

BOBBY JONES WON GOLF'S GRAND SLAM IN 1930, WHICH AT THE TIME INCLUDED THE U.S. OPEN AND U.S. AMATEUR, BRITISH OPEN AND BRITISH AMATEUR. LARRY MIZE (SHOWN GETTING HIS GREEN JACKET FROM JACK NICKLAUS IN 1987) WON THE MASTERS IN DRAMATIC FASHION IN 1987. MORE RECENTLY, DAVID DUVAL CAPTURED THE BRITISH OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP IN 2001, AND HIS TECH TEAMMATE, STEWART CINK, ADDED THAT TITLE TO HIS RESUME THIS YEAR.
