BILL MOORE TENNIS CENTER

Home of Yellow Jacket Tennis

One of the top collegiate facilities in the nation, the Bill Moore Tennis Center serves as the home of the Georgia Tech tennis teams.

Opening for the 1988 season, the complex was officially dedicated on October 28, 1988, in honor of Bill Moore, whose efforts were vital in the construction of this impressive facility.

A graduate of Georgia Tech in management and a tennis letterman, Moore served as the chairman of Kelly-Moore Paint States, the largest independent paint company in the United States, and the Calmutual Insurance Company.

Located on Fowler Street across from the Alexander Memorial Coliseum, the Bill Moore Tennis Complex features 12 outdoor courts and three indoor courts.

The outdoor courts are divided into two tiers, and the top six courts are lighted and have permanent seating for 1,500 with the main grandstand along court number one and more seating along the baseline of the six courts.

The indoor facility is two stories, with three courts on the lower level, along with locker rooms for the men's and women's teams and visiting teams.

The upper level, known as the Hansard Room, houses a pro shop, coaches' offices and a lounge area for the athletes. The Hansard Room is also home to trophy cases displaying Yellow Jacket tennis memorabilia.

Well-suited for hosting tournaments, the Bill Moore Tennis Center has been the site for numerous events, including the NCAA Region II Championships in 1997, the ACC Championships in 1988 and the 1st and 2nd rounds of the NCAA Women's NCAA Championships from 2005 to 2009.

FIRST CLASS FACILITY

Player's Lounge recently renovated

Since the opening of the Bill Moore Tennis Center, many improvements have been made. During the 2003 season, a scoreboard was installed with remote scoring devices to allow fans to track dual matches on all six courts.

In addition, cameras have recently been installed at the baseline of all six upper courts with the video equipment necessary to allow coaches to meet with players and review matches and stroke techniques.

Most recently, plasma televisions have been added to the men's and women's locker rooms and a new player's lounge was created, making the Bill Moore Tennis Center one of the nation's finest facilities.

ALL-AROUND SUPPORT

A new strength center, modern athletic training facilities and a state-of-the-art sports complex is available to all Tech student-athletes

J.C. "Bud" Shaw Sports Complex

The J.C. "Bud" Shaw Sports Complex houses one of the most complete athletics facilities in the nation, encompassing the Arthur B. Edge, Jr., Center, home of the Georgia Tech Athletic Association and Alexander-Tharpe Fund; the Andrew Hearn, Sr., Academic Center; the Homer Rice Center for Sports Performance; the George W. Mathews, Jr., Athletic Heritage Center; the Howard Candler, Jr., Conference Center and the new complex that houses the Yellow Jacket football program.

Homer Rice Center for Sports Performance

Georgia Tech's Homer Rice Center for Sports Performance is a unique facility for testing and improving performance of Georgia Tech's student-athletes. The Homer Rice Center focuses on five components: sports physiology, nutrition, sports medicine, psychology and vision.

Opened in 1996, the $8 million facility also includes the Howard Candler, Jr., Football Conference Center and the George W. Mathews, Jr., Athletic Heritage Center.

Hugh Spruill Strength Center

Georgia Tech's Hugh Spruill Strength Center is one of the nation's top strength and conditioning facilities. Housed on the ground floor of the Wardlaw Building, which is located in the South endzone at Bobby Dodd Stadium, the Hugh Spruill Strength Center underwent a major renovation over the summer and comes complete with new flooring and all new weights and machines. The facility is used by all 17 athletic teams at Georgia Tech.

The Rambling Wreck

September 30, 1961 versus Rice. For the first time, the official Rambling Wreck car led the Georgia Tech football team onto Grant Field. It's happened at every home game since.

The event did not establish a new tradition at Georgia Tech, but it cemented one. The vehicle, a restored 1930 Model A Ford Sport Coupe, was Tech's first official Rambling Wreck car.

Since that time, the Rambling Wreck car has joined a much older tradition - the Yellow Jacket - as an official school mascot.

The term Rambling Wreck was first applied to a 1914 Ford owned by Floyd Field, Dean of Men. In the first published reference to the car as the "Rambling Wreck" in 1927, the Technique student newspaper spoke out against Field when he considered trading the car, but he did it anyway.

Tech officials decided in the late 1950s that the school needed an official car that would be known forever as the Rambling Wreck. Dean of Students James Dull began a search for a pre-1940 vintage model, and finally found one-parked in front of his apartment building. The owner, Capt. Ted J. Johnson, a Delta Air Lines pilot, had just finished restoring the 1930 Ford Cabriolet Sport Coupe, which he intended to give to his son as a gift.

Johnson decided to let Tech have the car for $1,000 in May, 1961. He later returned the purchase price in the form of a contribution to the Alexander-Tharpe Fund, fulfilling a desire to go on record as having given the Rambling Wreck to Georgia Tech.

The Yellow Jacket

Conflicting accounts exist as to the origins and beginnings of the Yellow Jacket, but the nickname did not grow out of the familiar six-legged insect; rather, the insect mascot, known as "Buzz," grew out of the nickname. The first known reference to Tech students as "Yellowjackets" appeared in the Atlanta Constitution in 1905 and came into common usage at that time. The name, spelled as one word, was first used to describe supporters who attended Tech athletic events, dressed in yellow coats and jackets. The actual mascot was conceived at a later, undetermined date.

Other nicknames which have applied to Tech teams include the Engineers; the Tecks, the first known nickname which was phased out around 1910; the Blacksmiths, common between 1902 and 1904; and the Golden Tornado, thought to be created by sportswriters when John Heisman led Tech to its first national title in 1917.

White & Gold

In the fall of 1891, before Georgia Tech organized a football team of its own, a game was scheduled between Auburn and Georgia. A rivalry was already established in baseball between Tech and Georgia, so Tech students were invited to the game to cheer, of course, for Auburn.

The students appointed a committee to recommend colors to be worn and cheers to be used at the game. The committee suggested white and gold, and about 200 students attended the game wearing those colors.

In 1893, when Georgia Tech's football team played Georgia for the first time, a group of young women from the Lucy Cobb Institute for Girls attended the game to cheer for Tech, dressed in white and gold.

Oh well it's up with the White and Gold
Down with the Red and Black
Georgia Tech is out for the victory
We'll drop the battle axe on Georgia's head
When we meet her, our team is sure to beat her
Down on the old farm there will be no sound
Till our bow-wows rip through the air
When the battle is over, Georgia's team will be found
With the Yellow Jackets swarming around.

TRADITION RICH

These are just a few of the many traditions surrounding Georgia Tech athletics

The Fight Song

The Georgia Tech fight song grew out of an old folk ballad, "The Sons of the Gamboliers."

Howard D. Cutter, a member of Tech's first graduating class (Mechanical Engineering, 1892), wrote in the November-December 1942 issue of the Georgia Tech Alumnus that the "Ramblin' Wreck" had its origins during the first two years after Tech opened in 1888, inspired when the entire student body traveled to Athens to see Tech's baseball team defeat Georgia.

By the early 1900s, "Ramblin' Wreck" was an established tradition. The earliest existing published version of the song appeared in the Blueprint, the Institute's yearbook, in 1908.

In 1910, Michael A. Greenblatt, Tech's first bandmaster, discovered the band playing "Ramblin' Wreck" to the tune of "Sons of the Gamboliers," and made his first arrangement of the song in the form of a handwritten manuscript.

When Frank Roman succeeded Greenblatt as bandmaster in 1911, he wrote a new adaptation of "Ramblin' Wreck," accompanied by many trumpet flourishes, that became nationally known. His is the version that continues to be popular today.

The fame of the song spread to such proportions that in 1959 it was sung by Richard Nixon and Nikita Khrushchev at their historic face-to-face meeting in Moscow. In 1984, the law firm of Newton, Hopkins & Ormsby investigated the copyright of "Ramblin' Wreck" and found that a number of people have had various versions of the song copyrighted. The original version of the song is in the public domain and can be played without payment of royalties.

I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech and a hell of an engineer,
A helluva, helluva, helluva, helluva, hell of an engineer,
Like all the jolly good fellows, I drink my whiskey clear,
I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech and a hell of an engineer.
Oh, if I had a daughter, sir, I'd dress her in White and Gold,
And put her on the campus, to cheer the brave and bold.
But if I had a son, sir, I'll tell you what he'd do.
He would yell, "To Hell with Georgia," like his daddy used to do.
Oh, I wish I had a barrel of rum and sugar three thousand pounds,
A college bell to put it in and a clapper to stir it around.
I'd drink to all good fellows who come from far and near.
I'm a ramblin', gambler, hell of an engineer.

ALUMNI REFLECTIONS

Yellow Jacket alums talk about their experiences at Georgia Tech

Scott Schnugg
2002-2004

"Coach Thorne and the Georgia Tech support staff do a great job of developing the student-athletes into the complete person. My experience at Georgia Tech was second to none. I felt treated as part of a family and the lessons I learned extend far beyond the tennis court."

Scott Schnugg
B.S. Management, Class of 2004
Currently playing professional tennis

"Georgia Tech has provided me with a solid foundation for the future. The knowledge and maturity I have gained is a credit to Coach Thorne and the lifestyle of being a Tech student. If you are willing to work, Georgia Tech offers the complete package that will prepare you for the professional world."

TOTAL PERSON PROGRAM

Preparing for life beyond the court

At Georgia Tech, the day the cheering stops will still be a time of celebration. An athlete's playing days will end, but the Total Person Program ensures that Tech student-athletes will be prepared for the career and personal challenges ahead.

Through this multifaceted program, the brainchild of former Director of Athletics Dr. Homer Rice, Rambling Wreck student-athletes have the opportunity to learn the elements of success beyond the classroom or playing field. They gain skills that remain with them for a lifetime, preparing for the career and personal challenges ahead.

During his 17-year tenure from 1980-97, Rice rebuilt Georgia Tech's athletic fortunes with an emphasis not just in fund-raising and facilities but in equally important areas such as academic support and life skills.

Since Rice started the Total Person Program in 1980, it has developed into the most comprehensive student-athlete support system in the country. Rice's model has been adopted nationwide as the foundation for the NCAA's Life Skills Program. Because of the success of the Total Person Program, Georgia Tech was one of three schools chosen to consult with the NCAA on this project. The foundation laid by Rice has been built upon with a continued emphasis on all aspects of the student-athlete's life.

Addressing virtually every area of a well-rounded educational experience, the Total Person Program, under the direction of Leah Thomas, focuses on the following components:

- Academic Support and Degree Completion
- Life Skills
- Career Planning and Placement
- Counseling and Wellness
- Leadership
- Honors
- Community Outreach

Homer Rice Center for Sports Performance

THE ACC/ ITA TENNIS

Tradition in Collegiate Tennis

Consistency. It is the mark of true excellence in any endeavor.

However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now, in its 57th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Men's tennis in the ACC has displayed tremendous success on and off the court since it was introduced as a conference sport in 1954. The record of achievement continued in 2009 with an NCAA doubles championship, as Virginia's Dominic Inglot and Michael Shabaz became the first doubles team from the ACC to win the NCAA Doubles Championship, defeating No. 2 seed John-Patrick Smith and Davey Sandgren of Tennessee 3-6, 7-6(4), 6-4 in the finals May 25 at College Station, Texas. Inglot and Shabaz were the first unseeded team to win the title since 2003. With the title, Virginia won an NCAA Individual Championship for the third consecutive year. Former Cavalier Somdev Devvarman won the 2007 and 2008 NCAA singles championships. The last school to win NCAA Individual titles in three consecutive years was Stanford from 1998-2000.

Seven ACC teams competed in the NCAA Tournament for the second time in 2009. It marked the sixth straight year at least seven ACC schools participated in postseason play. After setting a new mark three years ago with nine schools qualifying for the NCAA Tournament, the ACC shattered that record in 2007 as 10 teams were picked to compete in the national postseason event. The ACC has established itself as one of the nation's premier conferences in the sport, as evident by national rankings, national victories and the numerous accolades (national and regional) collected by both ACC student-athletes and coaches over the years. In 2009, five ACC schools capped off the season ranked in the final ITA Team Rankings Top 25 poll, with Virginia's No. 3 ranking setting the pace for the third straight year. The ACC-champion Cavaliers entered NCAA play unbeaten and advanced to the NCAA quarterfinal round before finishing with a 32-1 record.

Virginia was the No. 1 overall seed in the 2009 NCAA Division I Men's Tennis Championships for the second straight year. Twelve student-athletes from the ACC took part in NCAA singles competition, as did five doubles teams. The 2009 All-America team featured 11 ACC representatives.

The league has found similar success off the court with at least 35 student-athletes selected Academic All-Americans by ITA, CoSIDA or both.

Over 170 men's tennis student-athletes have received All-American citations by the ITA, NCAA or both national organizations, which includes the league's first ITA National Player of the Year in Virginia's Dewarman. Duke's Phillip King, the first player in league history to be named ITA All-American four times, was recognized as the ITA National Rookie of the Year in 2001.

The ACC also boasts a distinguished coaching lineage in three-time National Coach of the Year Chuck Kriese of Clemson and Virginia assistant coach Tony Bresky. Kriese was named both the ITA and USTA National Coach of the Year in 1981 and later picked up the USTA award again in 1986. Bresky was tabbed ITA National Assistant Coach of the Year in 2005. The Cavaliers' Brian Boland added to the legacy by winning National Coach of the Year honors in 2008.

In addition, the league has had a coaching staff member (head and/or assistant) tabbed for regional honors nine times in the last 10 years. Kriese notched the top coaching honor in the Southern region five times (1981, 1984-86, 1988), while Duke's Jay Lapidus was a four-time recipient (1995, 1999, 2001, 2003) in Region II.

Since 2000, the ACC has been well-represented in the NCAA Tournament with North Carolina and Duke regular postseason contenders every year. Wake Forest has been an NCAA participant since 2001.

With the NCAA conducting a single elimination tournament since 1977, the ACC has been a regular conference contender in all except one year (1991). The league has had at least one team advance to the NCAA quarterfinals in 21 of the past 33 years, including the last six seasons.

GEORGIA TECH WOULD LIKE TO THANK...

Endowed Scholarship Donors

Both the Georgia Tech men's and women's tennis teams have been fortunate to benefit from the generous gifts provided by the following people that have endowed scholarships over the past year for Yellow Jacket student-athletes. For more information on how to endow a scholarship for the Yellow Jacket tennis teams, contact head coaches Bryan Shelton or Kenny Thorne, or call the Alexander-Tharpe Fund at the Georgia Tech Athletic Association.

Mr. Kenneth G. Byers, Jr.
Mr. Arthur O. Brannen
Sandra and Allen Ecker
Mrs. Desiree B. Moore
Mr. Albert N. Parker
Mr. James F. Letson

Special Recognition

The men's tennis team would also like to extend a special thanks to Desiree Moore for a recent significant contribution that will enhance the Bill Moore Tennis Center.

"It's all because of Bill. Georgia Tech meant a great deal, and I want to continue to help in any way that I can."
- Desiree Moore

Board and Honorary Board of Trustee Donors

Investing in the future of our student-athletes symbolizes your commitment to the mission of Georgia Tech Athletics. The Yellow Jacket Racquet Club provides a method for patrons to become more involved with the men's tennis program than the average fan. The Georgia Tech men's tennis team would like to thank the following Board and Honorary Board of Trustees for their generous contributions and support of the team.

FOR YOUR GENEROUS CONTRIBUTIONS & SUPPORT OF MEN'S TENNIS

Dan Radakovich

Director of Athletics

Fourth Year at Georgia Tech

In his fourth year as Georgia Tech's Director of Athletics, Dan Radakovich has brought a new vision for excellence to the Yellow Jackets' storied athletics tradition. In a relatively short amount of time since arriving in Atlanta, Radakovich has put his mark on Georgia Tech's athletics program.

The 2008-09 academic year at Georgia Tech was one of unprecedented athletic success.

One year after hiring Paul Johnson as head football coach, Georgia Tech surprised the experts by winning nine games, tying for the ACC Coastal Division title and playing in a 12th consecutive bowl game.

The women's basketball team earned an NCAA Tournament bid for the third consecutive year. The baseball team finished ranked in the top 25 and hosted an NCAA Tournament Regional. The softball team swept the ACC regular season and tournament titles.

The golf team captured the ACC championship, advanced to the NCAA Championships and finished ranked seventh nationally. The men's swimming and diving team enjoyed its best NCAA Championships finish ever (19th) and the women's team broke 10 school records. Women's tennis finished ranked 8th nationally and advanced in the NCAA Tournament round of 16.

Facilities received major upgrades in 2008-09. Shirley Clements Mewborn Field, the new home for Tech's softball program, was unveiled prior to the start of the 2009 season and was ultimately showcased on ESPN when the Yellow Jackets hosted an NCAA Super Regional. The Zelnak Center, a new practice facility for Georgia Tech basketball, opened prior to the start of the 2009-10 season.

Tech student-athletes are performing in the classroom as well. The Annual Progress Report (APR), released by the NCAA in April, showed that seven Yellow Jacket teams earned a perfect score of 1,000 for the 2007-08 year.

The 2007-08 academic year featured the hiring of Johnson as head football coach, women's basketball emerging as one of the top programs in the South, baseball advancing to the NCAA Regionals and women's tennis advancing to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament.

The 2006-07 year was highlighted by Tech's women's tennis team capturing the Institute's first-ever NCAA championship and its third straight Atlantic Coast Conference title. The football team won the ACC Coastal Division and went to its 10th straight bowl game, the men's basketball team earned its third NCAA Tournament bid in four years, the women's basketball team posted its finest season with 21 wins and a berth in the NCAA Tournament, and the golf team won a share of the ACC title for the second straight year.

Outside the competition venues, Radakovich has directed an overhaul of the annual giving and donation structure for Tech athletics, anchored by the TECH Fund, which establishes minimum giving levels tied to season tickets in various seating areas of Bobby Dodd Stadium and Alexander Memorial Coliseum. Several facility upgrades were completed, including the transformation of Tech's former football locker room into a new Technology Center, which benefits academic support services for all Yellow Jacket student-athletes.

Radakovich also initiated the Athletic Director's Initiative Fund in June, 2006, which has raised in cash and pledges more than $12 million. A recent gift from the Henry F. McCamish, Jr., family for the renovation of Alexander Memorial Coliseum, could be worth up to $15 million toward that project.

Named Georgia Tech's Director of Athletics on February 22, 2006, Radakovich came to Georgia Tech after five years as senior associate athletics director at LSU (2001-06), and previously served as the Athletics Director at American University in 2000-01. That followed stints as associate athletics director at South Carolina (1994-2000) and Long Beach State (1989-94) and years as the athletics business manager at Miami (FL) (1983-85).

A graduate of Center High School near Aliquippa, Pa., and a member of its Alumni Hall of Fame, Radakovich, 51, became a football letterwinner and student coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, where he graduated in 1980 with a bachelor of science degree in finance. He was enshrined into the Beaver County Sports Hall of Fame and was recognized as a Distinguished Alumni from IUP in March, 2009.

Radakovich added a master's degree in business administration from Miami (FL) in 1982. He also completed the Sports Management Institute's executive education program in 1992.

He is married to the former Marcie McDonald, and the couple has two children, Christian and Grant. Christian is a sophomore at Georgia Tech.

Dr. G.P. "Bud"
Peterson
Institute President

In April 2009, following a unanimous vote by the University System of Georgia Board of Regents, Dr. G. P. "Bud" Peterson became the 11th president of the Georgia Institute of Technology. In this capacity he oversees a top-ten public research university with more than 19,000 students and more than $500 million in sponsored funding.

Throughout his career, Peterson has played an active role in helping to establish the national education and research agendas, serving on numerous industry, government, and academic task forces and committees.

A distinguished scientist, Peterson was selected in 2008 by President George W. Bush to serve on the National Science Board through 2014. The Board oversees the National Science Foundation (NSF) and advises the President and Congress on national policy related to science and engineering research and education.

Peterson earned a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering in 1975, a bachelor's degree in mathematics in 1977, and a master's degree in mechanical engineering in 1980, all from Kansas State University. He also earned a doctorate in mechanical engineering from Texas A&M University in 1985.

In 1981 and 1982, Peterson served as a visiting research scientist at the NASA Johnson Space Center. In 1985, he joined the faculty of the Mechanical Engineering Department at Texas A&M, where he conducted research and taught courses in thermodynamics and heat transfer.

In 1990 he was named the Halliburton Professor of Mechanical Engineering and in 1991 was named the College of Engineering's Tenneco Professor. In 1993, Peterson was invited to serve as program director for the NSF's Thermal Transport and Thermal Processing Division, where he received the NSF Award for Outstanding Management.

From June 1993 through July 1996, he served as head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering at Texas A&M University and in 1996 was appointed executive associate dean of the College of Engineering, where he also served as associate vice chancellor for Engineering for the Texas A&M University System. Previous leadership positions Peterson has held include provost at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y. and chancellor of the University of Colorado at Boulder.

He also has served as a member of a number of congressional task forces, research councils, and advisory boards, including the Office of Naval Research, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Department of Energy, the National Research Council, and the National Academy of Engineering.

Most recently, Peterson served as a member of the Board of Directors and vice president for Education for the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA). He is currently serving on a number of national accreditation agencies including the American Association of Colleges & Universities, the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, and the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, with a focus on improving and assessing outcomes for higher education.

A fellow of both the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) and the AIAA, Peterson is the author or co-author of 14 books or book chapters, 165 refereed journal articles, and more than 140 conference publications. He also holds eight patents. Having served as editor or associate editor for eight different journals, he is currently serving on the editorial advisory board of two others. He is a member of Pi Tau Sigma, Tau Beta Pi, Sigma Xi, and Phi Kappa Phi.

Professional society awards include the Ralph James and the O. L. "Andy" Lewis awards from ASME, the Dow Outstanding Young Faculty Award from the American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE), the Pi Tau Sigma Gustus L. Larson Memorial Award from ASME, the AIAA Thermophysics Award, the ASME Memorial Award, the AIAA Sustained Service Award, and the Frank J. Malina Award from the International Astronautical Society.

Peterson was born September 1, 1952, in San Francisco, California, and raised in Prairie Village, a suburb of Kansas City, Kansas. He and his wife, Val, have four adult children.

Dr. Sue
Ann
Bidstrup
Allen
Faculty Athletics
Representative

Dr. Sue Ann Bidstrup Allen, a professor in the School of Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering at Georgia Tech, was appointed as the Yellow Jackets' Faculty Executive Assistant in July 2009.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen received her B.S. in Chemical Engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1981. She then attended the University of Minnesota and received her Ph.D. in the field of Chemical Engineering in 1986. After a postdoctoral appointment in the Electrical Engineering Department at MIT, Dr. Bidstrup Allen joined Georgia Tech as an assistant professor in the School of Chemical Engineering in 1988, was appointed to the position of associate professor in 1994 and to the position of professor in 2000. She served as the Associate Chair of the School of Chemical Engineering from 2004 to 2005. In 2005, she was named Faculty Executive Assistant to the President by Dr. G. Wayne Clough and continued to serve in this position under Interim President Gary B. Schuster and President G.P. "Bud" Peterson until August 2009.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen's main research focus is in the area of new materials and processes for microelectromechanical systems (MEMS) and for advanced interconnects for integrated circuits. She has advised nine postdoctoral fellows and has graduated 19 Ph.D. and 14 M.S. students. During her career, she has published approximately 100 refereed articles and has been issued eight patents.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen is a recipient of the National Science Foundation Presidential Young Investigator Award, the DuPont Young Faculty Award, the 2008 American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE) Sharon Keillor Award, and the 2008 Council of Chemical Research (CCR) Diversity Award. She also received the Faculty Leadership Award from Georgia Tech in 1995 and the Packaging Research Center Educator of the Year Award in 2000. She is a Fellow of the Society of Plastics Engineers and is a member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, the American Chemical Society, the Electrochemical Society and the American Society for Engineering Education.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen is married to Mark G. Allen, a professor in the School of Electrical and Computer Engineering at Georgia Tech. They have two children, David and Sarah.

Kenny Thorne

Head Coach

12th year at Tech

141-116 overall record (.549)

Georgia Tech, 1989

Kenny Thorne recorded one of the most successful tennis careers by a player from the state of Georgia, winning seven pro titles and defeating four of the world's top-10 players in the 1990's. Some of Thorne's notable victories include wins over Richard Krajicek, Wayne Ferreira, Mark Philippoussis and Todd Martin. As a pro, he achieved his highest singles ranking of No. 121 and a doubles ranking of No. 67. Thorne brings his love of tennis and impressive professional playing experience to his alma mater, Georgia Tech.

Charged with building the Georgia Tech tennis program back to the level it was when he was a player, Thorne was named to the newly-created position of Director of Tennis on June 30, 1998, becoming the ninth head coach in Tech men's tennis history.

Thorne took over the reins of the Tech program after spending one season as the team's assistant coach and wasted little time in taking steps toward his ultimate goal of turning the Yellow Jackets into a perennial contender.

Thorne has guided a very young squad each of the last two years to an even 23-23 singles record, a team led by two-time All-ACC honoree Guillermo Gomez, who earned ITA/Mideast Regional and ACC Rookie of the Year as a freshman and ITA All-America honors as a sophomore, and played his way into the NCAA Singles Championships both years.

The 2007 squad overcame some major adversity to earn its eighth NCAA Tournament bid over the last nine seasons. Thorne's team finished the season with 4-7 conference record including upsetting then No. 10 Florida State and No. 20 Clemson in back-to-back matches during the season. He also guided David North to his first NCAA Singles Championships, becoming the 44th individual in school history to play in the tournament.

In 2006, the Georgia Tech men's tennis team once again earned a spot in the NCAA Tournament under Thorne and reached the second round for third time. The team finished over .500 for the sixth consecutive season with a 12-10 record. In 2005, Tech had a doubles team compete in the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 1994 and also had an individual compete in the NCAA Singles Championship. Tech would also receive an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament, where it fell to Vanderbilt in the first round by a score of 4-3. Jose Muguruza advanced to the Round of 32 while the doubles team of North and Rajevac, who earned an at-large bid into the tournament, advanced to the quarterfinals and earned All-American honors. North and Rajevac become the fourth players that Thorne has coached to earn All-American accolades.

During the 2004 season, Tech reached the NCAA Tournament and had an individual compete in the NCAA Singles Championship. After opening the dual-match season with a 5-0 record, the Yellow Jackets fell to three ranked opponents, but then regrouped to win five consecutive matches, including wins against Minnesota and Oregon and conference foes Wake Forest and Clemson. After dropping tough matches to Virginia and Georgia, Tech finished out the regular season winning five of six matches, including a 5-2 win over Florida State and a 4-3 come from behind match at South Carolina.

During the 2003 campaign, Georgia Tech earned a spot in the NCAA Tournament and climbed into the 14th spot in the national rankings midway through the year. The Jackets also boasted their first All-America honorees since 1988, as the doubles team of Roger Anderson and Scott Schnugg earned the honor after finishing the year as the country's 10th-ranked tandem. The duo also earned All-ACC honors after winning the league's Flight One Doubles title. Tech finished with a 12-10 record and notched seven wins over ranked opponents, including a 4-2 victory over ninth-ranked Texas on February 16.

In 2002, Tech defeated eight ranked teams and reached the finals of the ACC Championship, en route to a 15-11 dual-match record, while also reaching the NCAA Tournament for the third time in four years under Thorne. In the ACC Tournament, the Jackets upset top-seeded and 14th-ranked Duke in the semifinals by a 4-0 score and ended the Blue Devils four-year reign as ACC Champions. On an individual level, Roger Anderson earned All-ACC honors for the second time and earned his first berth in the NCAA Individual Championship, becoming the first Tech player to do so since 1999.

During the 2000-01 season, Thorne made great strides toward achieving his goal. When the Yellow Jackets climbed to No. 20 in the national rankings on April 11, they claimed their highest ranking since 1988, when Thorne was an All-American and team captain.

Thorne led the 2001 Yellow Jackets to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Roger Anderson earned All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors and three Tech players earned ACC Flight championships in singles or doubles.

Under Thorne's guidance in 2000, Anderson became the first Tech player to earn ACC Rookie of the Year honors after leading the Yellow Jackets with a 24-8 singles record, including a 15-5 mark in dual matches.

In his first year as head coach in 1999, Thorne earned ACC Coach of the Year honors after guiding the Yellow Jackets to a second-place tie in the regular-season conference standings, a runner-up finish at the ACC Tournament, an NCAA Regional berth and a final national ranking of 32 by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA).

• 1988 All-American

• 1988 ITCA Region II Senior Player of the Year

• Georgia Tech Hall of Fame, 1995

• 1999 ACC Coach of the Year

Senior Benjamin Cassaigne was named the ACC Player of the Year, earned all-conference honors and captured the ACC Flight Championship at No. 1 singles under Thorne's guidance. Fellow senior Matt Cozad was also named all-ACC and won the ACC Flight Championship at No. 2 singles. Cozad and sophomore Sergio Aguirre also won the ACC Flight title at No. 3 doubles.

With Tech's 1999 NCAA Regional berth, Thorne became the first person in ACC history and just the second nationally, joining LSU's Jeff Brown, to lead the same school to post-season competition as a player, assistant coach and head coach since the current NCAA team dual-match format was instituted in 1977. (Prior to 1977, team finishes were determined by an accumulation of points based on individual play.) Thorne helped Tech to NCAA play as a senior in 1988, as an assistant coach in 1998 and as head coach in 1999.

Thorne earned an Industrial Engineering degree from Tech in 1989 and during his four seasons as a player from 1985-88, the Jackets posted a 70-38 dual-match record and a 20-7 ACC mark, including wins over nationally-ranked foes such as Georgia and Clemson in 1988, his final season. Tech climbed as high as 10th in the ITA national rankings during Thorne's senior season before the Jackets ended the year ranked 12th nationally.

He qualified for the NCAA singles tournament in 1986 and 1988 and advanced to the second round on both occasions. Thorne also competed in the 1988 NCAA doubles tourney with partner Bryan Shelton. After turning professional in 1989, Thorne spent eight years on the tour, achieving his highest singles ranking of 121 and doubles ranking of 67 in the world. He was also a six-time participant at Wimbledon, the U.S. Open, French Open and Australian Open.

Thorne's best career wins were over 1996 Wimbledon champion Richard Krajicek, ATP No. 11 Wayne Ferreira, Australia's Mark Philippoussis and Todd Martin of the United States. He posted two career ATP doubles titles, one career Challenger singles title and four career Challenger doubles titles.

An All-American in 1988, Thorne finished his Georgia Tech playing career as a four-time All-ACC honoree and the career leader in singles victories with 112. He was also a two-time captain and an Academic All-ACC honoree. Thorne was inducted into the Georgia Tech Athletic Hall of Fame in 1995.

Thorne married former Yellow Jacket cross country standout and Tech Hall of Fame inductee, Bridget Koster, in 1990. The couple has two daughters, Rachel and Kenedy, and two sons, Zachary and Daniel.

Aljosa Piric

Assistant Coach
2nd year at Tech
Richmond, 2000

Aljosa Piric was named assistant coach for the Georgia Tech men's tennis team on June, 2008

"I am very excited and honored to be part of the Georgia Tech family," Piric said. "I look forward to upholding Tech's long lasting tradition with the utmost integrity and I also look forward to helping Kenny and the men's tennis program continue to reach for the next level of athletic excellence."

Piric assists in player development, recruiting and general day-to-day activities related to the program.

"We are excited and fortunate to have Aljosa on our coaching staff at Georgia Tech," Thorne said. "He brings the background and integrity necessary to be an extremely successful coach at Tech. Aljosa developed and directed an extensive junior tennis program in the northeast where the very top U.S. juniors trained. He has a passion to train the total student-athlete and he came to the right place for his passion. Our student-athletes are getting a great role model on and off the court."

A native of Bosnia and Herzegovina, Piric has coached numerous sectional champions and top level U.S. junior players while working at the Stamford Indoor Tennis Academy.

In 2000, Piric coached the Bosnian National boys 18's and under junior team at the team European Championships in Catagna, Italy. He also coached the Bosnian National boys 18's and under junior team at the European Individual championships in Closters, Switzerland.

Piric graduated from the University of Richmond in 2000 with a bachelor's degree in Business Management. As member of Spiders' tennis team, Piric played No. 1 singles and doubles and served as the team captain his senior campaign.

In 1999, Piric was selected to the Bosnian Davis Cup National team that competed against Egypt and Luxembourg in Cairo, Egypt.

Prior to attending Richmond, Piric competed in numerous European junior tournaments and was a member of the Bosnia and Herzegovina National Junior team that competed at the European Team Championships. He attended high school in Richmond, Va., where he won Virginia State High School Championships in singles and doubles.

Piric is married to the former Jessica McGuire, and the couple lives in Smyrna, Ga.

1917-2005

Bill Moore came to Georgia Tech in October, 1934 on a tennis scholarship and earned his living expenses performing a variety of campus jobs. He teamed with Russell Bobbit to win the Southeastern Conference doubles crown in 1938 and help the Yellow Jackets capture the team title. Inducted into the Tech Athletic Hall of Fame in 1972, Moore lost only one singles match during his collegiate career. Following his graduation, Moore worked for W.H. Kelley in the lab at Glidden Paint Co. in San Francisco before joining the Navy during World War II, where he served two years in the South Pacific as an officer on a destroyer. After his military service, he convinced his former Glidden boss, who had retired, to join him in business, the Kelley-Moore Paint Co. After six years of steady growth, Kelley retired again and Moore bought him out. The business went on to become the largest privately held company in the United States. Moore also developed the Broken O Ranch, the largest irrigated acreage in Montana, and was the chairman of Calmutual Insurance Co.

TENNIS CENTER

The Bill Moore Tennis Center was open for the 1988 tennis season and serves as the home of the Georgia Tech Tennis teams. The center was officially dedicated in honor of Bill Moore, whose efforts were vital in the construction of the impressive facility, on October 28, 1988. The center has three lighted indoor courts and two tiers of outdoor courts, six of which are lighted and have grandstand seating for 1,500. Well-suited for hosting tournaments, the Bill Moore Tennis Center has been the site of numerous major events over the last 10 years, including the NCAA Region Championships in 1997 and 2005, the ACC Championships in 1998, and the first and second rounds of the NCAA Women's NCAA Championships from 2005 to 2008.

BILL MOORE STUDENT SUCCESS CENTER

The Bill Moore Student Success Center was made possible through the financial support of several donors, including a $5 million gift from Bill Moore, who said that his gift expressed his strong belief in the "Total Person Concept" and the intention to spread the concept to the entire student body. "The center will be used to recruit all students, not just athletes," Moore said. "It's ongoing programs should help Tech attract the best and brightest candidates from the pool of potential students." The Bill Moore Student Success Center currently houses Career Services, Student Financial Services and Planning, Corporate Liaison Program, Special Programs, and Undergraduate Admissions, and it is located adjacent to the football stadium.

"One of my best memories of Bill Moore is when the team played in the NCAA Tournament at Stanford, and we had the opportunity to visit with him. I remember that it was like he was back in college, telling stories to all of the guys and laughing about all of those memories. It really was a special time for the whole team, to meet someone who has given so much to the program. He and his family have meant a great deal to not just the tennis program, but the entire school, and it was an honor to spend that time with him."

- Georgia Tech Men's Head Tennis Coach Kenny Thorne

"I think that Bill Moore opened up a lot of opportunities for myself as well as the Georgia Tech tennis programs and institute. When I arrived on campus in 1984, there was no indoor complex, but Bill Moore stepped forward and created a great indoor facility so that we could compete and develop as players. I think the success that the programs have had and having are in part because of the opportunities that he has afforded Georgia Tech Tennis 2009-10"

-Georgia Tech Head Women's Tennis Coach Bryan Shelton
