'Red Hot' Ramblin' Wreck Wins Annual Contest for Chi Psi's

Co-op Frosh Start 'Y' Council, Plan Extensive Program

Zeigler, Burnham, Mathison Elected to Lead New Group

This year, for the first time, freshmen co-ops will have their own separate "Y" Council. The new organization met for the first time three weeks ago and elected as its officers Jack Zeigler, of Thomasville, Georgia, president; Charles Burnham, of Gary, Indiana, vice-president; and John Mathison, of Wheeling, West Virginia, treasurer. The purpose of the new club is to give co-op students an opportunity to meet co-ops, and at the same time give them a chance to work jointly with the regular "Y" Council.

According to Jack Zeigler, president, the new co-ops are enthusiastic about their organization, and at the last meeting almost half of the co-op freshman class was present. Already a balanced program has been mapped out which will include regular Sunday afternoon forums, Friday night dances, and organized athletic teams for intramural sports.

Regular meetings are held every Thursday at 6:45 at the Y.M.C.A.

A gold loving cup and the Golden Gaboon, the traditional trophy of the annual "Ramblin Reck" contest, were won by Chi Psi fraternity last Friday night.

The Chi Psi entry was the Ramblin Recker, a model T Ford with a wooden boom built on the rear end. A dummy representing Auburn was suspended from the end of the boom. Flaming cans of cotton saturated with oil and gasoline represented the secondary theme Our Team Is Red Hot. The antics of that flaming, bucking reck represented the inevitable victory of our red hot team, in spite of possible difficulty.

The Phi Gamma Delta reck placed second, with the Theta Chi's and the Beta's taking third and fourth places respectively.

LETTER FROM ANAK

Oct. 29, 1941.

To Students of Ga. Tech:

Due to numerous fraternity activities and various benefits that are given over the week-end, the Anak Society finds it practical to discontinue the Saturday night dances after the football games.

We wish to thank those students who have supported these dances and have given George Leonard and his band a good reception.

Sincerely,
JIM WRIGHT,
President Anak Society.

Primary Elections of Class Officers to Be Held Monday

Political Parties Urge All Students to Vote

Attention all voters at Tech—the Georgia Tech student body will elect its class officers for the new year next week.

The primary election will take place Monday morning, November 3, and the results will be announced the following Friday. The final election is scheduled for Monday, November 10, and the returns will be announced the next Friday.

As is the usual procedure in all elections, candidates are elected to represent each party. At present at Georgia Tech there are two major parties—the All-Student Party and the Progressive Party.

It is very important that each and every Tech student vote in these elections. This is desired so that the officers elected will be the representatives of all students in Tech.

Following are the representatives of each party:

ALL STUDENTS

Seniors

Bill Garrison, Jim Griffith, Chase Reed, Ed Scott.

Juniors

Johnny Bier, Bobby Dodd, Jimmy Hearn, Eddie Van Voorhees, Bill Woodard.

Sophomores

Bob Elder, Bill Harper, Dick Lake, Kirk Nesbit, Ralston Woods.

Freshmen

Al Burman, Arthur Kleiderer, Jack O'Neill, Scott Vinson, Bill Weeks.

NON-POLITICS

Seniors

Jim Wright, Charlie Sanders, Ellis Davis.

Juniors

Ben Stevens, Dave Eldridge, Davis Fitzgerald.

Freshmen

M. J. "Buddy" Sanders, Wally Shiver, George Ewing.

Delegates Attend Statewide Student Conference to Fight For State Schools' Rating

Dr. William Evans, National President Of ACS, Speaks Here

Atlanta and Georgia Tech will be honored in having Dr. William Lloyd Evans, prominent chemist, speak here on Tuesday afternoon, November 11. Chemistry and chemical engineering students will hear him lecture at the large lecture room in the Chemistry Building.

President of A. C. S.

Dr. Evans is President of American Chemical Society, the largest chemical organization in the world. He also holds the position of Professor of Chemistry at Ohio State University, and has contributed much to the advancement of research chemistry.

American Chemical Society

The American Chemical Society is represented in every college and chemical industry of any consequence in all parts of the United States. Each

Tech's Student Council, reemphasizing its efforts to help Tech and the entire University system remain accredited, is sending a delegation to the state-wide Student Conference to be held tomorrow afternoon in Macon, Georgia.

Scabbard and Blade Initiates Fifteen

Military Society Holds Dinner in Banquet Hall

Company M, 2nd Regiment, Scabbard and Blade formally initiated 15 new members from the Senior class on Thursday, October 30. This formal initiation was preceded by a dinner at the ODK Banquet Hall. Colonel E. C. B. Danforth, Executive Officer of Reserve Affairs, Atlanta District, was the principal speaker.

The list of honorary members, former members, and active members present included: Dr. M. L. Brittain, Major R. L. Watkins, Major W. J. Burke, Lieutenant Commanded G. C.

Pi D. E. Holds Fashion Show Saturday at Tech Y. M. C. A.

First Prize Will be 'Station Wagon Jacket' Other Prizes Include Hat and Pair of Shoes

The Georgia Tech chapter of the Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalistic fraternity, will hold its Fall Fashion Show in the Tech Y. M. C. A. building, from 11 a. m. to 2 p. m., this Saturday, November 1. Displays by ten of Atlanta's leading merchants will be featured.

Tech, Agnes Scott Glee Clubs Will Combine to Present Carol Program

Singers Contemplate Tour to Washington

The first public appearance will be a joint Christmas program with the Agnes Scott Glee Club. Each group will sing several numbers, and some mixed chorus numbers will be worked up. If possible, one performance will be given at Agnes Scott and one at Tech.

In the spring the Glee Club plans to present "The Mikado" in conjunction with the Agnes Scott Glee Club. The group, under the able direction of Walter Herbert, intends to work up some of Fred Waring's more popular arrangements.

Tryouts

After tryouts have been completed, between thirty-five and forty voices will be chosen from the applicants for the Tech Glee Club. Stanley Sales, secretary of the group, says they expect this, their third year, to be their best.

Trips Planned

Several trips are being considered for the year; among them are a trip to Washington and trips all over the state to Georgia colleges. However, no definite plans for these trips have been made.

To all boys with good voices who can read music Mr. Herbert extends an invitation to sign their names on the list at the Y. M. C. A. and attend tryouts. The club meets on Mondays and Wednesdays at 5:00 P. M., and tryouts are on Fridays at 5:00 P. M.

Student Conference Tomorrow

The plans for this student conference set forth a well organized group of students representing the sixteen units of the University System of Georgia. This group will plan the strategy to be used by all students in the state in order to consolidate the collegiate strength of Georgia to keep its best schools from being discredited and losing the prestige earned through many years of financial struggling and political meddling.

Student Council Bulletin

The Student Council issued, last Tuesday, a bulletin to show the students, and the state, what measures were being considered by the Council. The proposed mass meeting of students was postponed until after the conference tomorrow, when all the University units will act together.

The Board of Regents

The State Board of Regents meets in Atlanta before the student conference meets in Macon. Many believe that the Board has under consideration a plan to prevent the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools from dropping the University System from their accredited list.

Carnegie Fund Gives Record Library to Tech

Georgia Tech has received approximately 450 records, a specially designed electric phonograph, a walnut cabinet for the thirty-six albums, a set of Grove's, Music and Musicians, and a filing cabinet as a gift on a 50-50 basis from the Carnegie Foundation of New York. The complete set cost eleven hundred ninety-five dollars and Carnegie paid six hundred twenty-five dollars leaving a balance of five hundred seventy dollars to be paid by Tech. The Student Lecture Association gave two hundred dollars and the Student Council gave two hundred fifty dollars. The balance of one hundred twenty-five dollars will be supplied by other Tech organization.

CAMPUS CLOTHES OF AVERAGE TECH MAN DRAW CRITICISM

'Beau Brummell' of Sunday Afternoon Becomes 'Sloppy Joe' Before Monday Morning Classes

By HENRY CAULKINS

Hey, fellows, what the hell! Are we gonna look like tramps all of our college life? The discussion of clothes on the Tech campus has reached a new high, and the criticisms of the same are varied. Some say that the trend of dressing comfortably has slowly fallen into the category of physical dirtiness. Others, less rash, agree that the dress of the average Tech student isn't what it used to be, but offer as alibi the fact that many students have the money to dress like Dartmouth, Princeton, or Virginia students. However, almost everyone who knows or has seen the deplorable condition of the Tech students' dress will admit that a move to curb and reverse this trend would be worthy of the time and effort of an organization on the campus.

Getting "Slicked" Up

But first get the idea out of your head that when you really get "slicked up" people are going to criticize your clothes. That is not the impression you are giving outsiders at all. On the contrary, the several young ladies interviewed by the TECHNIQUE unanimously voted that a Tech man dressed for church or that Sunday afternoon date had no paramount; but that same Tech man reached the other extreme come time for Monday morning classes. A Democratic Publication

For the information of all those concerned, and students especially, let it be known that THE TECHNIQUE is not being censored by the faculty or any other person or school group. Many rumors to the contrary should die a quick death.

The Student Council of Georgia Tech is unique among college students' organizations. It is entirely student controlled, and it governs all student publications, but the Engineer, and all student activities but the Y. M. C. A. and athletics. Therefore, it is the Student Council that should (and it does) represent the student body in all important matters. THE TECHNIQUE is controlled by the Student Council and its more important policies originate therein.

It has been the wish of the Council for THE TECHNIQUE to take a dignified and careful attitude in this University System's controversy with the Governor of Georgia. However, this paper's policy is definitely in sympathy with the movement started by the University of Georgia, and we will support all movements endeavoring to eliminate politics from the University System.

We will print letters from the students if they will make no direct personal attacks upon individuals, if they are accurate, and if they are signed. Student opinion is solicited on any subject that is of interest to the student body in general.

Elections of Class Officers

It's election time again. Monday morning each of us will make a check by the name of the person who, we think, will make the best officers of our respective classes. But this year that seemingly unimportant check will have a much greater significance than it has had in any other year. For, before the semester has past, the struggle of the advanced educational system of Georgia will have been decided—whether these colleges, including Georgia Tech, will be recognized as accredited educational institutions, or whether the fine ideals and foundations of the University System will have been crushed.

And who are assuming the responsibility of striving to maintain this creditable scholastic reputation? It is the student representatives who are taking the responsibility—the student leaders—the men whom the student body elects to represent its ideas and opinions. The men who will be fortunate enough to head their classes will immediately take important positions in the fight for freedom from political interference in education.

So when the primary elections are held next Monday, forget any prejudices or personal ill-feelings, and vote for the student who, you think, will be most capable of fulfilling these principal offices.—G. S. K.

Comply With Stadium Rules

The Athletic Association employs a large number of workers in the student section to help maintain order during the football games, and requests that you, the students, do your part in cooperating so that everyone may enjoy the games. This year there are many more "dates" attending the games, so that it is even more imperative that the following rules and suggestions be observed. There must be no fighting at the games. Liquor is not allowed in the student section. If you must drink, there is a time and place for such a thing, which is NOT in the student section. A silly, vulgar, inebriated person can be very offensive. Don't throw things such as cushions and paper wads, and don't kick coca-cola bottles down the tiers of seats. A broken bottle may very easily cut a person badly. It is poor sportsmanship to cheer when a player on the opposing team is injured. Underclassmen are not allowed to sit in the senior section, and should not attempt to "sneak" in. Any form of swearing is crude and ungentlemanly in the presence of a lady. Don't crowd and push when entering or leaving the stadium.—G. S. K.

Letters to the Editor

Student Council
Georgia School of Technology

BRAVO! I am behind you 100% on your decision to join the state-wide front against political interference in our University System.

We see a people who, stung into action by a base encroachment on their hard-won privileges, will rise with the cry of a million voices and cast aside the depraved forces which seek to enslave them.

Freedom knows no geography. When a bit of it is lost in Georgia, the loss is felt in Melbourne, in Geneva, in Mexico City, in Tobruk, in Vladivostok, in Des Moines, and in Montreal. And a victory won against the forces of oppression in Georgia is a victory won on the bloody plains before Moscow.

Today, as never before, all free men must rally together in defense of all that they hold dear. They must fight with every sinew of their bodies and with every thought of their minds to throw back the powers of darkness which are creeping over the world, whether at home or in foreign lands.

And victory shall be ours, for the wrath of the righteous is a terrible thing to behold!

J. L. WIGGINS.

Editor of THE TECHNIQUE:

Referring to your library article of last week—you can tell Miss Betty Jean O'Brien for me that if she can get a couple of friends as pretty as she is, the whole school will wear a path to the library door without any encouragement in the form of fluorescent lighting and easy chairs, or Thorne Smith first editions.

GENE PIROG, '42.

We Must All Cooperate
Editor of THE TECHNIQUE:

Each day brings new threat of disgrace to the institutions, the people, and the State of Georgia.

The entire University System, including Georgia Tech, is menaced, yet many of us are too complacent. This is the moment for action BEFORE Tech becomes further involved.

We must resolve to take our stand in the University System and voice our protest. We, the students, are united and armed with the sword of enlightenment. This our weapon should overcome any fascist attempt to control the gospel of learning.

Students of Georgia Tech must now assume the initiative.

Ramblin' Wreckonings

Ramblin' Wrecks

Well, me lads, the awarding of the "Golden Gaboon" last Friday night did two things: it climaxed the "Ramblin' Wreck" contest and it started the Yellow Jack-ets on a grand and glorious victory march. If you're not quite convinced, ask any member of the Auburn team. The Ramblin' Wreck contest was exceptionally good this year. The antiques were cleverly adorned and many of the "floats" presented unique ideas. One feature deserving special commendation was the cleanliness and wholesomeness of the message conveyed by each entry.

Pi D. E. Fashion Show

There are going to be big doin's over at the Tech "Y" tomorrow from 12 to 2 p. m., just preceding Tech's victory—a-hem—over Duke. Pi Delta Epsilon is sponsoring its annual fashion show. The added feature of attraction, this year, will be the permission to enter one freshman from each fraternity and dormitory to compete for the "Best Dressed Frosh" award. To avoid any "confooshun" each man entered in the show will wear a small placard bearing his name and the fraternity or dormitory he represents. The people in the audience will act as judges and their decisions will be final. There will be valuable and elegant prizes for all those who win, place or show; and, there will be free drinks (oh, my no—just Coca-Colas) for everyone. Pi D. E. invites each and every one of you to come and be convinced that "Clothes Make the Man."

Porky Stern

From usually reliable sources of information, your columnist has just learned that Lewis (Porky) Stern is leaving for one of his Uncle's resorts—you know, his Uncle Sam! It seems that the old gent was manipulating his official slide rule the other night and his answer to his problem coincided to three places with Porky's draft number. So-o-o, he invited brother Stern to be his guest for a little tutoring in the fancy art of wielding a cold steel bayonet. Your columnist regrets Porky's leaving dear old Tech for he has been around here almost as long as your reporter.

Graduate Club

Most of you are so absorbed by your daily struggle to remain in day school that you probably are unmindful of some forty young gentlemen on the campus who are graduate students. THEY'RE IMPORTANT PEOPLE! Why? Well—a graduate student is a person who has maintained good grades and has remained undaunted throughout his earlier scholastic orgy to secure his Bachelor's degree. He possesses a fearless attitude and an inordinate amount of ambition. He is so full of book-larnin' and practical experience that he has embarrassed the faculty into making him, at least, a laboratory assistant, which serves as an emollient to their consciences. He is smart and they know it!

But, this puffy preamble is to let you know why the new Graduate Club which has just been organized, is so very important. It is composed of important folks and these erudite gentlemen have a very definite object in forming their organization. They expect to be active on the campus in furthering science, first of all. You can count on hearing much more from this group. Watch for intensely interesting articles concerning their research problems and their progress.

Give 'em a great big hand, fellahs! Remember—they've already latched on to that B.S. that many of you are breathlessly persuing.

By PEACEFUL and SUCROSE

Crisp fall weather reigns around Atlanta and the fall crop of sweater hearts are all in their glory. With the evident departure of the summer heat maybe the football games will be a little more spark and a lot less perspiration. Anyway the Auburn game would have been enjoyed a lot more by Charlie Puckett and his date if the weather had been on the cool side. Likewise with Jimmy Griffith and Elaine Outz.

Rumors have it that there is to be a new gossip column dedicated in the Homecoming issue of the YELLOW JACKET. Who is to throw the first spadefull of dirt we don't know. (thanks to Bob Hope).

QUICK QUOTES: Bill Woodard says that he and his better half, Barbara Gaultney, will go to Alabama. How they will get there no one knows as yet—they're just going regardless of all obstacles. . . . Johnny Bier says that he cannot find a truly Southern gal to fit all his various qualifications. Don't think that he hasn't got his eye on a lot of them too. Ask "Mag the Hag" for a list of his latest ones. She's keeping tab of them for him. . . . Joe Trammell and Jim Andrews say they are all lined for the submarine duty with the navy, that is if they can stand the strain at the Navy Submarine School.

It's a hot three cornered race for Tex Freeman's love. The Chi Psi's new sweetheart is being squired by Stach Hand, Sandy McNeill and Spot Thomas with the latter way ahead in the race.

Spike Harrison the railroad magnet is really nuts about Betty Le-maines—what would his Mother say if she knew it was costing him a new bracelet every other week?

Warren Hunt the new campus lady killer has given up Mary Atkins as a bad job—she just wouldn't give him a dollars worth of love for a nickel coke! My how small of her.

Ralph Plaster has a secret crush on Spooky (ready Teddy) Andrews but just can't get up enough nerve to ask her for a date—don't be bashful Huddy I have it on good information that she's waiting by the phone just for you to call and ask.

Ask Prof. Cox what happened to his date last Saturday afternoon if you really want to hear a lot of good tales.

Hal Florence has been squiring La-Rue Mizzel to all the Chi Phi Tea dances, wonder if its due to the fact that she's a Deb this year.

Co-ed Forum Will Be Held Sunday Afternoon at 'Y'

Professor J. E. McDaniel, director of the Georgia Tech Co-operative department, will speak on "What the Government Is Doing and Hopes to Do for National Defense" at the Sunday Co-ed Forum at the Tech Y. Professor McDaniel was with the Secret Service in the first World War and is now district representative of the OPM.

This co-ed forum is open to Tech students, their dates and friends; members of the faculty; students from other colleges; and young men and women of the city. The program will start at 4 o'clock and refreshments will be served before the speaker presents his subject.

state consists of a section, corresponding to a chapter, of the national organization. Dr. Waddle, of the chemistry department, is this year's president of the Georgia Section.

Eloquent Speaker

Last year Dr. Evans visited the Georgia Section, presenting a very interesting lecture concerning a recently developed phase of chemistry. A large crowd attended because Dr. Evans is known to be capable of speaking not only to a technical group, but also of making his lectures interesting to the person who has a very slim knowledge of chemistry.

Recent Issue of 'Esquire' Lists Clothing Needs of College Men

In a recent edition of ESQUIRE there were printed three guides for buying clothes to suit your college life. The quality of the material of these articles was for students who could afford to put more money into them than most Tech students can, but all the articles listed were classified as "musts" on every college student's list. Below is a reprint of one of these lists (with appreciation to ESQUIRE) compiled for Tech men.

College Wardrobe

- 1 raincoat
- 1 topcoat—camel's hair polo or reversible
- 2 suits—single breasted, 3-button, tweed, cheviot or covert cloth; double breasted worsted
- 1 odd jacket
- 2 pairs shoes—1 brown; 1 black
- 6 suits underwear
- 2 pajamas
- 8 pairs hose
- 1 robe—flannel or rayon
- 1 pair slippers
- 12 handkerchiefs
- 6 neckties
- 2 sweaters
- 1 dress suit or dinner jacket

Miscellaneous material, including belt, suspenders, garters, tie clips, studs for dress suits, etc.

Cost of Wardrobe

A moderate price to pay for these mentioned articles would be about $160, depending on the stores and the grade of merchandise purchased. However, the price range can go on up to $500 if the boy concerned can pay that much and cares that much to be a "walking esquire."

How to Dress

Formal attire is worn to the mid-winters and to the finals, as well as to formal fraternity parties and to deb functions. For the week-end date or football game, top choice is the single-breasted suit with topcoat if the weather calls for the latter. To classes colored shirt with tie to match and odd jacket is unbeatable, with sport shirt second choice.

All week-end dress calls for coat and tie with plain suits the best bet for style. Sport coats and jackets are for informal dances and sports attendance. Of course all clothes must be worn with as much discretion as with which they were purchased; your wardrobe must suit your own personal needs and likes, and if you wear them as they are supposed to be worn, no one can have any kick coming. Dress like a gentleman, and you will find that you are a gentleman.

Skull and Key Takes In Sixteen New Men

Initiation Starts Today For Newly Elected Sophs

This week-end sixteen new men will be initiated into the Skull and Key society. The initiation Davis Fitzgerald, president, announced, will extend from Friday morning through Saturday night, consisting of the initiation familiar to the upperclassmen. Chosen as outstanding sophomores from fourteen fraternities and one non-frat. man, the new members are:

Bill Young, Beta Theta Pi, Thomas McMurray, Pi Kappa Phi, Eddie Lerner, Phi Epsilon Pi, Davis Hornbrook, S.P.E., Millard Haynes, Phi Delta Theta, Harold Lyons, Delta Sigma Phi.

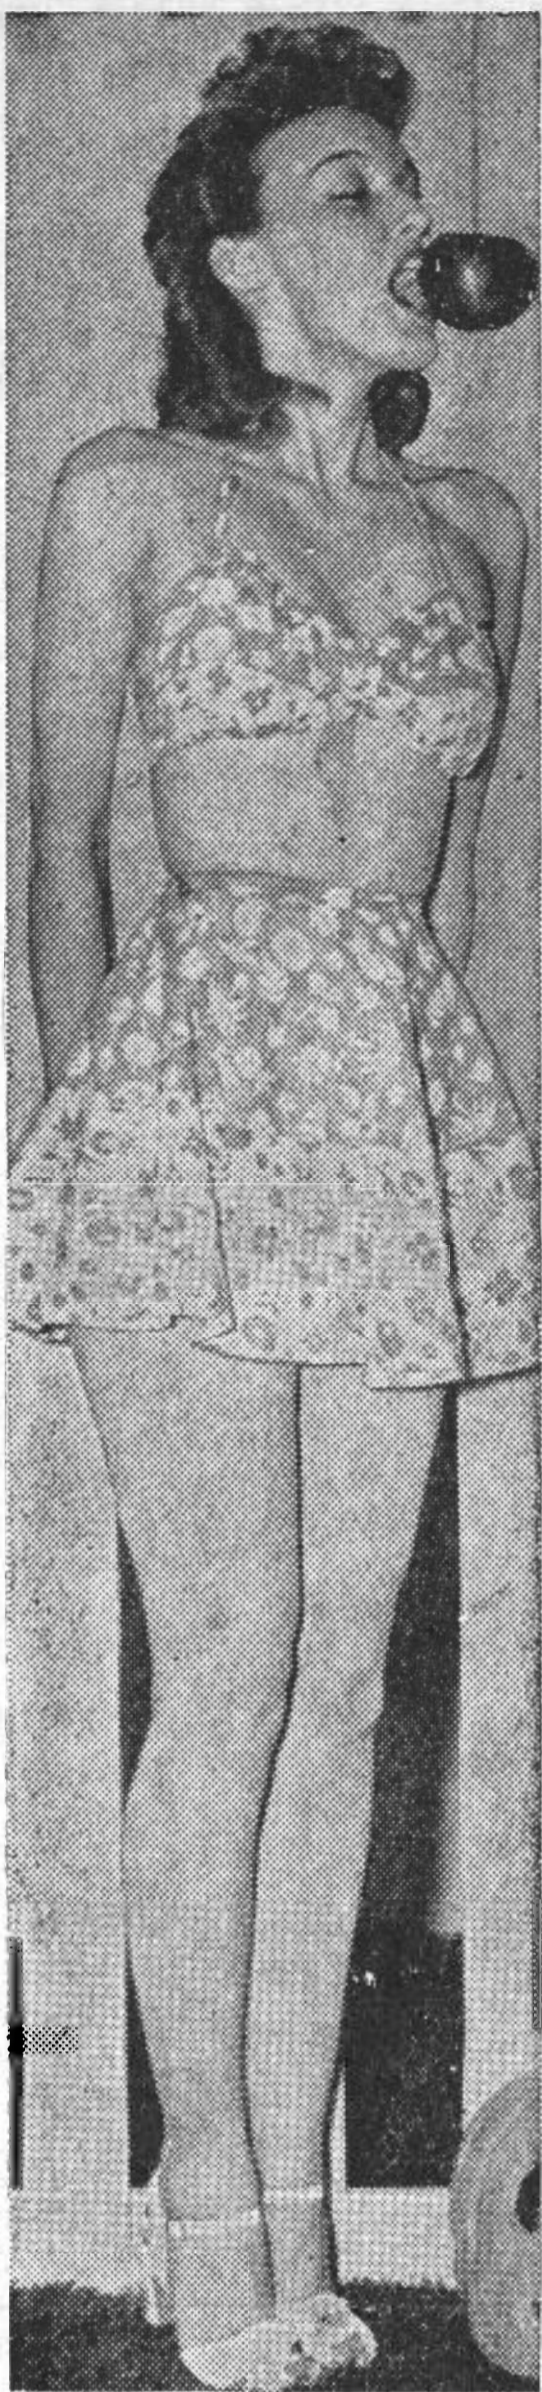

Bill Sheppard, KA, Horace Raymond, Phi Gamma Delta, Kuyk Shepherd, Sigma Nu, Erskin Fraser, Pi Kappa Alpha, Jimmy Hicks, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Mosely Collins, ATO, Bill Darrin, Chi Psi, Harry Morrow, Delta Tau Delta, Robert Beard, Non-Frat.

Pamphlet of Revised Council Constitution Ready for Students

Last spring just before school closed, the Student Council concluded a thorough and extensive revision of the Constitution of the Student Council of the Georgia School of Technology.

A few days ago several hundred little pamphlets were printed containing the new constitution. These are kept in Dean W. V. Skiles' office, and can be obtained by any student by asking his secretary for a copy.

This year's "T" book contains a complete copy of the constitution so every freshman should have one. The upper classmen will have to obtain theirs from the Dean's office.

HALLOWEEN is expressed in many ways, but we sure do like this expression. It's the best picture of an apple we've seen in a long time.

'SLOPPY JOE'—

metamorphosis from "slick to slouch" was automatic with the advent of classes

Don'ts

Some of the most emphasized "don'ts" are enumerated here for your benefit. Don't wear sandals to school with no socks; don't wear those cotton "GA. Tech A. A." shirts to class, they're for athletics; wearing overalls to labs until they are so dirty and stiff that they have to be bent to get them into the laundry is another emphasized "don't;" and finally don't go around the classes (in the hotter months) with insufficient clothes on—there are ladies on the campus at all times.

15 Minutes A Day

Now—the fact emphasized by both faculty and the young ladies was that a student who got up fifteen minutes earlier and dressed for class in a neater and more respectable manner did far superior work in his classes throughout the day. This is not merely the fanatic idea of some style-crazy onlookers; these facts have been scientifically tested and proven to be correct. Understand that we are not trying to tell you, Tech student, that you are dirty and have no right sense of decent dress; we are merely saying that you have lapsed into sloppiness and untidiness instead of maintaining neatness in your efforts to dress comfortably.

Dress Like a Man

Finally, Tech brother, don't—oh, the devil—you were taught how to dress neatly and nicely when you were old enough to dress yourself. It's just the "thing that's done" in college to try to be different and dress as queerly as possible. But—get this, fellows—the girls don't like it!!! If you want to impress the one and only or the entire crowd on the avenue, dress like a man—only men are supposed to be admitted to Georgia Tech!

Radio Club Elects Three New Officers

New Members Inducted; Code Classes Held Weekly

In the recent organization meeting of the Radio Club, Bruce O'Neal was elected president, with Lee Apple vice-president and David McKinney, secretary.

The new members are Harry Greenberg, William E. Smith, John Waldron, Tom Bergin, Bushnell Best, and Horace L. Borden, Jr. All other students interested are cordially invited to join.

Under the guidance of the sponsor, Professor E. A. Rosselot, plans have been made for the coming year. The club will take part in several national radio-operating contests sponsored by the American Radio Relay League. In addition to technical work club members will present talks each week on radio subjects of interest. Members who are working toward amateur licenses may participate in code practice four afternoons a week—Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

The club station W4AQL, which ranges up to 400 watts, operates on 80, 40, 20, and 10 meters. Operating from the Radio Shack, located in the Power House, it can be readily picked up in both phone and code by any shortwave radio located on or near the campus.

Dr. Charlotte Boatner, assistant professor of chemistry at Tulane university, has discovered an allergy preventive to relieve hay fever and asthma.

Summer School CPT Graduates All Men With Top Records

The Georgia School of Technology summer program in CPT finished up with a very unusual record. It finished 100%. All the men passed their physical exams, soloed, and now have their licenses. Forty men finished this course—thirty finished in primary course and ten finished the secondary course.

Within the past two weeks the first instructor's course was completed. Walter Grace, a Senior M. E. student, and J. D. Gainey just received their instructor's ratings. E. R. Bunnell received his commercial license, which requires 200 solo hours and extended ground training. This commercial license is required before the instructor's rating may be obtained.

UNDEFEATED DUKE INVADDES FLATS

Unbeaten Vandy Is King of SEC Teams

Major Conference Threats are LSU, 'Bama; Wave Still Deadly

Going into the second half of the season we find the conference gridiron situation about as muddled as a dozen eggs in an electric fan; all pre-season favorites have been trounced, and but one conference member boasts a clean slate.

SEC Giants Battle

The top SEC battle this week is a natural, featuring one of these "favorites" and the lone unbeaten outfit, with Tulane teeing off against Vandy in Nashville. Potentially a national champion, blessed with a great line, an array of All-America calibre backs, oodles of reserves, and a versatile attack, it's a mystery how the Wave manages to kick ball games away. Toughest when bouncing back (ask North Carolina), Vanderbilt's the one that gets them on the rebound this time and the Commodores had best be on their toes. However, Vandy will be out to show the Homecoming old-grads some of the stuff that's been responsible for their rise from long-shot title-contender to number six slot on Williamson's National Rating, and the Greenies won't be counting on catching them asleep.

LSU Favored Over Vols

In another Homecoming skirmish, rapidly climbing L. S. U. entertains Tennessee in Baton Rouge. The Bayou Tigers had a time of it last week with Florida; the Gators even contested the authenticity of the winning field goal. Likewise the renowned Vols were handed a little scare by Cincinnati.

Down Columbus way, in neutral territory, the natives are all het-up over the renewal of the most ancient feud in Southern sportdom annals. Having met since 1892, Georgia and Auburn yearly throw a classic that's always a Big-Game by virtue of its tradition; the pressure's on here and there's seldom an odds-on favorite.

'Bama Faces Kentucky

The fourth conference struggle sends Alabama's great eleven out against Kentucky. After massacres of Tennessee and Georgia, backers have started comparing the current with the Rose Bowl champs of the Howell-Hutson era and the Wildcats can only hope and pray that the 'Bamans will be so concerned with their next week's gigantic run-in with Tulane that they'll have little regard for tomorrow's tilt in Birmingham.

TRAPPED—must be echoing in the mind of Joe Connell, Pitt back, as Duke players swamp him. Duke won 27-7. This week-end, the Blue Devils will face Georgia Tech in Atlanta.

Varsity Rifle Team Will Open Practice Soon for '42 Season

The Tech Rifle Team will hold its first practice session about two weeks before the Christmas holidays. This year's team will be the first to use the new indoor rifle range which will be completed by November 9.

The Bull's Eye Artists have a chance to make a pretty good showing this year as only five men are lost from last year's squad. Returning varsity members are E. S. Walton, J. G. Kearney, E. P. Owen, O. L. Roberts, J. F. Richards, J. A. Feagle, R. W. Feagles, E. S. Love, C. Edelblut, and W. K. Woodard. Lest this imposing list of names scare away potential sharpshooters, it must be remembered that most matches are conducted with fifteen men on each team, and there are three squads—the varsity, the R.O.T.C., and the freshmen.

Although the schedule has not been completed as yet, matches have been arranged with Niagara, Idaho, Maryland, Washington State, Detroit, California, Michigan State, and Florida. In addition to these, there will be the big contests of the year; the Hearst Trophy Match, the IV Corps Area Match, and the National Rifle Association Sectional Match.

Jacket Netmen Hold Fall Tournament

Strong '42 Team Hoped for As Three Lettermen Return

The Tech racketeers are making the most of their very promising material by holding their first fall practice in several years in the form of a round-robin tournament.

Charles Lindsey, number one player last year; Johnny Bethune, John Graham, and Bill Johnson are returning from last year's team and will be reinforced by Buck LeCraw, out last year because of a bad knee; Carlton Welburn, a transfer from North Georgia College; and Nelson Abell, a soph who has a chance to beat out Lindsey for the number one spot, will also be under Coach Bortell's tutelage. Jackets Seek Upset of Powerful Blue Devils

By Martin Parker
Sports Editor, Duke Chronicle

Duke university's undefeated football team will place its record on the line for the sixth time this season when it invades Atlanta Saturday for its traditional battle with Georgia Tech.

This week's game will be the third in four starts that the Blue Devils have played away from home, and, in addition to having to face an ever-powerful opponent, they will be playing under the handicap of being once more on foreign territory.

But the Dukes are determined that no blot shall be placed on their record by the Yellow Jackets. The past week has seen them undergo some of the most strenuous pre-game preparation of the season.

Lack of Reserves

Hampered by the loss of his two first string ends, Luther Dempsey and Al Piasecky, by virtue of injuries, Coach Wallace Wade has been hard at work on his flank problem.

Bob Gantt, a husky sophomore, and two juniors, Ralph Morgan and Jim Smith, will probably see most of the action at the ends on Saturday. All three of these men proved themselves capable performers in the 27-7 win over Pittsburgh, but Wade is not trying to hide the fact that he is left short of reserve material.

In fact, it has been the problem of reserves that has caused the Duke mentor his major worry all season. It is true that the deficiency has not been severely felt by the Dukes thus far, but the opinion up here on the Methodist Flats is that the Tech game may be the one to test the Blue Devils to the limit and find the Yellow Jackets capable of taking advantage of the Duke weak point.

Passes Contribute to Attack

Duke's attack this season has been centered about the pass-catching ability of big Steve Lach, and the uncanny aim of Tom Davis and Moffat

Storer, who alternate at tailback, to toss a football near enough for Steve to get his hands on it. This triumvirate, which is also able to strike effectively on the ground, has been one of the major factors in the rolling up of the 166 points that the Blue Devils have scored in five contests.

Another major offensive item is added by the plunging ability of two fine fullbacks, Winston Siegfried and Leo Long. These two Blue Devils have contributed 60 of the Duke points, Siegfried leading the team with 42.

Two Blue Devils who will bear watching Saturday, or any other day that Wade's warriors take the field, are tackles Mike Karmazin and Bob McDonough. Seniors, with a wealth of experience behind them, they are rounding out their collegiate careers this fall with some of the finest line play ever witnessed on Wade teams that have been noted for good linemen.

Have Fine Line

The center of the Duke line is held up by Captain Bob Barnett at center and Pete Goddard and Tommy Burns at guard. Barnett will be remembered for his sterling defensive exhibition in the closing minutes of the Duke-Tech game in Atlanta two years ago.

Tommy Prothro, husky signal-caller, who last year was voted the leading blocker in the Southern conference, rounds out the Blue Devil first team.

WSB To Broadcast Game

The Tech-Duke game will be broadcast over WSB on Saturday, November 1, at 2:45 P. M. The sponsor, the Atlanta Coca-Cola Bottling Company, will feature Marcus Bartlett as the announcer. WSB has the exclusive broadcasting rights in Georgia to this game.

Inspired Tech Squad Crushes Auburn, 28-14

Bosch Supplies Key to Tech Offense As Tigers Fumble

A squad of Auburn Tigers keenly felt the sting of the running and passing attacks of the Yellow Jacket swarm when they were dealt out a 28 to 14 defeat at Grant Field last Saturday.

Little Johnny Bosch, completely recovered from his knee injury, led his teammates to victory with a display of skill and determination that often sent the spectators screaming to their feet.

Team Fights for Victory

During a slow first half, in which penalties were plentiful, neither team showed any distinct advantage, and the Engineers were able to cross the double stripe marker but once. George Webb gathered in one of Bosch's passes to give Tech her first half tally. In the third quarter Johnny Bosch picked up an Auburn punt on his own forty and raced sixty yards for the Engineer's second score.

Bosch ran and passed in an admirable fashion. Pat McHugh's educated toe ably helped in keeping the Tigers at a respectful distance. Eldredge twisten and turned his way over many yards of turf. The whole forward wall was determined not to let those Tigers through.

Score in Second Quarter

In the second quarter of the game when Tech found herself on her opponents 41 yard line, Dodd received the pass from center and piled through the line for a gain of five yards. On the next play Bosch's aerial to Arthur was good for thirty yards, and the squirming end carried the ball another six. Three running plays netted as many yards. Bosch tossed one into the waiting arms of Webb who stepped over the goal unhampered by any resistance. Plaster booted one through the uprights for the conversion.

Early in the third quarter Jenkins, one of Auburn's substitute backs hurriedly punted one from his twenty into the dangerous hands of Johnny Bosch. Starting from his own forty, Johnny headed for the sidelines, picked up a flank of blockers, and sped for the goal. Again Plaster found his mark with his placement, and the score stood Tech 14, Auburn 0.

Auburn made desperate by the score, began to gamble and Tech scored twice more in the third quarter on pass-interceptions, making good the extra points.

Tigers Make Comeback

At this time the Tigers got their second wind and roared back into the game. The Plainsmen marched over seventy yards to chalk up their first score.

Again in the fourth period Auburn gathered enough punch to score. The Tigers changed to the offensive when they received a fumble on their own 39. Covering 58 yards by means of excellent passing, Auburn rolled to Tech's three. Tech was penalized for excessive time out, and in two attempts Irby smashed across into scoring territory. Chateau made good the extra point.

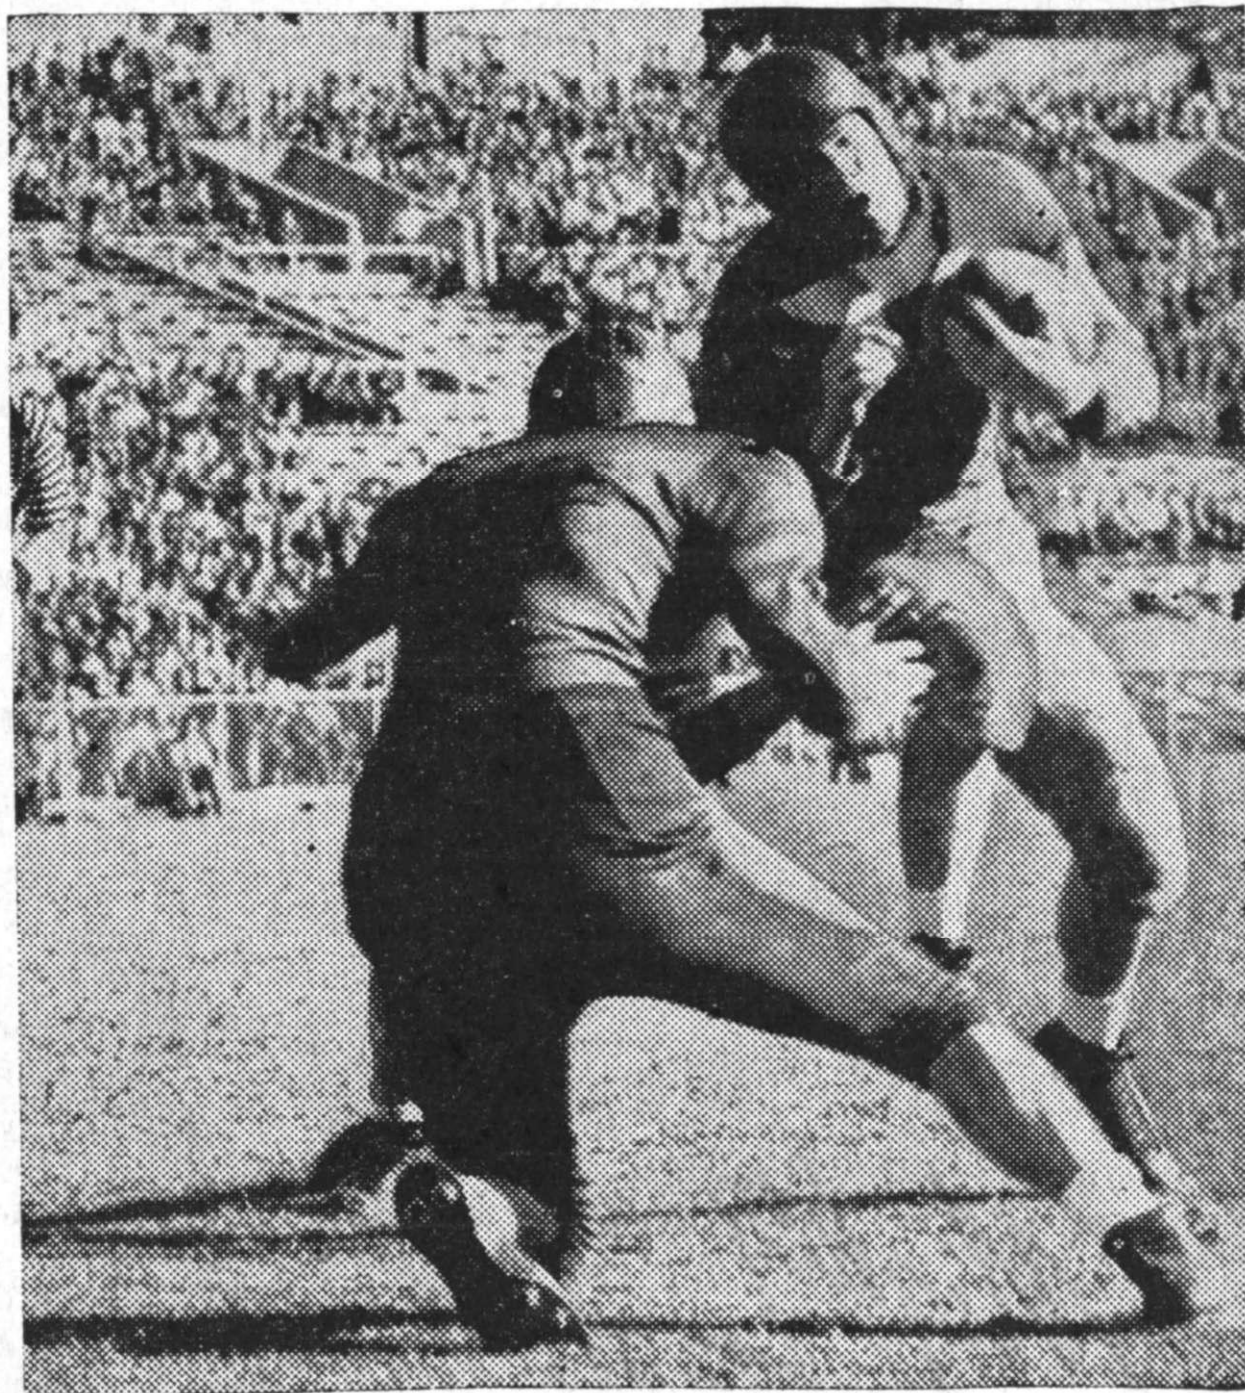

Jacket 'B' Team Will Play Outside Games

Opponents Scheduled From Army and Navy Stations

This year for the first time in Tech's current football history, the "B" team will play outside opponents. A recent Southern Conference ruling now permits college "B" teams to engage in competition with the squads of our armed forces. The experience so gained by the red-shirted boys should benefit Tech's future teams.

Large crowds of the khaki-clad boys are expected to attend the franchises.

The first scheduled game is with the sailors of the Naval Air Station on November 7 at Albany, Georgia. On November 29 the Red Devils face the 29th Infantry football squad at Fort Benning, Georgia. As yet these are the only scheduled games.

DUKE VS. GEORGIA TECH

Duke's powerful eleven, one of the few undefeated major teams in the country, will be renewing this Saturday a series which had its origin on a never-to-be-forgotten day in the autumn of 1933. The '33 Wadesmen had been slaughtering all the opposition in sight, and there was little doubt that a victory over Georgia Tech would result in a Rose Bowl bid. Tech was not even conceded an outside chance, and the question of how many touchdowns the Tech defense would allow the visiting Blue Devils was the only concern of the experts. Throughout the game, the underdog Jackets outplayed the Dukes, and when the final gun sounded Tech was on the long end of a 6-0 score. The touchdown was scored on a series of forward passes by Phillips.

In 1935 the Engineers again handed the Dukes their first defeat of the campaign, by that same 6-0 count. The '37 and '39 contests were without a doubt two of the most thrilling spectacles staged at Grant Field.

A valiant '37 Tech team fought themselves into the lead twice, but a fumble in the last seconds paved the way to a 20-19 Duke triumph. The Orange Bowl Jackets lost a 7-6 heartbreaker to the Blue Devils when a last-minute field goal attempt fell inches short of victory.

Can Tech be coming to life? Last week the lust for touchdowns reappeared in a Jacket eleven. The heralded attack of speedy backs behind a strong line finally paid off in an amazing display of that once-lacking scoring punch. The question of the moment is whether or not the Tech offense will continue to function in this week's contest against the powerful Duke invaders.

As in past years, Tech is again the underdog. But in past years, Tech has surprised the football world with some startling upsets. Grantland Rice has reported that the only team standing a chance to defeat the Dukes is Georgia Tech. If Tech's forward wall, which has performed brilliantly to date, can stop the dreaded Duke running attack, led by Lach, Siegfried & Co., Coach Wade may be heading for another nightmare in Atlanta.

Ricardo Alfaro, Ex-Head Of Panama, Will Speak

The unpublicized Latin American view of hemisphere politics will come to light at Agnes Scott Wednesday evening, November 5, when Ricardo Alfaro, former president of Panama, speaks on "Hemisphere Solidarity and Defense."

Recognized Authority

Agnes Scott's second lecturer of the season, Alfaro will appear in Presser Hall at 8:30 under the auspices of the Student Lecture Association, headed by Miss Mary Louise Palmour.

Alfaro is a recognized authority on Pan-American relations and on international law, having served Panama as vice-president and president of the Republic, minister plenipotentiary to the United States, premier of the cabinet, member of the United States—Panama Joint Land Committee, Counselor of the Panama legation in Washington, and assistant secretary of foreign affairs.

Prominent Diplomat

With Cordell Hull, he drafted the famous Panama Canal treaty in his 1933-36 term in Washington as minister. Introduced by Hull, he spoke last spring at the annual meeting of the American Society of International Law. He has decorations from six nations for his work in the diplomatic field.
