TECH HOST TO P. D. E. JOURNALISTS IN 1928

STORMY PETRELS OF OGLETHORPE TO BATTLE TECH'S GOLDEN TORNADO SATURDAY

HOLMAN ELECTED SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT

Prof. Sparks Elected National President

Ed White Represents Tech

Ed White who attended the recent convention of Pi Delta Epsilon at Columbus, Ohio, was successful in bringing the convention to Atlanta next year and in naming Professor Sparks as National Grand President.

The convention opened Thursday night with a smoker and get together with the delegates from the different chapters throughout the country assembled at the Beta Theta Pi house. The convention proper opened the following morning with the appointment of committees and the discussion of some of the new business brought before the assembly. A short recess was declared so that the delegates might review the Armistice Day demonstration by the 3,700 or more Ohio State students in formal military review. It was a most impressive ceremony with 21 salutes fired.

Discussion on the granting of charters to Centre College, Westminster and Denison University occupied most of the afternoon session with the result that the feeling among the delegates was to table the three charters until the 1928 convention. Delegates from the petitioning chapters were present and presented strong arguments and illustrated the fine work which they were doing. A new form of ritual was introduced by H. E. Lobdell, grand secretary and it was moved that the new ritual be given a thorough trial by all chapters. This is something new in this form of business. However upon motion of the Atlanta delegates it was moved that the Tech and Emory chapters put on a model initiation at the 1928 convention.

J. B. Glover Speaks to A. S. M. E. Society

Former Student Tells of Tour

James B. Glover, a graduate of Georgia Tech in the class of 1926 spoke to the student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers Tuesday afternoon, November 8, in the M. E. lecture room. Glover told of his trip through England, France, Spain, Italy, and Switzerland, at the helm of a flivver touring car, which he and a couple of class-mates at Tech occupied the summer after their graduation. Glover is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, and he was an honor student in the Mechanical Engineering department during his undergraduate days.

Meetings of the student branch are held bi-weekly, and on alternate weeks the members attend technical moving pictures which the M. E. department provides for the benefit of all students who care to see them at the regular meeting hour.

A short time ago the society had the privilege of hearing Earl F. Scott, of Atlanta, who is the only man whom the Tech branch has chosen to make an honorary member of the local organization. Mr. Scott is a well-known and active member of the American Society nationally, and is one of Atlanta's foremost engineers. His college days were spent at Vanderbilt University and at Cornell.

"From Coal to Electricity" was the subject of the motion picture which the members saw Tuesday afternoon.

Scabbard and Blade Selects Sixteen

Initiation To Be Held Dec. 10

Scabbard and Blade, the honorary military fraternity, held its first meeting of the year in the club room, Monday night, Nov. 14. The election of new men was held, and sixteen men were voted to be offered bids.

Among other business discussed was that concerning a tea dance to be given at the Biltmore Hotel on Dec. 10. This will be given in honor of the pledges and sponsors.

Following is a list of the men elected: J. W. Howell, C. A. C.; K. L. Brewster, Inf.; J. T. Clark, Inf.; D. Morton, Inf.; T. F. Faires, Inf.; J. C. Jett, Inf.; K. M. Thrash, C. A. C.; R. H. Carswell, A. S.; W. J. Holman, Jr., S. C.; E. H. Roane, Inf.; E. J. Tracy, Inf.; J. L. Chaille, Inf.; C. L. Humphries, C. A. C.; C. J. Ford, C. A. C.; L. L. Murray, S. C.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Skull and Key wishes to announce the election of Charlie Witmer to their organization. Through an oversight, Witmer's name was omitted from the list published in the Technique last week.

Peter Pund, V-Pres. Player, Secretary James, Treas.

Jack Holman, of Paris, Tenn., a prominent member of the Sigma Chi fraternity was elected president of the senior class at the first meeting of the year last Tuesday morning at the Y. M. C. A. At the same time Peter Pund of Augusta, Ga., and a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity was elected vice-president, Frank Player of Atlanta, Sigma Phi Epsilon, secretary and Walter James also of Atlanta and a member of Phi Delta Theta was elected treasurer.

The election of the officers terminated into a very close and heated race with Holman winning out over Pund by 71 to 66 votes. The other races for offices were as close. A great deal of interest was shown by and from the graduating class and the present indication more will be accomplished this year than during the three previous ones.

Yellow Jacket Seeks Mu Eta Tau Chapter

"Greater Georgia" Number Progressing

The National Honorary College Comic Fraternity, Mu Eta Tau, may grant a charter to the Yellow Jacket. This is a fraternity to sponsor the college comics and it is to the college comics what Pi Delta Epsilon is to the regular college journalistic work.

Mu Eta Tau has quite a number of chapters. It was founded at the University of Oklahoma some few years ago and, since it founding, has rapidly spread to other colleges. It is a highly humorous fraternity in every respect, but, at the same time, it keeps ever mindful of the fact that the college comic is one of the best forms of advertising that the school can have. It works for a better comic, more spirit from the students, and to put their comic publication on a much firmer basis.

Pi D. E. Initiates Twelve Men

Banquet Held at Biltmore Following Ceremonies

Twelve men, recently elected to Pi Delta Epsilon National Collegiate Honorary Journalism Fraternity, were initiated last Tuesday night.

The neophytes were J. M. Nichols, Hazard Reeves, E. E. Ezell, Albert Armour, Dan O'Connell, Clem Ford, Henry Bickers, J. W. Howell, "Cus" Pierce, Henry Bemis and Hal Williams.

After the initiation which was held in the Technique office the society adjourned to the Atlanta Biltmore Hotel for a banquet. Ed White who came back from the convention a short time ago spoke, giving a report of the happenings at this meeting, and brought the news, most important of all, that next year the convention of Pi Delta Epsilon is to be held in Atlanta and that Professor G. M. Sparks is to be the National Grand President.

The Tech chapter and the Emory University chapter will be hosts to the journalists when they come to the convention city, and plans are already under way for a big meeting.

Professor Sparks was present and spoke about Pi Delta Epsilon, its reorganization, and what is has done in the last several years to warrant the name of "the most active honorary society on the campus". He pointed out to the present membership, both old and new men, that they had quite a standard set in the past for them to live up to if they intended to make Pi Delta Epsilon as active this year as in the past.

Doctor J. B. Crenshaw, a charter member of the Tech chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, and widely known as the editor of The Razzberry of 1927—this honor having been placed upon him by the society at its fall banquet last year—spoke a few words on what Pi Delta Epsilon can do to improve the field of journalism both at school and after school, and cited instances of what it has already done.

Peachtree Road Clan Set for Jackets

Both Teams in Good Condition

The Yellow Jackets of Tech will trot out on the Flats Saturday with the very firm intention of administering a severe drubbing to the Petrels of Oglethorpe. It must be remembered that the Jackets fell before the onslaughts of the Petrels last year by the score of 7-6, and they are desirous of wiping out that taste of defeat.

The visitors will bring all the tricks of their trade with them in hopes of wrecking any Southern Conference games held by Tech. It will hardly be probable that the invaders will chalk up any such threat however, for with the record of the Jackets and the games played by Oglethorpe so far, there is a strong indication of another Tech victory.

The Petrels have won but one game out of five starts. The first three games were lost, then the Petrels managed to down Presbyterian College by a score of 14-6. The Mercer Bears came along on Peace Day and smashed the Petrels by a decisive score of 21-7.

Tech has defeated all its Southern Conference rivals so far with the exception of Vanderbilt, which was a tie game. The Jackets showed good form last Saturday when they downed the invading L. S. U. team by a 23-0 count.

All in all it looks to be a hard day for the invading team. After this game there are but two more, Auburn and Georgia, and maybe a Southern Conference championship.

Y. M. C. A. Sponsoring Activity

Debating, which has been more or less existent in spontaneous forms as an activity around Tech for the past several years, is to take on new life this year under the guidance of the Y. M. C. A.

This organization is going to conduct debates between the freshmen of the different dormitories on questions which are of vital interest to life and world conditions. Professor Folk of the English Department is in charge of the debates.

The following outline gives the information for the first debate. There will also be opportunity for a team among those not in the dormitories.

Gassiert Takes Leading Part

George Gassiert, Nathan Ayres and Griffith Edwards, members of the Tech Glee Club gave their services to the Brenau Alumni Association for the Brenau benefit performance of Victor Herbert's "Only Girl". Margaret Newman, of Brenau, sang the part of the leading lady with George Gassiert as the leading man.

Only one performance of this light opera was given and to though the performance was given a full house and offers for other cast performances were given, due to the necessity of students and their time being necessarily very limited, only the one performance was given.

The play was unusually successful to have been rendered by the efforts of students and is possibly speaks remarkably for the efforts of the coaches and actors, still better prelude to other and the student talent performances given by the combined college forces.

The performance was given for the purpose of raising funds for the Brenau Endowment fund.

240 Freshman Names on List of Pledges

Rush week is over and at least the mad scramble of the upper-classes has slackened. The waiting and hopeful freshman has either had his dream fulfilled or shattered and peace once more reigns on the campus, at least so it appears to the outsiders.

For most fraternities this has been one of the most successful and complete rush periods in the annals of their history and although there are a few men still being rushed, in the most part the lodges have completed their lists for the first term.

Approximately two hundred and have been from the freshman class membership in chosen for prospective membership in fraternities. They

Election Held Thursday Night

At a meeting of the Koseme Society of Georgia Tech on last Thursday night, several men of the present Junior class were chosen to take their seats in the organization. For the new men who, as yet, have not learned what Koseme is, this may be said: Koseme is the Junior class honorary at Tech and several men of that class are picked each year to carry on the work left off by their forerunners. These few students must be of good standing scholastically, and must be leaders in some of the school's activities.

Following men have been chosen for their initiation throughout the year and go on November 21 and go on Von Weller, the week: Phil Cook, Bob Durant, Carl, Cartie Jack McCrocklin, B. MILITARY COURTESY

Last year Tech lost her rating as a distinguished college in military. The one thing that counted most heavily against the school was lack of proper military courtesy. Tech cadets have not been saluting officers. Why, it is difficult to tell. Various reasons have been offered, but, whatever the reason may be, the fact remains that the salute is nearly altogether defunct at this institution. Our disciplinary drill is very good, and the classroom work seems to pass quite well with inspecting officers. Yet, until we show the proper sign of military courtesy, Tech will undoubtedly remain off of the distinguished list, and will not receive the equipment and attention from the War Department necessary for a good military unit.

Fellows, it seems a very small thing to ask that Tech students, when in the uniform of the school, salute all officers of the regular army, both on and off the campus. We send out football teams and various other teams to bring glory to our alma mater, yet we fail in something which makes a great impression on people not connected with the school, simply because we are not willing to show the proper spirit about a small detail.

When a military organization turns out snappy salutes, a favorable and lasting impression is made upon the inspecting officers. It shows that the outfit is thoroughly military and has good discipline, the main requisite for a good military corps. The salute is not an acknowledgment of superiority in any sense whatever, but is a recognition of seniority. No well-drilled outfit—West Point, Annapolis, the Marines, or any other—fails in this one detail. That fact should speak for itself. Then why not do all in our power to help Tech regain her place on the distinguished college list, especially since it necessitates so little from us.

So let's think it over, and the decision can only be to pay special attention to this detail. One of the times when the salute is most noticeable by its rendition or omission is immediately after the parade has been replac-

WHERE IS YOUR SPIRIT?

Tech is supposed to have the best spirit of any school in the country—so we heard before we set foot on the campus some years ago with a little gold cap perched precariously on the stern post of our cranium.

You say you show all kinds of pep at the football games—you cheer for your team in victory, and you groan and growl for them when they are backed up beneath their own goal posts. Excellent! You should do all this.

But why, oh why, do you go off and go to a show or mope around in your room on Thursday afternoon when the pep meetings are held?

One estimate puts it that there were six or possibly eight freshmen at the pep meeting held before the Vandy game, besides the game. Good for the eight freshmen—they are Tech's noblest sons. Where were the rest of you? Are you all a bunch racks and the students are homeward bound. You will be informed as to the proper time and occasion for the salute. Remember this: when in doubt, salute. It is far better to render this courtesy too frequently than not frequently enough. Naval officers are entitled to the same recognition as are army officers.

Another thing that might be mentioned is that the entire uniform should be worn or else no part of it. A mixture of part uniform and part citizen's clothes makes a very bad appearance. All Atlanta people know the Tech uniform, even when only part of it is worn, and they form their opinion of the school by the behavior and appearance of Tech men. So when wearing the military clothing, wear the entire outfit. Otherwise leave it off altogether. Pride in one's organization is a tremendous stride forward toward perfection.

G.S.T.

BAND UNIFORMS

We have been wondering when the Tech band will come up to the standard set by others of the major colleges of the South, notably, Georgia, Vandy, and Alabama. Far be it from us to throw off on the snappy Tech R. O. T. C. uniform, but its modest olive drab seems rather to set off, by contrast, the brilliant colored capes of the visiting band. This regrettable situation has at last dawned on the powers that be, and although they put up heartbreaking pleas of poverty, they have at last promised the band new uniforms for next year. These uniforms will probably consist of military white and gold caps, gold lined capes, and white trousers with a gold stripe down the side. With a band decked out in this manner, and the cheers such a band would bring from the stands, our Drum Major should so some inspired strutting. We will, however, probably have to put up with the R. O. T. C. uniforms for the rest of this year.

G.S.T.

WALKING DOWN TOWN after shows gives one the idea that vaudeville chorus girls are not the flippant, care-free, and daring type of female that they are accused of being. Instead they are in many instances very lonely and pensive, especially after the last of their three-a-day which ends about 10:30. Often they are seen purchasing their evening meal after this hour with a copy of Variety or some other theatrical periodical under their wing. A dancing girl who would tempt any relative of Adam from the balcony often has red lips and freckles when seen off-stage. Still their game is one highly fascinating.

THE BEAUTY STAFF for this year's Pandora, Georgia University of Georgia annual, will be elected from the co-eds of the city. Out-of-town and campus girls of the staff will not have as the beauty section will be selected from girl students who entered the 'Miss Pandora of 1928' contest.

of pikers afraid to be seen rooting for your team at other times than a game? There were a goodly number of alumni present at this pep meeting and they were not a little disappointed—nay peeved and sore—because the old school seemed to lack its old time enthusiasm. Freshmen, you have been ordered to attend these meetings. Do not the persuasions of your dormitory lieutenants have effect? Upperclassmen, just because you have ceased to be rats is no reason why you should lay down on the job. Perhaps the extra ounce of spirit you could have furnished to the Tornado that Thursday afternoon would have pushed the ball across to victory and have broken the tie.

The next time, then, that the cheer leaders call for you to use your voice in an extra pep session be on hand if you still have any life blood in your veins, and any love for your alma mater in your heart.

PEP UP! WE'VE GOT TO BEAT GEORGIA YET. WE'VE NOT YET TAMED THE BULLDOG AND IF YOUR SPIRIT DIES OR STAYS DORMANT HOW CAN WE?

ned by the Lutheran Church on a hundred acre site in the hills just southwest of Culver City.

This educational center will be known as the Los Angeles University and is to be established at an initial cost of two million dollars with another three million to be added later.

Among the universities and colleges of the country there seems to be a movement afoot to leave the old examination methods. The president of Chicago University recently outlined an ideal school where there were no exams and the last two years of schooling were devoted to research along lines which the student should select, thereby making for more interesting and more thorough education.

Temple University recently did away with the examination method because they said they were antiquated and too inaccurate for the modern type of education. Several others have expressed disapproval of the old methods.

Fifty courses and twelve departments of instruction have been planned by the University of California authorities in the interests of international understanding. The university at Berkeley is advantageously situated for the study of international affairs, especially those of the Pacific and the Far East.

A large demand for this course is expected and there is every reason to believe that it will prove interesting as this is a subject that has caused frequent discussions in almost every walk of life.

Telephone men are continually scouting along the frontier of better methods.

Who will scout this electrical frontier?

WHETHER in the Bell Telephone Laboratories, in the Western Electric workshop or in the various operating companies, telephone executives are scouts on the frontier of better methods to serve the public.

It is ever so significant that your true telephone man, he with the feel of the calling in his blood, never speaks of having "perfected the art of communication." And this in spite of the fact that America, by its solid achievements in telephony, shows the world.

Work in the Bell System demands the bold curiosity of pioneers and the infinite pains of pioneers who, like Columbus, Lincoln and Lindbergh, prepared "and when their chance came they were ready."

ters, hosts of the convention entertained the delegates at an informal dance. A most enjoyable time was had by all. Ohio State has its share of beautiful co-eds.

The closing session was held Saturday morning at which time one of the most heated battles Pi Delta Epsilon has ever known at a convention was brought to a highly successful close when Atlanta was selected as the place for the 1928 convention with the Emory chapter affiliated with the Georgia Tech chapter as hosts. Not only was Atlanta unanimously selected as the place for the next convention but Professor George McIntosh Sparks, head of the journalism department was unanimously elected Grand President. Dean H. G. Doyal of George Washington was re-elected grand vice-president, H. E. Lobbell of M. I. T., grand secretary, J. C. Patty, grand treasurer, and R. H. McNeil, grand editor.

Ohio State, Ohio Wesleyan and Cincinnati University were hosts

From indications and expressions at the meetings, the 1928 convention in Atlanta at Georgia Tech will be the largest ever held by the fraternity. More delegates will be represented than at any previous one. This is the first time that Pi Delta Epsilon has held a convention in Atlanta and is being looked forward to with a great deal of interest.

At the banquet held Saturday night at the Neil House, the Honorable Senator Fess of Ohio delivered a most interesting and dispensed at Washington. "The highest type of man is represented in the newspaper men in Washington. I have the utmost confidence in every correspondent and during my stay in Washington not once has my confidence been betrayed," said Senator Fess.

Following is a list of the delegates present at the convention: Herbert Mtok and Warren Smucker, from Arizona; George H. Siegel, Bucknell; Brooks Darlington, California; Arthur L. Buck, Carleton; Milton Cohen, Carnegie Tech; William Arnold and James Campbell, Cincinnati university; Edward Swem, Coe; David Fee, Colorado Agricultural; John Dorris, Cornell; Francis Carpenter and William Chambers, Emory university; Ammon McClellan and Bernard English, Florida; Ed White, Georgia Tech; Julius Kuck, Hamilton; Clare Schoen, Hamline; Vernon Heath, Illinois; Roy Richards, Lawrence; James C. Morrison, Lehigh; Paul Ruck and Edward D. True, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; John Kelly, Wayne; M. Barkwell and J. Burren Brown, Michigan State; Doren Eitsert, Minnesota; Charles S. Reynolds and Paul E. Ackerman, Ohio state; Herbert Shutts and Robert Jacoby, Ohio Wesleyan; Charles Flinn and Wheeler Lord, Penn State; Rowland Rayley, Stevens Tech; Lee Conti, Southern California; Charles Knight and Leonard Green, St. Lawrence; James Colket, Swarthmore; Meiric Dutton, Syracuse; James Robeson and Arnold B. Wyckoff, Union college; Clinton Vernon, Utah Agricultural; Daniel Selko, Wabash; Charles Doty and Denton Wable, of Washington and Jefferson, and Peyton R. Harrison, Washington and Lee. Chapters not represented included Tennessee, Utah, Wesleyan, Bowdoin, California Southern branch, Colgate, Lafayette, George Washington, Michigan and Richmond.

Every member of the Staff of the Yellow Jacket is eligible for election to this honorary society of the college "funny-men" and, at every school at which Mu Eta Tau is located, it is considered quite an honor. It will be no less so at Tech.

Plans for the "Greater Georgia Number" are rapidly progressing. The cover for this issue is by Shi Goodwin and is, no doubt, the best cover that the readers of the Jackets have seen this year. A "sports" (?) page will be a feature in this issue, and the theatre Preview will also be featured. Famous Georgians are shown with clever write-ups about them.

Every month the Jacket discovers new talent and material for their columns. The latest to be added to its ever-growing list is Eddie Merck, writer, and Duke, artist. The work of both these men show unusual talent and individuality of style and expression.

The Yellow Jacket can boast of something that very few other college comics can and that—its subscription list includes quite a few foreign countries. The latest one received is from Madrid, Spain, where an old Tech student is located. In a letter from him he said that he was very anxious to get the Yellow Jacket as it gave him so many fond memories of his Alma Mater.

The first issue of the new year, 1928, will be the "Dog Day's Number". Material for this unusual issue will be accepted anytime. It will be necessary for all the copy intended for the first of the year issue to be in before Christmas as it is the intention of the Board of Editors of the Jacket to greet the returning students with a copy.

The selection for the staffs is nowhere near complete and to those who are interested in this sort of activity every consideration will be shown to those that aspire for staff positions.

Ordnance Defeats Infantry
23-8 In One-Sided Play Off

Infantry Loses Title
for First Time

C. A. C. Places Third

The result of this week's play placed the Infantry and Ordnance in a tie for first place honors, thus necessitating a play-off for the championship. Without any undue effort on their part the Ordnance swamped the Infantry 23 to 8 in this post-season game. There was no doubt that the Ordnance was "right" when they met the Infantry; shooting from any angle on the court, and passing with uncanny accuracy, the Ordnance quintet dazzled the Infantry boys so completely that the game was a walk-over throughout for the winner. This marks a new era in the annals of battalion basketball for this is the first time that any team other than the Infantry has won the championship.

The Coast Artillery attack wilted just at the time when it was needed most and they went down to defeat at the hands of the Infantry to the tune of 16 to 14. Closely contested throughout, the game was one of the

Brewer Wins for Tech

The Tornado seems to blow as strongly on Friday as at any other time, for, while the Junior Jackets were taking the Auburn Rats into camp, Tech's harriers stepped out over the five-mile waterworks course and led the Tiger cross-country crew to the finish by a good margin. The Jackets, capturing the first three places, amassed only 21 points to Auburn's 35. The event was run in 26:53.

Brewer, Wright and Crisfield, Tech's aces, placed one-two-three, followed in order by Mills, Helms and Duncan, of the Tigers. Morgan and Summerour, two more of the home boys, were seventh and eighth, while Sarven, another Jacket running unattached in this race, finished ninth. Auburn took ninth and tenth in the scoring, since Teague and Stein were wearing the Blue and Orange. The other entries were: Gregory (T. un-at.), Aldrich (A. un-at.), and McClendin (A. un-at.).

Outplayed in every stage of the game, outgeneraled and unable to stop the Golden Tornado of Georgia Tech, Louisiana State University was defeated by the scores of 23 to 0. Although the score was one-sided the game was replete with thrills and brilliant football.

The game opened with both teams on their toes, ready for a conference battle. Back and forth they surged. It was a punting game, L. S. U. and Tech resorting to shoe leather to win if it would and could. It was Parham's punting, then Mason for the visitors. And, incidentally, while all the laurels have been stacked upon the dome of Mr. Mason, noted star of the Tigers, it is no more than right to say that Parham outkicked him. Parham was more accurate with his punts, for he put them in territory where the Jackets had a good advantage.

Intercepting a pass in the second quarter, the Jackets promptly opened an avalanche of plays that apparently bewildered the Tigers from Louisiana. Marching down the field to the 27-yard line the Golden Tornado

Annual Inter-Frat
Cross - Country
Meet Held Soon

Race to Take Place Nov. 25

The annual inter-fraternity cross-country race will be held Friday, November 25, over a two-mile course. Much interest has already been shown and it looks as if there will be more competition than in former years.

Any number of men above five may enter from each fraternity. No letter men or fall varsity aspirants will be considered eligible however. There will be several prizes offered, both to the winning frat and to the individual winners. Pledges may enter to compete for the individual prizes but they will not be counted in the team score.

Each man will be given a number at the finish. The first to finish will be one, the second two, and so on. This will be the individual's score. For the team score, the first five men from each frat will be added. The team having the lowest number of point will be declared the winner.

The race is sponsored by the Spiked Shoe, national honorary track society. The plaque, at the end of five years, will be given permanently to the fraternity which has won it the maximum number of times during this length of time. Last year the A. T. O. fraternity gained possession of it.

Vandy and Vols Tie

Notre Dame was halted in their march to a national championship when an inspired Army team rose to the heights and downed the South Bend Irishmen, 18 to 0. Cagle, half-back for the West Pointers, starred for his team, making the first touchdown by a brilliant 51-yard dash through the whole Notre Dame team. Cagle also scored the last marker when he took a pass out of the air and dashed over the goal line without being touched by anyone. This unexpected victory by the Army throws the race into confusion, because the Cadets were defeated by Yale only a week ago, and Eli was beaten by Georgia.

Another upset that is of more interest to the Southern Conference was the defeat of Alabama by Florida. The 'Gators have shown nothing especially strong this year and only the week previous had lost to Georgia 28 to 0. During the Georgia game, Bowyer, the Floridians' star half, suffered a broken leg, but his place was

North Carolina Battles Duke

The S. I. C. elevens will slacken up in their race with one another this Saturday and rest up for the final sprint towards Southern championship. There will be one game between Vandy and Maryland. It will be a good one. Tech will take on Oglethorpe for their annual clash. Although the Petrels have met with several defeats this season, there is no doubt that they will give us a good fight. They always do. Georgia will try for their weekly five touchdowns when they meet Mercer at Athens. N. C. U. will tangle with Duke, a home state rival, Kentucky meets Centre for their annual game, and Millsaps and Miss. A. & M. will get together for a fracas on Friday. Alabama goes into a long and strenuous practice in preparation for the annual grapple with the Georgia Bulldogs on Thanksgiving Day. All of the rest of the Conference teams will likewise go into hard training for the Thanksgiving Day games.

The outstanding engagements in the S. I. A. A. are Howard vs. Birmingham-Southern, Furman vs. Citadel, and Centenary vs. Louisiana Poly.

In the East there will be a plenty of interesting games. To start off with, Yale will meet her ancient foe, Harvard at Cambridge; Navy will contest with Loyola, Army vs. Ursinus, Lehigh and Lafayette, Georgetown and Fordham, Boston U. vs. Holy Cross, and Carnegie Tech against Detroit U. at Pittsburgh.

There will be some fireworks in the mid-west. There is a good list of Big Ten games. Notre Dame and Drake lead the list. They will play out in Des Moines this year. Minnesota meets Michigan, Ohio State goes against Illinois, Wisconsin vs. Chicago, Northwestern vs. Ohio, and Indiana vs. Purdue.

On the Pacific coast, the strong teams of California and Stanford will get together for their annual dispute. Southern California and the U. of Washington will also stage gridiron festivities.

well filled by Crabtree, a star on last year's freshman squad. Piloted by this young man, the 'Gators rolled over the Crimson Tide, 13-6 to give Alabama its second defeat of the year.

Tennessee, after being on the small end of the score for the most of the game, rallied in the last period to tie Vandy 7-7. This makes the second tie game in as many weeks for Vandy. Tennessee was forced to break their record of winning every game for the season and almost lost under the passing of Billy Spears. Dodson continued to star for the Mountaineers, plunging twelve yards to a touchdown for his team's only counter.

Georgia continued to win by a large score, downing Clemson 32 to 0. The reserves saw service in a good deal of this game and let the regulars take a rest. Clemson came very

Most pleasant among the many upsets and huge scores of last Saturday's games, although not by any means an upset, was the power that the Yellow Jackets demonstrated in crushing the strong team from Louisiana State University. To the surprise of everyone Coach Alexander sent in an entirely new line-up to open the contest with only two of the first eleven in it. These boys exhibited a great brand of football and held the visitors to two first downs in the first half, one in each quarter. Although they were unable to push across a touchdown they were in striking distance twice, and succeeded in chalking up a field goal, one of the prettiest goals even seen on Grant Field which was executed by "Shorty" Smith. The regulars, excepting our injured "Stumpy", opened the second half, and in the course of the third quarter chalked up seven more points. At the beginning of the fourth quarter Coach Alexander, believing ten points sufficient margin again sent in the second outfit. Determined that the varsity should not out-do them this aggregation of substitutes continued to add points to Tech's total until they had slaughtered the L. S. U. Tiger to the tune of 23-0, Tech's largest score of the year.

During the process of the game, mostly in the final minutes, many new men appeared in the line-up, a total of twenty-eight Jackets saw action and it was only due to the lack of time that the varsity water boy and mascot did not get to play.

The University of Georgia Bulldogs continue to hold the lead in the Southern Conference Championship race, having neither a defeat nor a tie registered against them. Our Yellow Jackets are pushing the Georgia boys hard with only that single tie with Vandy chalked up against them. So far this season only one Southern team has scored on either Tech or Georgia. The single touchdown accounts for the six points scored against Tech while Auburn's goal is the only mar to Georgia's sheet.

In glancing over the records of the teams that have played the Georgia Tech Jackets so far this season we

Junior Tornado Runs Away With Auburn Frosh

DUNLAP AND LUMPKIN FEATURE FOR TECH

Frosh Play Georgia Next

Auburn was all in a flutter Friday afternoon, when the Tornado's Frosh ran rough-shod over the Blue and Orange youngsters from the plains. This makes the fourth win by such scores for the Baby Jackets. Prospects look mighty good for a Southern Conference title.

The game opened with the freshman second string at the front. There they remained throughout most of the first quarter, then the first string took their places. A few breaks that were rather costly kept them from scoring find that they have not fared so well since the Jacket game. Since playing the Jackets:

V. M. I. has lost three games. Tulane has lost three and tied one. Alabama has lost one and has been scored on in each game. North Carolina has lost two games. Notre Dame has lost one and tied one.

Vanderbilt has tied the only team played since Tech.

(What if Georgia had opened their season with Tech?)

From this record it looks like an encounter with the Tech eleven is not so good for their future chances for the championship. Not counting the L. S. U. game of last Saturday, none of the other six teams played have been consistent winners since the Tech game.

The Yellow Jackets must have pulled some string in Notre Dame's make-up which has caused Rockne's invincible Irish to taste the bitterness of a tied game and now that of defeat, in their two games played since the Tech game. This peculiar climax which follows the Tech games seems not only to apply to Conference games, but to inter-sectional games as well.

until just before the end of the first half, when Dunlap passed to Jones for a twenty-yard gain, and the first touchdown. Herron kicked the extra point and the half ended with Tech on the extended end of a 7-0 score.

The second half opened with the Tornado using a running attack in which Dunlap and Lumpkin featured. By line smashes and end runs the Baby Jackets piled up a 33-0 score, and were about to add another touchdown to their credit when the whistle blew.

Too much cannot be said concerning the great work of Dunlap and Lumpkin. Dunlap is a threat from all viewpoints; he calls signals, punts, passes, runs, and does all of them well. Lumpkin is a fullback of first rank and calibre. He hits the line hard and runs fast in an open field.

The team played well as a whole, and the coaches were well satisfied with the showing made against the heavy Frosh. Every man played heady football, and deserves part credit for the victory.

The next game will be played with the Georgia Freshmen on the Saturday following Thanksgiving. The Athenians have a strong team, and the game should be a hard fought affair.

It is said that the library building of the University of South Carolina, erected in 1840, is the first building used for library purposes erected on any college campus in the country.

It is apparent that the desire of students for a place to gather and enjoy the best books in peace was but a few years ago. Another big step in the way of better education.

Lacrosse Schedule Includes Several Northern Games

Five-Day Trip Planned

No doubt inspired by the talk on Lacrosse given by Dr. Crenshaw a couple of weeks ago at orientation, the freshman Lacrosse squad has been increased from a paltry seven to twenty-five candidates.

The varsity, also composed of twenty-five aspirants, has been at work steadily throughout the week. Captains of the teams have not been elected yet, but will be on some future date.

Dr. Crenshaw has issued a call for more sophomores and juniors to come out for the varsity. They must report immediately so as to get started on a basis nearly equal to the men who are now working out daily.

The best schedule that Tech has ever had is promised for the coming season. With a five-day trip including the Memorial Day holiday as a super bill, and with games on tap with Ft. McPherson, Ft. Benning, and Georgia, the team will have some tough assignments to overcome. The five-day trip is to Baltimore, where the Jackets will have a try for northern blood. All in all, the schedule will include ten games.

marked up the first place kick over the goal.

That ended the scoring for the first half, the three touchdowns being made in the second half.

The proteges of Donahue fought gamely. The powerful Tech backs time after time crashed through the line, dragging one or two Tigers with them. Yet the Tigers fought every minute of the game. They went down fighting.

If stars can be picked from the constellation of eleven which represented the Golden Tornado on the field, the honors must be equally divided between Parham, Smith, DeVaughn, Hood and Thrash, with the first having a slight edge. However, the whole Tech team was beyond reproach.

Weaver, Mason and Godfrey gather whatever laurel L. S. U. has put out, but even that trio would have been nill and null if their line and the remainder of the backfield had not given them such reliable support.

Forward passing was conspicuous during the game. The Louisiana Tigers resorted to it in a desperate effort to score in the second half but the Jackets intercepted or broke them up. Out of 13 attempts the Tigers completed two passes. The statistics show Tech outclassed L. S. U. in every department of the game. The Jackets made 17 first downs to 3 for the Tigers. With a yardage of 383 to 77 for the opponents.

There is to be mentioned abundantly the great defensive work of Tinsley, L. S. U. giant left tackle. It was he who stopped the charging Jacket backs the greater part of the time. He was in every play, almost, and after three periods of stopping the Golden Tornado's terrific onslaught he was carried from the field.

near to scoring on two occasions but the Red line saved the day by holding them for downs.

Kentucky came out of its losing streak to beat V. M. I. 21-0. The wildcats lived up to their name and carried the Cadets before them with a fierce attack that they have not shown previously this season.

Oglethorpe journeyed down to Macon to meet Mercer on "Phoney Smith Day". The young man in whose honor the day was named lived up to his reputation by running wild over the Petrels to beat them 14 to 6. His most spectacular run came when he stepped 55 yards for the first score. At the present he looks like the best backfield man in the S. I. A. A.

ALONG THE AVENUE

Official "Rush Week" is over but the Greeks are still rushing hither and yon trying to enveigle some others to see things their way. However, most of the lodges are well satisfied with the results of their rushing, although not so many are satisfied with the new rules and think that they have been a failure, but be as it may there are quite a few new pledge buttons running loose and the merry battle continues. One thing that is not so noticeable is the absence of the "I told you so" and the "Goody, I bopped you." But of course everybody as usual has his share of bops and that is that and the regrets are where they belong. Meanwhile there are numbers of hold-outs who seem to be waiting for a lodge that at the present is supposedly powerless to pledge or act, but anyway they seem powerful enough to offer the boys a reward for waiting.

During the stress and strain of the week, the Sigma Nus and the Phi Sigs blossomed out with house dances. How many boys these affairs sucked in is not available to the humble scribe whose duty it is to compose these woeful lines for the benefit of those whose sole ambition in life is society. We'll wager that when they got their girls around and started talking to the boys that many a pledge button changed hands. And Garber's was a hot bed for rushing all the week. Every time that someone wanted to find a boy on the past week-end all they had to do was to follow the line of least resistance and they would find their way ultimately to the temple of the worshippers of Terpsichore.

When Sunday was pledge day at Tech, Monday was pledge day for the sweet little co-eds out at Dr. Jacob's winter resort. One real sorority and several locals were the choice and it is darkly rumored that the real one got all the good Atlanta girls who have gone out there to get degrees or married.

A flood tide of Brenau squaws invaded the stronghold of the heap big Tech man on the week-end too and between courtin' and rushin' the said big medicine men were all but pouffed when the thing was over. These fair additions wore the proverbial evening dress to Garber's and as usual proceeded to feel muchly out of place but far be it from us to detract from their fun by laughing behind their back when they just really did not know. Their object in the said invasion was to attend the play given by the Brenau Alumni Club at the Woman's Club, in which several Tech boys participated. "Glee Club" Gaisbert and Griff Edwards and Little Jello Ayers found out that they were pretty good anyhow and they sang.

Agnes Scott was ably represented at the week-end dances and the lads were surprised to find out that there were so many cute girls who were boarding with Dr. McCain and Miss "Hop" Hopkins.

It was always the impression of ye humble scribe that it was strictly against all rules for football players to drink anything but milk, water, or tea. But L. S. U. created a precedent and quite a lot of surprise by serving their players something unknown to drink out of a bottle and the thing about it was the boys enjoyed it and played so much better after getting a drink. It could not have been any of the aforementioned liquids 'cause we believe that we could recognize any of them at a distance. But we admit we did not get a sniff of the bottle.

All this week those who are treading the "broomy" path to glory are undergoing the slams and bangs of outrageous fortune and getting into Skull and Key. It takes the high and mighty Sophs down a peg. Our utmost sympathy and congratulations to the little Skullets and Keyletts.

Next week the Koseme will hold its fall election. Everybody be on a close lookout for "ALICE, THE WONDER GIRL". She can do all manner of tricks as many a good Tech lad will testify. A hint to the wise is enough. (WINK.)

The Pi Lambda Delta fraternity will entertain their pledges at a dance on the Ansley roof on the Saturday following Thanksgiving, November 26.

best played this season; the deciding factor of the game was the superior speed of the Infantry team.

By trimming the strong Infantry five the Navy kicked a hole clear through the dope bucket and at the same time gave the Ordnance a new chance at the championship by forcing the Infantry into a tie with the Ordnance. Jumping off to an early start, and out-fighting their opponents all through the game the Navy finally hung one on the Infantry's jaw by an 18 to 15 score.

The Ordnance experienced no trouble in sinking the Signal Corps with a score of 32 to 18, and in turn the Infantry found the Signal Corp a soft spot and downed them by a count of 25 to 12.

Catching the Navy quintet unprepared the Coast Artillery ran through them for a score of 27 to 10. The Navy boys fought gallantly but could not cope with the C. A. C. attack for this was the day that the Coast Artillery boys were "right".

The Air Corps kept up their precedent and forfeited both their games; one of which was with the Ordnance, and the other with the Signal Corps.

Where dependability is vital

IN connection with a new pumping station at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, additional feeder mains were required. It was necessary that one of these should carry an unusually large proportion of the water supply, and 54-inch pipe was decided upon. Although pipe of material other than cast iron had a lower first cost, Cast Iron Pipe was chosen because the possibility of interruption to service had to be reduced to a minimum.

The photograph above shows a section of pipe being lowered into the ditch in the process of laying it.

CUTTER

U-RE-LITE I-T-E CIRCUIT BREAKERS

It isn't the name on a Circuit Breaker that makes it good. It's the Circuit Breaker that makes the name good. A trademark is valuable only because of what it represents.

Engineers and executives alike specify U-RE-LITE because their experience in electrical protective devices has proven U-RE-LITE to be the best. It is the I-T-E Circuit Breaker in the Steel Box—sure, safe, dependable, fool-proof. And because it is Cutter-made and Cutter-guaranteed, U-RE-LITE is right.
